STANTON ON LID.

Speaker Will Curb Fire-Eaters.

War-Shrieking Jingoes Led by Ex-Convict and Lincoln-Roosevelter.

Iron Hand of Assembly Chief Will Hold Ranting Insurgents in Check.

Has More Command Over Situation Than President and Governor.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Speaker Stanton of Los Angeles is on the lid so far as anti-Japanese legislation in the present Assembly is concerned. He will be greater than President Roosevelt and Gov. Gillett in keeping the jingoes of the lower house from dashing all restraint to the winds on Wednesday when the bills aimed at aliens come up for consideration on a special order.

It has developed that just about an even half of the membership is made up of fire-eaters who go around with chips on their shoulders, inviting the Mikado to knock them off.

It will take an iron hand to keep the insurgents from breaking through the fence and inviting international complications. Stanton has the hand and is prepared to bring it into play. He is supported by almost the entire delegation from Southern California and by conservative members from the North. After the battle is over on Wednesday it is safe to say that Stanton will not be among the killed or wounded, for he has demonstrated up to this time that he is supreme, and it will take something more than one of these ever-recurring anti-Japanese flurries to place him hors de combat.

Delegations from San Francisco and Sacramento and Assemblyman Drew, the Lincoln-Roosevelt reformer from Fresno, are at the head of the belligerent element which shouts out for war and cries down reason. They want to show the President that California is bigger than the United States and that the mouthings of their union-labor constituents and associates are superior to anything ever dreamed of in the delicate matter of international relations.

The Asiatic Exclusion League of San Francisco, of which the ex-convict unionite-leader Tveitmoe is at the head, is expected here in great force tomorrow to push its campaign against the aliens, and the timid ones of the Legislature are expected to bow in humility before this aggregation of concerted wisdom on all matters pertaining to foreigners, though many of the meek are brave enough to ask the foreign place of Tveitmoe's birth.

The truth of this whole matter of anti-Japanese legislation is that it originated with the union-labor organizations of the northern part of the State, principally San Francisco and Sacramento, where one hardly can walk across the street unless he carry a union card. That greatest of all false alarms, Grove L. Johnson of Sacramento, is leading the fight because he represents an Assembly district that is jammed down and hammered into a barrel that is branded with the union label, and the tottering old man is working for such political capital as he can make; to the bow-wows with the United States or anything but the jawsmiths' union.

This is what confronts Stanton, but in the preliminary skirmishes he has shown that he is not afraid of the issue, and it may be depended upon that he will be on top at the finish.

CHARTER PLANS OBSTRUCTED.

RACE TRACK MEN BUSY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Now Senator Wright of San Diego must take his medicine for coming out openly in favor of the Anti-Race Track Gambling Bill. He is hammered under cloak of the new charter of San Diego, which he wishes has a charter to ratify, and a dose of the same medicine.

Wright's course of sprouts was administered at the meeting of the Senate Judiciary Committee today. Senator Wolfe of San Francisco, attorney for the northern racing interests, objected to giving a free bill of health to the San Diego charter because it contains a clause providing that the party column shall be ignored on the ballot. Whatever the justice of his contention, it was plain to see that he simply wishes to show Wright that supporters of the anti-gambling bill should not expect much at the hands of its enemies.

This injunction was further impressed upon the San Diego Senator by Leavitt of Oakland, holder of concessions at the Emeryville track. Leavitt is not a member of the Judiciary Com-

Prof. Coulter Tells of Heroism.

Italians Became Panicky and Threatened to Add to Dangers.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Prof. John M. Coulter, head of the department of botany, University of Chicago, reached quarantine today and told a connected and graphic story of all that occurred on the Republic, from the time the liner received her death blow on the Atlantic Saturday last. Like most of the Republic's passengers, Prof. Coulter was scantily attired, wearing a suit of pajamas, covered by a pair of trousers, and an overcoat that he caught from the stateroom pegs a few seconds after the collision.

Prof. Coulter was profuse in his praise of the women on board, and said they were the real heroes of the wreck.

"The women conducted themselves in a manner calculated to make one forever proud of American womanhood," he said. "In that moment of great peril, how great we did not know, those courageous women put on the life-preservers as coolly as if they were throwing on shirtwaists. I can never forget how they chatted and joked and helped one another, every one of them knowing what an order to put on life preservers meant, but with too much heroism to reveal their fear, if they felt any.

"It was beautiful. It gave one an exalting idea of the nobility of womanhood, that does not present itself often in an ordinary lifetime. There were perhaps one or two who showed signs of breaking down, but these weak ones were soon braced up by the others. Instantly, when a woman began to show evidences of giving way to her terror, two or three others would slip up to her and begin joking with her as they fastened the clasps of the life preservers about her.

STRANGE TOILETS.

"The men kept their end up pretty well and in a very short time the passengers had on their life preservers and were prepared for whatever might come. It was a strange looking company, that crowd of men and women, with those cumbersome cork armors adding to the grotesqueness of their hastily made toilets."

"The transfer from the Florida to the Baltic was the greatest hardship of all and revealed some things one would not care to remember," concluded Prof. Coulter. "We had a thousand or more Italian emigrants to take care of as well as our own crowd, and that was the hardest part of all. The Italians seemed to become crazed, and our men had to fight constantly for hours to keep them out of the boats while we transferred the women and children. The Italians became panic stricken, and it required much force to control them.

BRAVE CREWS.

"But all through this trying ordeal the crews of the Republic and Baltic behaved like heroes. No one can give them more praise than they deserve. For hours and hours these brave men stood at their gangways and beside the boats, fighting back the Italians, and often I saw the Englishmen obliged to knock down the panicky men who tried to get into the boats ahead of the women.

"It was a constant fight with the Italians. The poor fellows seemed to have lost all reason and self-control, and not only kept the other men from getting near the boats, but greatly delayed their own transfer by their frantic eagerness to crowd into the boats. It was only through the most skillful work that the loss of many lives was prevented."

HAVEN AT LAST.

Less than seventy-two hours after the crash between the liners, which eventually sent the one to the bottom and reduced the other to a state of staggering helplessness, the survivors of this thrilling deep-sea tragedy have found a haven.

At nightfall tonight 1650 passengers from the two vessels were safe in this port, brought here by the Baltic, while nearing it were the rescued officers and crew of the Republic, safe on board the derelict destroyer Seneca, to which they were transferred from the revenue cutter Gresham after staying up to the last moment by their sinking vessel.

At her dock in Brooklyn was the battered Florida, aboard which her crew had remained throughout her trying experience.

Only the ill-fated Republic was wanting to complete the list, and she, too, was in port—her last port of call, that will doubtless prove her final resting place, beneath thirty-eight fathoms of water, fifteen miles south of the Nantucket South Shoals' lightship.

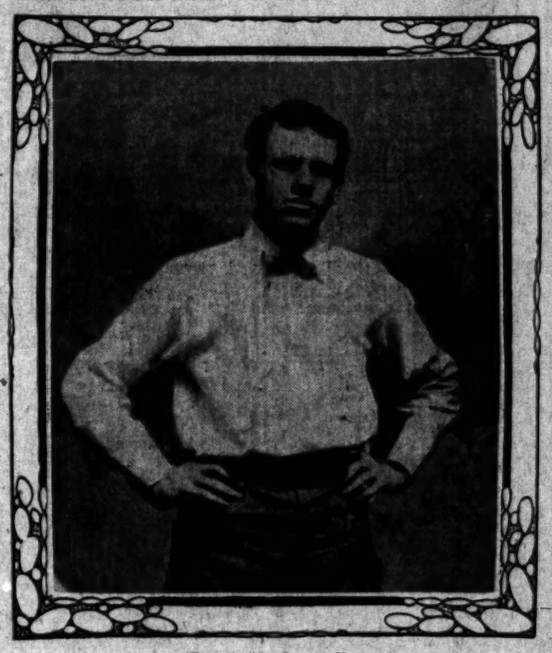
DRIVEN FROM BOAT TO GIVE WOMEN A CHANCE.



James B. Connolly,

Collier's muck-raker, said by woman survivor of Republic wreck to be the only man on ill-fated liner to show cowardice when collision occurred.

HIS TURN IN THE MUD.

MUCK-RAKER SHOWS THE WHITE FEATHER.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] According to Mrs. Elizabeth B. Potter of Chicago, one of the Republic's passengers, there was only one coward on board the Republic. James B. Connolly, leading muck-raker for Collier's, who recently attacked Los Angeles and Los Angeles institutions in the columns of that paper, was accused of being the most scary person on deck. The women and children were being transferred to safety first, and, according to Mrs. Potter, Connolly jumped in the first lifeboat lowered.

"The sailors who were to row the lifeboat and the officer in command of them plainly showed their contempt," said Mrs. Potter. "An order was shouted to put him out of the boat. He came back up to the high deck of the Republic in very ignominious fashion, being made to haul his way up on a ladder, the passengers jeering all the while he was making the journey."

When reporters visited the ship and began talking with Mr. Connolly he saw fit to find fault with the way he had been treated by some of the officers and crew of the Republic and Baltic. In retaliation Mr. Connolly was charged with showing anxiety to get into the boats when women were being transferred.

The accusations Mr. Connolly indignantly denied.

Mr. Connolly's brother, who got on at quarantine, took up the matter with much spirit. Angry words freely passed and finally the ship's officers were obliged to step in to prevent a general scrimmage.

Mr. Connolly explained that his chief anxiety was to get an opportunity to use the wireless telegraph on the Baltic for the purpose of sending dispatches to newspapers which had begged him to furnish reports.

Mr. Connolly made a statement tonight in which he gave his version of the trouble.

"There is no question," he said, "but that my criticism of the way in which the Baltic was handled on Saturday night was one of the causes of the enmity against me which showed itself."

UNDERGROUND FATALITIES.

EXPLOSION IN MINE STOPS INVESTIGATION.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 25.—While Superintendent Logan and a party of miners were investigating conditions in the coal mine of the Merchants' Coal Company at Boswell tonight, a gas explosion occurred which has already cost the life of one man and may result in the death of a dozen.

Superintendent Logan, accompanied by Mine Boss Norris, Pit Boss John Cole and seven miners, had begun an investigation and were a mile back in the mine when the explosion occurred. Such was its force that a ten-ton motor was turned upside down. The mine caved in and the passageway was completely blocked, with ten men back of the obstructions.

Three miners, badly burned, found their way out and carried the superintendent, who was seriously injured and unconscious. He died soon afterward. Rescue parties are trying to rescue Norris, Cole and the eight others whose fate is uncertain.

FOUR KILLED ON INCLINE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CUMBERLAND (Md.) Jan. 25.—Four men—Cleaver Knight, William Hamilton, James Cordoy, Jr., all of Franklin, and Joseph Brinette, an Italian laborer—are dead, and eleven are injured, several seriously, as the result of an accident on the incline railway in the Piedmont and Georges Creek Company's coal mine near Piedmont, W. Va., today.

Two cars laden with miners became uncoupled while ascending the plane, dashed down the incline and collided with other cars at the bottom.

FLOODS DESTROYING CATTLE AND CROPS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Enormous losses from floods are reported from the lower San Joaquin Valley. All the big islands are under water, and it is feared crops will be ruined even on lands which have ordinarily escaped high water. The potato crop is ruined, and already potatoes are quoted at more than twice the price of a few days ago. The onion, celery and asparagus crops are also gone, and it is feared thousands of cattle will be lost.

At Antioch water is fifteen feet higher than ever before. Sherman Island, the largest and richest of the islands at the mouth of the river, is in danger of complete flooding. The levees at the upper end are holding, but water is rushing in with tremendous volume. A huge herd of cattle has been driven to the lower end of the island, and they are standing in water up to their bellies, without feed. It is feared they will all be drowned. Already 10,000 acres are under water.

WAVES BEAT ON HOUSES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Knight's Landing Reclamation District No. 730 was flooded last night by back water which broke through the emergency levee. Two hundred feet of railroad embankment went out, letting in a flood on District 730, which contains about 3500 acres of land, all planted to various crops. The flood is said to have been caused by reclamation work done on the Fair ranch, just above Knight's Landing, last season.

HALF MILLION LOSS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

ANTIOCH, Jan. 25.—The Bethel Tract, or Sand Mound district, as it is commonly known, lying south of Jersey Island, on the mainland, and containing 4000 acres, is the latest reclamation area to succumb to the flood waters.

The Back Cross levee, between it and the Gordon place, broke last night and the entire district is being flooded. This is one of the oldest reclamation tracts in the delta region and the loss will reach $500,000.

The farmers were engaged in dairying and vegetable raising, there being a very large acreage of asparagus, celery and alfalfa.

The Perly residence on Upper Sherman, where the break occurred Saturday, was swept away today.

The levee which broke on the California Fruit Canners' Association tract, near Oakley, was repaired last night and hundreds of acres will be saved.

Encouraging reports continue to come from upriver points, showing the water to be falling. At high tide today the water was six inches lower than yesterday.

PROMISES REDEEMED.

NEW MAINE ENTERS HARBOR OF HAVANA.

Namesake Anchors Close to Wreck of Famous Warship to Celebrate Inauguration of Complete Self Government in Cuba on Thursday.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HAVANA, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] This day, the eleventh anniversary of the arrival of the old battleship Maine on her ill-fated mission to the Cuban waters, the new Maine, with the still more modern Mississippi following in her wake, sailed into Havana harbor to be present at the inauguration of Gen. José Miguel Gomes and the new Cuban government on Thursday.

This is the first visit of the namesake of the wrecked warship, and her coming excited great interest, not only among Americans, but among all classes of the residents who lined the harbor walls from La Punta battery, opposite Morro, to Machina wharf, off which the two American battleships are moored to anchorage buoys tonight, within a few hundred yards of the mangled mass of steel and the old fighting top, the visible remnants of the vessel destroyed February 15, 1898.

The new Maine arrived at 11 a.m., precisely the hour at which the old Maine steamed into the harbor on January 25, 1898. The old Maine saluted the Spanish flag over Morro Castle. Today the new Maine, which is the flagship of the third squadron of the Atlantic fleet, commanded by Rear-Admiral Arnold, saluted the Cuban pennant flying from the historic old fortress. The salute was returned by the Cuban battery on a high hill overlooking the harbor. This afternoon calls were exchanged by Rear-Admiral Arnold, Gov. Magoon and the American Minister, Edwin V. Morgan.

SALUTE FIRED.

The Maine led the way and was the only vessel to fire a salute. Both ships appeared massive and formidable as they swept close to the shore, and in their new dressing of dull gray paint they recalled the days of the Spanish war. Cubans and Spaniards residing in Havana, who have been accustomed of late years to the immaculately white American warships, were surprised at the grim color of today's visitors, but they were informed by the evening papers of the new order of the Navy Department that all American warships are to be of this color in the future.

Occasional applause and some cheering greeted the ships, but for the most part the Cubans looked on silently. All shipping in the harbor stopped as the two big vessels threaded the channel to the anchorage buoys assigned to them by the port authorities. These buoys are the nearest in the harbor to the wreck of the old Maine, which naturally attracted intense interest on the part of the officers and men on the two ships. During the course of the afternoon parties from both vessels made a close inspection in small boats of the visible portions of the wreck.

SURVIVORS OF OLD.

Tonight the streets of Havana's downtown section are filled with hundreds of bluejackets on liberty. Lieut.-Com. Cluverius of the Mississippi is a survivor of the old Maine, on which he was serving as a midshipman at the time of the explosion which destroyed her. Lieut.-Com. Sumner E. W. Kittelle, navigator of the Mississippi, is a son-in-law of Rear-Admiral Sigsbee, retired, who was commander of the Maine.

The Maine and Mississippi will remain at Havana until January 28, when they will accompany the scout cruiser Salem, on which Gov. Magoon will take his departure from the island immediately after President Gomez is sworn into office and the affairs of government formally turned over to him.

War Only Remotest Possibility.

Keen Student of Foreign Affairs Declares Trouble Not Probable.

Inland Empire Poor—Nation Do Not Lose Heads Now Over Trifles.

BY WALTER WELLMAN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Dispatches today from Tokio show that the Japanese government and the sensible people of Japan are taking the same view of the "war scare" as that taken by the American government and level-headed Americans. That the people and the government of Japan want nothing but peace with the United States has recently been made as plain as the fact that the people and the government of the United States want nothing but peace with Japan.

Despite all these peaceful assurances, there are men of ability and wide information who believe war between the two countries, while not coming soon, is inevitable in the end. Among these are certain leading officials of our government, whom it would be unwise to mention by name. Others are Senator Beveridge, Representative Bourke Cockran and Capt. Hobson. Senator Beveridge is well known as a student of world conditions, economic and political. He predicted the war between Russia and Japan, though he was not so fortunte with his prophecy of a Russian triumph.

DEAL OF DISCUSSION.

During the past week there has been in Washington a great deal of discussion of this question, and some of the most intelligent persons are talking about it. It is very interesting. It was here, between the United States and Japan inevitable? I put this question to the man who probably has the broadest view and keenest analysis of all our foreign relations, and his reply was:

"No, it is not inevitable. It is not even probable. It is just remotely possible. And in all such things we cannot claim to foresee the future. But no solid foundation can be found for the theory which some men hold so firmly, that in the end we shall find it necessary to fight the Japanese. They think there are certain irremovable conditions which must some time or other drive the two nations into war. But when we analyze these dire and irremovable dangers to peace, we find them gradually dissolving.

"There are no problems which will not yield to treatment. The only condition which will bring on war is a change of attitude on the part of the people of one or the other nation. If the people of Japan ever make up their minds they want to whip America, they can of course find the pretext. If our people ever lose their senses and get fighting angry at Japan, we can of course find the excuse for war. I do not believe either of these things will ever happen, and that is why I say I do not believe the two nations will ever fight."

DIPLOMACY TRIUMPHS.

In this day and generation, it was suggested by the high official quoted in the foregoing, nations do not lose their temper and go to war over trifles, as individuals sometimes do.

Diplomacy takes care of the trifles. War comes only over vital things. Japan will never make war because her subjects are denied the right to own land in America, because Japan herself denies this right to foreigners.

Japan is really a poor country. They want peace and prosperity. The discussion in the diet at Tokio today discloses the national policy. Japan, suspected of aggressive tendencies, is reducing her war budget, while the United States, whose policy we know is one of peace with all the world, is fast increasing the military expenditures.

READY TO MAKE TEXAS "DRY."

If Prohibition Bill Fails Measure Practically Prohibitive Will Be Pushed.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

AUSTIN (Tex.) Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In the Senate today the debate on the State-wide prohibition bill was resumed, but no vote was reached.

It is authoritatively announced by the leaders of the prohibtion faction in both branches of the Legislature that should the proposed amendment to the Constitution fail of submission the bill prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors within ten miles of a schoolhouse will be pushed, and that enough members in both houses favor it to insure its passage. This bill would have the effect of State-wide prohibition, except in sparsely settled parts of Texas.

OCTOGENARIAN ALIVE IN RUINS.

MESSINA, Jan. 25.—Reports spread today of the remarkable recovery from the ruins of Gaetano Militello, an octogenarian, alive, after twenty-nine days. Investigation proved that he had managed to escape from under the walls of a house a few days after the earthquake, fleeing in terror to the outskirts of the town, where he hid. For a time he sustained life with herbs, but at length fell exhausted under a pile of wreckage, where he was found by soldiers.

"ORDER OF FIFTEEN."

SPIRIT CAUSES DIVORCE SUIT.

"Soul Mate" of Poet Mountain's Wife Is Disturber.

Husband Went to Europe to End Unhappiness.

Got a Letter Expressing Hope He'd Remain.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Because his wife had joined the "Order of Fifteen," that esoteric college body which had its inception in the University of Pennsylvania and which has spread among the faculties and student bodies of most of the big colleges of the East and Middle West, William E. Mountain, the poet, is suing her for divorce.

Mrs. Mountain has discovered a soul mate on a higher plane, the poet says she told him, and has confessed to having frequently visited this lover. Mountain was not physically jealous because his wife informed him that this being dwelt on an entirely different plane—in another world, in fact. But it made him very jealous spiritually, as his wife told him that his touch interfered with her progress and that she was ethical and spiritual, while he was just animal.

"Last January I went on a trip abroad," he testified, "thinking to get away from my unhappiness. When I reached Genoa there was a letter from my wife in which she said she was so glad I was gone and that she hoped I would stay abroad, for she could not develop her spiritual nature with me anywhere around.

"She has a delusion that I am an undeveloped sort of person spiritually, that I am carnal. She said she communed with the other world. She said she repeated to me that her soul mate was on another planet. She has been going to strange meetings for about four years. It is the 'Order of Fifteen,' to which she belongs, that inculcated the doctrines.

"I have tried to wean her away from 'The Fifteen,'" said Mr. Mountain, "but I couldn't. The exposé of that order came out in the papers last month. She called me up and asked me if I had seen it. I said yes, and would she resign. She said no, that she had set her face and foot to the path and would never return;' that she had arisen to spheres where I could not fly, and was happy with her soul mate, the spiritual being who dwelt in another world. She said that my least touch coarsened her."

Mrs. Mountain tonight denied that the teachings of the "Fifteen" had anything to do with the divorce. She laughed over many of the allegations of her husband. She admitted that she had charged him with carnality.

"We've disputed a certain matter for several years," she said, "and were never able to reach a settlement. So I thought we had better separate."

LOWER MILK RATES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—One of the most important decisions by the Interstate Commerce Commission for many months was handed down today, that body ordering material deduction of railroad rates in the cases of various creamery companies against the Illinois Central and other railroads.

The commission sustained the contention of the complainants who operate creameries using the centralizer method, that rates on cream to Chicago between Michigan points on the east and Colorado points on the west, are excessive. The centralizer method, distinguished from the local method, is that creameries operating under the latter obtain their cream by wagon instead of by rail. Several associations claimed that the local creamery method of manufacturing butter should be fostered and the centralizer method discouraged.

The commission, however, held the centralizer method affords thousands of farmers the only satisfactory method of disposing of their milk and that the commission's duty is to establish just transportation charges in so far as it can be done, and allow both systems to operate under the charges.

The commission held that it should not establish a scale of rates with the purpose of fostering or discouraging either form of the creamery industry.

Harriman Hearing Resumes.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 25.—Hearing of the government suit against the Harriman lines, which was to have been resumed in this city, is postponed until tomorrow owing to the absence of C. A. Severance, chief attorney for the government. The suit was originally brought in Utah last year under the Sherman anti-trust law, to prevent the merging of railroad interests west of the Mississippi.

OIL COMPANY YIELDS.

Waters-Pierce Official Admits Being Beaten and Will Pay Fine.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PALESTINE (Tex.) Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] General Comptroller Stanley of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company of St. Louis, spent a short time here today, after a visit to Austin. He said his company was arranging to pay the fine, and leave the State as soon as possible, as they realized they were whipped as regards the Texas case, and will fight no longer. The fine will not be paid in silver, as reported, he said.

"MUSICAL WONDER" MISSING.

Irene Taylor, 15 years old, of No. 849 East Thirty-second street, disappeared yesterday afternoon while shopping with her mother. Two hours after she left her mother a note was received by her father, H. B. Taylor, which was delivered by a messenger, saying that she was in good company and would probably be home Wednesday. Mr. Taylor notified the police and asked them to search for her. Miss Taylor is known as "the musical wonder." She has appeared here in several recitals.

AGAINST AMENDMENTS.

A meeting of the Sequoia Republican Club has been called for Thursday evening in room No. 107 Coulter building, to take action on the proposed amendments to the city charter. President C. C. Bowen will preside, and it is asserted that arrangements will be made to fight the amendments at the polls.

GIANT BATH TUB FOR BIG PRESIDENT-ELECT.

Special Tub for Mr. Taft to use on trip to Panama which was begun yesterday.

TAFT SAILS TO VIEW PANAMA CANAL WORKS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHARLESTON (S. C.) Jan. 25.—President-elect and Mrs. Taft, including a small staff of civil engineers to inspect the Panama Canal, sailed early today. The party will reach New York February 15 on the return trip.

The two big warships, the North Carolina and the Montana, as they swung out into the harbor and passed out, attracted considerable attention. Aboard the big cruiser North Carolina were the President-elect and his party, including Mrs. Taft and Wendell Mischler, his assistant secretary, who has been with Mr. Taft since Secretary Carpenter left for California to recuperate his health. The party of engineers also was aboard that vessel. On the other cruiser was the party of newspaper correspondents.

LUXURY FOR TAFT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—William Howard Taft will have the use of the largest bath tub made for an individual during his voyage on the battleship North Carolina, from Charleston to Colon and back. It is to be fitted specially for Mr. Taft's comfort, and if he should take a fancy to its pondlike dimensions there is no reason why it should not be transferred from the North Carolina into the White House with the other personal baggage of Mr. Taft on March 4.

From Norfolk an order for a bathtub, Taft size, was sent to New York, with instructions to find one. The tub was installed on the warship for Mr. Taft. It will hold four ordinary men, and is the largest ever manufactured, the makers say.

It is seven feet one inch long, forty-one inches wide and weighs a ton. It is exactly one-half as large again as the ordinary bathtub of the most ample proportions furnished the trade, but the ordinary tub weighs only 400 pounds.

OVATION FOR CONVICT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "I leave my wife and little boy penniless," said Francis B. Rundzer, today when he was railroaded into Federal prison. At the same time he was given an ovation by many prominent citizens who called at court to see him. Four hours after Rundzer was sentenced to six months' imprisonment for embezzlement of $7959.91 from the St. Louis postoffice while its cashier, to which he pleaded guilty today. He was taken aboard a train for the Iron county, Mo., jail. Rundzer's wife and little son accompanied him to the train. Rundzer's weight had fallen 100 pounds since he was indicted in 1905, and a Federal commission had reported he would soon die of kidney trouble, hence the hurry sentencing him.

ONE DOLLAR MELONS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Cantaloupes on South Water street in the middle of winter are one of the most distinct novelties of the year in the long list of anachronisms furnished lately by that enterprising thoroughfare. The arrival of this welcome fruit is perhaps one of the greatest victories of supply, demand and transportation over what would seem like prohibitive distance. A Greek dealer has sent a shipment of 1500 to South Water street from far-off Valley of the Nile. The opening quotation on the melons was $1 apiece. But people did not rush to get even spinx bred melons at this price, and it has fallen to 75 cents apiece.

PROBE LAND FRAUDS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

MUSKOGEE (Okla.), Jan. 25.—With a view to obtaining a grand jury free from local environments, in order to relieve possible embarrassment, the Federal authorities have called men, with two exceptions, from outside of Muskogee to investigate the charges of conspiracy and fraud in connection with the holding of Muskogee town lots. It was discovered today that the various lists of names of "dummies" claiming alleged possessory rights to town lots, are missing from the records of the townsite commission which had charge of the appraisement, apportionment and scheduling of the lots. This commission completed its work six years ago. It was composed of Dwight F. Tuttle of Connecticut and John Q. Adams and G. F. Marshall, both of Muskogee. The government attorneys say the disappearance of these lists has little or no effect on the situation. The sessions of the grand jury will be held in the Federal jail with secret-service men on guard as a precautionary measure.

ATTACKS WIFE'S ATTORNEY IN COURTROOM.

Illinois Millionaire Seizes Heavy Water Glass and Threatens to Brain Man Who Called Him a Liar. Woman Is Given Separate Allowance of $35 a Week.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PEORIA (Ill.) Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Louis Kingman, the millionaire plow manufacturer, defendant in the separate maintenance suit brought by his wife, created wild excitement today during the hearing before Master in Chancery Neilhaus, when he seized a heavy water glass and while in a terrible rage made an attack on Attorney Ira Covey, counsel for his wife.

When Attorney Covey commenced with his arguments Kingman sat in his usual place in the room, a position close to his wife's counsel. As the attorney argued why Mrs. Kingman should be allowed alimony, Kingman squirmed in his chair. The attorney started to discuss Kingman's statement that he was willing to support his wife in a proper manner, but at the same time had made no effort to do so and even had her credit suppressed.

Covey pointed his finger at Kingman and shouted, "Louis Kingman, when you said that you lied to this court."

Wild with rage, Kingman sprang to his feet and laid hold of a glass filled with water. Raising the tumbler he faced the attorney across the table and fairly shouted:

"I'll brain you for that, Covey, I'll brain you for that."

Covey was on his feet in an instant. Picking up his chair he raised it aloft to defend himself. The two men faced each other in a dramatic pose with a table between them. The master leaped to his feet while Mrs. Kingman and two women attending her sprang toward the door. Kingman's counsel was more calm and called to his client to be seated. It took the combined efforts of the deputy and others to quiet Kingman. Mrs. Kingman was allowed a permanent allowance of $35 a week.

Mrs. Nation was obliged to quit the house under police protection.

HOPKINS HAS HARD BATTLE.

Illinois Senator Takes Hold in Person.

Legislators Are Rounded Up to Headquarters.

Sherman, Rodenburg, Calhoun His Opponents.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Albert J. Hopkins is in personal charge of his headquarters here today. He has scouts out and each returning legislator is being brought in to hear the Senator make a personal plea for reelection to the United States Senate.

Hopkins and his managers are disturbed over a good-sized boom for L. Y. Sherman that is showing signs of new life today. Along with this comes the announcement that Secretary of State James A. Rose will be entered in the senatorship race unless Hopkins rallies unexpected strength. Congressman William A. Rodenberg of East St. Louis is also causing alarm as a probable "dark horse."

Bitterness of a new kind entered the fight today. The Standard Oil cry has been raised against W. J. Calhoun of Chicago, who is being groomed as a promising "dark horse" against Senator Hopkins. Men who are aiding Hopkins in his fight for reelection are likening Calhoun to Foraker.

It is charged that Mr. Calhoun has been long connected with the Standard Oil Company. One case cited is that of George F. Harding vs. the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, and William J. Calhoun and others. Mr. Calhoun emphatically denies ever having been connected with the Standard Oil Company.

"That case," said Mr. Calhoun, "was instituted against the Corn Products Company, the Standard Oil being joined in the suit. My firm were Chicago attorneys for the Corn Products Company, but I had no connection with the Standard Oil in the suit, nor had I any financial interest in the suit personally."

The fight for the toga will be resumed at noon tomorrow. Hopkins's friends claim their man will have between 92 and 95 votes on the next joint ballot.

MONTANA'S VOTE IN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BUTTE (Mont.) Jan. 25.—Dr. O. A. Lanstrum, chairman of the Republican Central Committee, today received a telegram from Senator J. M. Dixon, who is in Washington, to the effect that Vice-President Fairbanks had told him (Dixon) that this was the last day upon which the messenger from Montana could deposit the Presidential electoral vote of that State and that the messenger had not arrived.

Gen. Charles S. Warren of this city, who has been selected to present the vote at Washington, said this afternoon the vote had been sent to Vice-President Fairbanks by registered mail and that Secretary H. N. Blake of the electoral commission had the receipt, showing that the vote had been received in Washington. Gen. Warren said he would be on hand February 10 when the electoral college met.

RESERVISTS CALLED OUT.

Bulgaria and Turkey Preparing for Hostilities and Talking Peace.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

VIENNA, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The long delay in negotiations between Bulgaria and Turkey, coupled with the military preparations on both sides, is occasioning anxiety in diplomatic circles. A dispatch from Sofia this morning tells of the calling out of the reservists of the Eighth Army Division, thereby raising the division to its complete war footing.

This step is due to the discovery that Turkey is massing troops at Adrianople, near the frontier. Minister of the Interior Takev says that Bulgaria desires peace and is willing to agree to reasonable demands on the part of Turkey, but will not accept conditions incompatible with the honor of the State.

Illinois School Teacher Suing Wealthy Young Farmer Tells of Her Distress at Being Jilted—Letters of Defendant Called Her "My Darling Wife."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LINCOLN (Ill.) Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Attorneys for Miss Leonora Lane, the Logan county school teacher, called Otho Quizenberry, the wealthy young farmer whom she is suing for breach of promise, a wolf in sheep's clothing, when the trial opened here today.

So aggrieved was she over his action, she testified, that she pined away and lost forty to fifty pounds. The attorneys for the defense in their answer surprised the crowded courtroom by declaring that the young lady was better off because she did not marry Quizenberry, and that she should thank God that the ceremony was never performed.

A featureof the trial today was the reading of various letters Quizenberry had written plaintiff in which he called her the "dearest girl in the world," and expressed a wish that she was with him so that he could give her a "good hug." In another place he vowed they were "just the same as one, or would be some day." In another letter written in April, 1907, he said:

"I can't think of anything but you, my darling wife," and signed it, "your husband." Other expressions were "little sweetheart" and "darling," and in others he professed his undying love. In one letter Quizenberry feared that he was going to die and thought he would have to send for her. The trial will be resumed tomorrow.

About 900 tons of cargo were saved from the German steamer Wangard, from Tacoma, before she went ashore at Punta Mogotes.

She charged two dollars a seat for the same seats that you get at the Belasco for 75c, and people who have witnessed both the Bates and the Belasco company's performances unhesitatingly pronounce the Los Angeles article the greatest one. It is surely the greatest presentation ever given by a stock company and is an eloquent illustration of the supreme superiority of the Belasco company. PERILS OF SEA.

STORM CLAIMS WIFE AND BABE.

Captain of Soquel Brings Home Bodies.

Lifeboat Was Dashed Upon Deck, Killing Them.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PORT TOWNSEND (Wash.) Jan. 25.—Details of the wreck of the American schooner Soquel were brought here with twelve survivors and the bodies of Capt. Charles Hennigston's wife and his three-year-old daughter, by the revenue cutter Manning this afternoon.

Capt. Henningsen said: "I was bound in past Cape Flattery. The approximate location of that point was reached Sunday, January 17. An observation in order to ascertain our position had been impossible for six days. In a few hours two feet of snow had fallen on our decks. At 8 o'clock the course was changed so as to take us out to sea. We had passed Cape Flattery and were blown into Vancouver Island."

Capt. Henningsen said the Soquel struck at 12:20 a.m., Sunday. His wife and child were in bed at the time.

A lifeboat's lashings were removed, and in the boat Mrs. Henningsen took a position beside her husband, the captain holding the child. A loud report of an advancing comber caused the woman to call out: "This means death; kiss me, Carl."

In full sweep of the storm the loosened lifeboat was raised from its cradle, and dashed onto the deck, pinioning the three beneath. The woman was killed and the babe was thrown across the ship.

Second Mate Henningsen, a brother of the captain, was washed overboard, but was rescued. His companions in this small boat finally landed on a cluster of rocks a short distance shorewards from the wreck. They were rescued eight hours later.

At the request of Capt. Henningsen, four of the life-saving crew swam from the rocks on which they were held, to the schooner, and thence brought off the bodies of his wife and child.

ENGLISHMEN ARE GAME.

Four Are Guarding British Flag on Island Against Hundreds of Natives.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The oceanic steamship Mariposa today brought the story of four game Englishmen on Rakahanga Island, in the Cook group, are standing off several hundred excited natives who recently hauled down the British flag, because of some grievance. Col. Gudgeon raised the flag again and with three heavily-armed companions is guarding it until a British gunboat can reach the island from New Zealand. When the gunboat arrives the turbulent natives will be shipped to another island.

SEALS RETURN TO OLD HOME.

Driven Back by Fierce Storms in Pacific, They Once More Disport Near Cliff House.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The seals which used to disport on Seal Rocks near the Sutro Cliff House and which were driven away by fire when that landmark was burned, have returned to their haunts. Apparently, they have been driven back by fierce storms that have prevailed for three weeks. From all parts of the adjacent coast seals have apparently come by instinct to these sheltered islands near the entrance to Golden Gate.

LETTER FROM PRESIDENT.

THANKS JUSTICE NAVE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHOENIX, January 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Today Associate Justice Frederick S. Nave received the following letter from President Roosevelt: "I am sorry to receive your resignation, but am glad you are to stay until after I leave my office. I accept your resignation, as of April 1, with regret and thank you heartily for your public services."

TAMPERING WITH JURRORS.

[From the San Francisco Globe.]

An ugly feature was introduced into the Calhoun trial yesterday when the prosecuting attorney admitted in court that a member of his secret service staff had visited the family of a prospective juror, and, under the guise of wishing to buy some property, sought to learn the opinion of that juryman on the graft prosecution. This in itself is a flagrant outrage of justice; but the case is aggravated when the prosecuting attorney adds that he has discovered the culprit and in place of turning him over to the police has dismissed him and kept his name secret.

The man who approached Dixon is guilty of a crime, an offense for which either he or probably better men have been sent to jail in San Francisco. What kind of immunity is this that shields him from the law he was supposed to help enforce? The position of the culprit is that of a policeman who is paid to protect property on a certain beat, and himself robs a store.

There is no shame of tricksters that is being played in Judge Lawlor's court, in a serious case, one that is marking an epoch in San Francisco's legal history. Yesterday the second report came from the presiding judge that no one is attempting to tamper with the jurors. The prosecuting attorney admits that the first offense was committed by one in the employ of the court, but he carefully shields the culprit from the law. This is not justice; it is tyranny.

Explaining his reason for this unprecedented procedure, the prosecuting attorney makes the remarkable charge that this man was hired by the defense to approach the juror. If he can prove the assertion—and no officer of the law would hardly dare to make such a charge without proof—the offense is as serious a nature as that for which Calhoun is now on trial.

Certainly this is something that calls for investigation, not for suppression; let the culprit himself be proved; let him tell under what conditions he approached the wife of Juror ——; let him tell whose livery he wore; let him tell

PERILS OF SEA.

Lifeboat Was Dashed Upon Deck, Killing Them.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PORT TOWNSEND (Wash.) Jan. 25. ...details of the wreck of the Ameri... ...schooner Soquel were brought here ...twelve survivors and the bodies ...of Capt. Charles Hennigston's wife and ...his three-year-old daughter, by the ...tender Manning this after... ...noon.

Capt. Henningsen said: "I was bound ...for Cape Flattery. The approxi... ...mate location of that point was reach... ...ed Sunday, January 17. An observation ...in order to ascertain our position had ...been impossible for six days. In a ...few hours two feet of snow had fallen ...on our decks. At 8 o'clock the course ...was changed so as to take us out to ...sea. We had passed Cape Flattery ...and were blown into Vancouver Isl... ...and."

Capt. Henningsen said the Soquel ...broke at 11:30 a.m., Sunday. His wife ...and child were in bed at the time.

...A lifeboat's lashings were removed, ...and in the boat Mrs. Henningsen took ...a position beside her husband, the cap... ...tain holding the child. A loud report ...of an advancing comber caused the ...woman to call out: "This means death; ...kiss me, Carl."

...In the full sweep of the storm the loos... ...ened lifeboat was raised from its cra... ...dle, and dashed onto the deck, pinion... ...ing the three beneath. The woman was ...killed and the babe was thrown across ...the ship.

...Second Mate Henningsen, a brother ...of the captain, was washed overboard, ...but was rescued. His companions in the ...small boat finally landed on a cluster ...of rocks a short distance shoreward ...from the wreck. They were rescued ...eight hours later.

...At the request of Capt. Henningsen, ...one of the life-saving crew swam ...from the rocks on which they were ...cast, to the schooner, and thence ...went off the bodies of his wife and ...child.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 25.—[Ex... ...Dispatch.] The seals which ...disport on Seal Rocks near the ...Cliff House and which were ...driven away by fire when that land... ...mark was burned, have returned to ...their haunts. LETTER FROM PRESIDENT.

THANKS JUSTICE NAVE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHOENIX, January 25.—[Exclusive ...Dispatch.] Today Associate Jus... ...tice Frederick S. Nave received the ...following letter from President Roose... ...velt:

"I am sorry to receive your ...resignation, but am glad you are to ...remain until after I leave my office. I ...accept your resignation, as of April 1, ...with regret and thank you heartily ...for your public services."

TAMPERING WITH JURRORS.

[From the San Francisco Globe.]

...As only feature was introduced into ...the Calhoun trial yesterday when the ...defense attorney admitted in court ...that a number of his secret service ...men had visited the family of a pros... ...pective juror, and, under the guise of ...wishing to buy some property, sought ...to learn the opinion of that juryman ...on the graft prosecution. This in itself ...is a flagrant outrage of justice; but ...the case is aggravated when the prose... ...cuting attorney adds that he has dis... ...covered the culprit and in place of ...turning him over to the police has ...retained him and kept his name se... ...cret.

...The man who approached Dixon is ...not a criminal, an offense for which ...he and probably better men have ...been sent to jail in San Francisco. ...What kind of immunity is this that ...shields him from the law he was sup... ...posed to help enforce? The position of ...a detective is that of a policeman who ...is hired to protect property on a certain ...beat and himself robs a store. ...There is no game of tricksters that is ...played in Judge Lawlor's court, ...whether the case, one that is marking ...a epoch in San Francisco's legal his... ...tory. Yesterday the second report came ...to the presiding judge that ...one is attempting to tamper with ...him. The prosecuting attorney ...says that the first offense was com... ...mitted by one in the employ of the ...state, but he carefully shields the ...guilty from the law. This is not jus... ...tice, it is tyranny.

...Explaining his reason for this un... ...usual procedure, the prosecuting ...attorney makes the remarkable charge ...that the man was hired by the defense ...to approach the juror. If he can prove ...something—and no officer of the ...court should hardly dare to make such ...a charge without proof—the offense is ...of such a nature as that for ...which Calhoun is now on trial. ...Certainly this is something that ...calls for investigation, not for suppres... ...sion. Let the culprit himself be pro... ...duced, let him tell under what condi... ...tions he approached the wife of Juror ...Lost, let him tell whose livery he ...wore.

TONG TRUCE ENDED.

With Close of New Year Holiday Highbinders Take Up Blood Feud.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Just before Chinese New Year opened, leaders of the On Yick and Sue On tongs made solemn pledges of peace that they would not reopen the blood feud that had led to the deaths of three On Yick men in a few days.

Yesterday when the New Year holiday ended, leaders of both tongs went into hiding and in local and Oakland Chinatowns several notorious highbinders appeared. In Oakland, Ah Tai, famous gun-fighter, ostensibly wished friends a happy New Year, but it was observed he was keeping a bright lookout for some one.

As a $1000 reward has been posted by each society for the death of leading officers of the other tong, the mission of Ah Tai was self-evident.

The police force in the Chinatowns of both cities is keeping close watch, but it is impossible to guard against these Chinese assassinations or to secure any good evidence against murderers unless crimes happen to be witnessed by whites.

FLIMSY WALL FALLS.

THEATER STAGE DEMOLISHED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Grand Theater on Seventh street between K and L was badly damaged this morning when the rear wall fell in, demolishing the stage and scenery.

The direct cause was the heavy wind, but examination shows that although this wall had been standing twenty years, it was only eight inches thick up to within fifteen feet of the top, from there up being one brick, or four inches thick. The wall was fifty feet high and eighty feet wide, and had no supports or braces.

Four hundred square feet of the wall tumbled into the building during the gale, after having been thoroughly soaked by continued rains. The building was recently improved, but this flimsy wall escaped notice, or, if noticed, was passed on as safe.

ONE MORE JUROR.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 25.—The first man examined in the Calhoun trial today was passed temporarily by both sides. He is Michael Maguire, a retired grain dealer. He took the fifth seat in the jury box.

After fruitless examinations of a dozen more talesmen, adjournment was taken until tomorrow morning, to allow Judge Lawlor to attend a meeting of the Superior judges this afternoon.

SINGULAR ELOPEMENT.

Girl Took Train While Young Lochinvar Took Fright and Disappeared.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHOENIX, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Last Wednesday, John Yates, a law student, and Della Rudd, aged 17, eloped from Glendale, leaving a note that they were going to California to be married. It has been found that the pair drove to Moreystown, where the girl took a north-bound Santa Fé train, while Yates has disappeared in the mountains, having learned that his act was criminal. Miss Rudd has been found in Prescott, and will be brought back by her father.

SCHOONER SOQUEL BREAKING UP

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

VICTORIA (B. C.) Jan. 25.—With the bodies of the captain's wife and child on the littered deck, the schooner Soquel which was lost on Sea Bird rocks, is breaking up. The life boat crew made an ineffectual effort this morning to take the bodies off. The steamer Leebro is returning to Victoria.

BIG CRIMINALS.

LAND FRAUDS INCREASING.

Secretary Garfield Learns of Many Attempts.

Needs One Million Dollars for Investigation.

Task of Unearthing and Convicting Gigantic.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Since Secretary of the Interior Garfield made his sensational declaration that cases of land fraud, involving the theft of portions of the public domain valued at $114,000,000 were pending in the Federal courts or under investigation by his department, he has received information of still more extensive frauds.

Secretary Garfield at first asked for an appropriation of $500,000 to carry on the investigation, but the reports reaching him show that the frauds are so numerous and of such a character that the amount will not suffice, and he now asks for $1,000,000 to be used in the work.

The almost Herculean task of unearthing the gigantic frauds in the public lands, which are alleged to exist, is strikingly shown in a statement of Chief of the Field Service Schwartz, who reports to the Secretary that "combinations are frequently so well organized and so aided by defective public land laws as to present an almost impossible task in securing evidence, or recovering lands worth hundreds of thousands of dollars."

LABOR OF LOVE.

NEEDLEWORK FOR PRESIDENT.

WESTERN WOMAN SENDS PRESENT OF EMBROIDERY.

Gift Accepted by Mr. Roosevelt With Great Pleasure and Appreciation of the Months of Toil Represented—Senator Perkins to Be Given Dinner by Californians.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] President Roosevelt has made happy a young Armenian lady of Fowler. He has accepted, through Congressman Needham, two very elaborate pieces of embroidery made by Mrs. Beatrice Palontzian and forwarded by A. G. Sekleman of Fresno.

One scene represents President Roosevelt hunting; the other includes portraits of the President and Admiral Evans and a picture of the flagship Connecticut. Seven months were spent on these embroideries.

The President was much touched and greatly pleased and he sent to Mrs. Palontzian his photograph with an autograph inscription.

In recognition of his "long and faithful service in the Senate," his fourth election to a seat in that body and his "ever courteous treatment of his colleagues," the California delegation in the House has tendered a dinner to Senator Perkins, to be given Saturday next at Rauschers.

POSTAL SAVINGS BILL UP.

Amendment Made, Limiting to $500 Amount of Deposits of One Person.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—The postal savings bank and the omnibus claims bill were before the Senate today for amendment, but no substantial progress was made on either measure. An amendment was made to the postal bill, limiting to $500 the amount of deposits of any one person, and fixing the rate of interest at 2 per cent., with the understanding that the amendment would be subject to further change by the Senate.

Senator Carter, in charge of the measure, announced that he would keep it before the Senate on every opportunity until it was disposed of.

Senator Cummins laid before the Senate his amendment, providing that postal savings funds may be deposited in any national, State or Territorial bank under certain restrictions, and fixing the rate of interest to be paid at 1 1-4 per cent.

TRIBUTE TO WIRELESS HERO.

BY CONGRESSMAN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Legislation affecting the District of Columbia was considered by the House today.

An interesting feature of the day was a tribute paid by Mr. Boutelle of Illinois to the heroism of John R. Binns, the wireless operator aboard the steamship Republic, recently in collision with the Florida.

CONSERVATION COMMITTEE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—The personnel of the joint committee to represent the States and Federal government to make plans for conservation of the country's natural resources has been announced by Gifford Pinchot, chairman of the commission. The membership of the committee follows: Representing State conservation commissioners, H. J. Teal, Portland, Or.; Paris Gibson, Great Falls, Mont.; W. K. Casvanaugh, St. Louis; W. H. Milton, Miriannia, Fla.; Prof. Frank Raine, Boston; C. J. Salibusy, Salt Lake.

LITTLE SPOIL.

MASKED HIGHWAYMEN HOLD UP MOTORMAN.

WITHIN a half block of his home, at No. 1230 Palmer avenue, Harry Harris, a motorman of the Los Angeles Railway, was held up by two masked men at 2 o'clock this morning and robbed of $1. The highwaymen examined his watch and then returned it to him.

Harris was on his way home when the robbery occurred. The bandits leaped out of the darkness from behind trees, and with drawn revolvers, commanded him to throw up his hands. He complied, and was searched by one man while the other covered him with a gun. They ordered him to remain standing on the sidewalk until they were out of the way.

Both men, according to Harris, were short and heavy-set. They wore handkerchiefs for masks, and were dressed in dark clothes. As soon as he reported the robbery the motorcycle squad were detailed on the case, and a search was made in the neighborhood, but no trace of the men was found.

STATEHOOD MORE LIKELY.

Prospects of Bill at Washington Are Improving All the Time.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There is decidedly improved prospect for the passage of the Statehood bill. Several matters relating to public lands have been referred to the Interior Department, and a decision is expected, so that the bill can be sent to the House by Wednesday. There is little reason to think that it will not go through. Senator Flint believes that the measure will pass in the Senate, although Beveridge, chairman of the Committee on Territories, has been hostile to it, and his attitude at present is not known.

PRESIDENT'S PLAN.

Suggests That California Draw Desired Bills Relating to All Aliens.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] President Roosevelt has outlined to several different persons recently his ideas regarding legislation which California could enact, and the manner in which it could be drawn, without hurting the sensibilities of the Japanese. He considers it safe and proper, if desired, to put through a bill forbidding all aliens to own land in California.

If there be objection to having mature Japs sit alongside your girls in school, the matter could be remedied by changing the school regulations to limit the age of a pupil who might attend certain grades. The President is opposed to any discrimination, real or apparent, against Japanese, and he even thinks that it would be well to have it stated, in the body of all bills relating to them in any way, that "nothing in this act is intended to contravene any existing treaty between the United States and any foreign country.

URGE ANTI-OPIUM BILL.

EFFECT FAR-REACHING.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—The importance of the passage on February 1, of the anti-opium bill now before the House, is the keynote of a dispatch received at the State Department from P. B. Brent, of the American Legation to the International Opium Commission at Shanghai. This commission meets on that date, and the American delegation is anxious that they may be able to present to the international body substantial evidence of the attitude of the government regarding the importation and use of opium.

WASHINGTON BRIEFS.

Delay for Harriman Claim.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] While there seems good prospect that the subcommittee in the Senate will agree on the report regarding Harriman's $1,600,000 bill for controlling the break in the Colorado River, a member of the House Committee on Claims said recently that he did not believe his committee would get to it at this session.

Penalties of Crime.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—The Attorney-General has issued a circular to United States marshals warning them that under no circumstances must United States prisoners be allowed to have intoxicants, except on the advice of a physician. The circular threatens summary removal of any official so offending.

Gold Medals for Wrights.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Gold medals, with suitable emblems, will be awarded to Orville and Wilbur Wright by Congress in recognition of their services in the advancement of aerial navigation, if the House of Representatives approves a resolution adopted by the Senate today. Senator Forsker introduced the resolution.

STEAMER VENTURA BURNS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

VANCOUVER (B. C.) Jan. 25.—The steamer Ventura, owned by the Boscowitz Steamship Company, of Victoria, and worth over $100,000, was destroyed by fire this morning shortly after starting from Prince Rupert on her way to Vancouver.

The vessel, which was a first-class freighter, had just finished loading 5000 cases of salmon at Inverness cannery, when flames burst from the engine room. Fifty passengers and the boat's crew were safely landed on the wharf and the boat was cut adrift to save the cannery from the blaze. She washed ashore a mile below, and tonight is still burning. Seven thousand cases of salmon, fully insured, are a total loss.

ALTON DENIED REHEARING.

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Supreme Court of the United States today denied a rehearing in the case in which the Chicago and Alton and two of its former officers were fined $29,000 for paying rebates to the packing firm of Schwarzchild & Sulzberger. The petition was presented to the court because that body was divided equally with reference to the law points involved in the case.

WASHINGTON.

PRESERVATION OF THE HOME.

Theme at Conference Called by President.

Care of Dependent Children the Object.

Meeting Held in East Room of White House.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—The importance of the preservation of the home was the central theme of discussion at the conference on the care of dependent children which was opened by President Roosevelt at the White House late today.

The subject under consideration was "Should the Breaking of a Home be Allowed for Reasons of Poverty or for Reasons of Inefficiency or Immorality."

It was the unanimous opinion of an array of notable charity workers that children can best be removed from the family circle only when proper supervision at home has become impossible. It also was the concensus of opinion that where poverty exists in the home, State aid should be given.

President Roosevelt, previous to calling the gathering to order, received the delegates in the East Room. After outlining the scope of the work before the conference, the President called Homer Folks, president of the State Probation Commission of New York, to the chair and spoke, in part, as follows:

"There can be no more important subject from the standpoint of the nation than that which you are to deal with, because when you take care of the children you are taking care of the nation of tomorrow, and it is incumbent upon every one of us to do all in his power to provide for the interests of those children, whom cruel misfortune has handicapped at the very outset of their lives. I earnestly hope that the members of this conference will take a progressive stand, so as to establish a goal toward which the whole country can work. In other words, I earnestly hope each of you will consider not only the interests of his own immediate locality, but the interests of the nation as a whole.

"There are, of course, several different types of conditions which you are trying to meet. I believe we, all of us, have come to the conclusion that, where possible the thing to be done for the child is to provide a home for it, and that where that is not possible we should make the conditions as nearly as possible like those which the child would have in a home.

"There are a half dozen different types of children for whom we need to care. There is, first of all, the complete orphan, the child who has lost both father and mother. For this child we wish to make permanent provision. My own belief is that the best kind of permanent provision, if feasible, is to place the child in a home.

"We then have to meet the case—one of the most distressing of cases—where the father has died, where the breadwinner is gone, where the mother would like to keep the children, but lacks the earning capacity. Surely in such a case the goal toward which we should strive is to help the mother so she can keep her own home and keep the child in it; that is the best thing to be done for that child.

"Then we come to the case of the child who must temporarily be taken away from the parent, or parents, but where it is not desirable that the separation should be permanent. Those children offer cases for which the institution is peculiarly fitted.

"The government can do much. But never forget that the government cannot do everything; that there must always be help by individuals and associations outside, that religious and philanthropic associations of many different creeds must operate with the government, or we cannot get the best results."

ATTACK HUGHES PLAN.

Leaders in New York Legislature Do Not Favor Direct Nomination.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Legislative leaders came out in the open today in their attack on the direct nomination system recommended by Gov. Hughes. Both Senator Raines, President Pro Tem. of the Senate, and Speaker Wadsworth of the Assembly, issued statements taking exceptions to some of the Governor's remarks on the subject at a recent dinner in New York.

Gov. Hughes tonight declined to comment on these statements, but at speaking engagements he has arranged for the next few weeks it is expected he will launch further arguments in support of his proposed election reforms.

Speaker Wadsworth has declared his intention of speaking in the western section of the State next month to explain why he is opposed to direct nominations.

Senator Raines says he is "waiting for information, and to read the bill providing for 'direct nomination,' before entering upon a 'campaign of education.'" He believes that under the present time-honored system of caucus and convention it is in the power of the majority of the voters of any party to obtain exactly what they desire.

OUT OF COMMISSION.

Unknown Force, Believed to Be Wireless Message, Knocks Out Telegraph Company's Cable.

Some unknown and powerful force wrecked the cable of the Postal Telegraph Company shortly before daylight yesterday, and for more than twelve hours the company headquarters was cut off from communication with outside stations.

A temporary office was established in a lodging-house at No. 135 South Olive street. At that point the line was in good shape, and all telegraph business was conducted by means of apparatus temporarily installed.

The company officials think the cable caught a wireless message of some kind, which grounded with force enough to wreck the wires. The break extended from the main office to the Olive-street station.

LINOTYPERS STRIKE.

mittee, but he appeared at the meeting to see what he could do for the race-track cause, and he was very emphatic in attempting to demonstrate to Wright that the vise of Wolfe and Leavitt was the proper thing to have before anything could go through the Senate.

However, the San Diego charter will be ratified, for the Leavitt-Wolfe following is rapidly diminishing to two, and the things they most oppose are likely to be the things the majority of the Senate will vote for first.

EXPERIMENT ON PRISONERS.

WOULD AVOID HANGING.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Senator Bills of Sacramento introduced a bill today that will give all prisoners condemned to death by hanging a chance for their lives if they care to embrace it. At any time such a prisoner may desire, it is provided that he may offer himself to the State Board of Health for medical examination, tests and experiments in the interest of science. If the State board declares him to be a fit subject for experimentation, it may recommend to the Governor that a reprieve be granted. After the doctors and surgeons are through with him, if still alive, of course, the prisoner will be eligible for a commutation of sentence to life imprisonment or to pardon. The entire matter of submission to the experiments is left to the prisoner. If death be preferable, then death.

Assemblyman Leeds of Los Angeles is framing a bill in which the direct primary and convention are to be combined. It is believed that a bill of this sort finally will be adopted by the committees.

Just what its fate will be in the Legislature is a matter of conjecture. It is certain that the Republican party organization will welcome the direct primary law in any of its phases, leaders declaring that their task will be simplified under the Oregon or any other idea, and that the result always will be satisfactory.

HURD TO START SCRAP.

VACCINATION FIGHT IN SIGHT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Senator Hurd of Los Angeles has picked up a red-hot poker and can't let it drop. Some one has sent him a bill calling for the repeal of the compulsory vaccination law and he is disposed to introduce it.

Being a new member, he does not recall the hot contests that have been waged in past Legislatures over this same measure. He has found much sentiment with him, but he has not yet broached the subject to members of the State Board of Health, who managed a few days ago to send Superintendent Graham of the Long Beach schools back home after he had made an ineffectual effort to have the present law modified.

Hurd stated today that he believed he would "go to it," which means a lively scrap.

Inviting the medical fraternity about his ears, Hurd already has stirred up the dentists by introducing a bill making it possible for capable dentists from foreign countries to take the State examination without spending four years in some California college and by otherwise letting down the bars to those who may prove themselves competent.

ADDITIONAL JUDGES PROBABLE.

BILL PASSES THE SENATE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Unless Gov. Gillett intervenes, Los Angeles county will get the three additional superior judges for which it has asked the Legislature to provide.

Senator McCartney's bill making the necessary provision was passed by the Senate today and Assemblyman Rech would have got the companion bill through the Lower House had it not been necessary to amend it slightly.

The Senate bill probably will be passed by the Assembly tomorrow or Wednesday and with the county delegation unanimous for the bill the Governor probably will sign the measure within a short time.

There were only two opponents to the passage of the Senate bill. No opposition is expected in the Assembly, though there probably will be fights in both Houses against increasing the number of San Francisco judges from twelve to sixteen.

Under the new bill Los Angeles and San Francisco will have an equal number of superior judges.

Among those who are most prominently mentioned for the new places in Los Angeles are former Judge Jamison, Dana R. Weller and George R. Davis, the latter of Pasadena. The appointments will be made by the Governor and will hold until the next general election, two years from last November.

VENICE BILL PASSED.

NAME-CHANGING MEASURE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Senate today passed Savage's bill, which makes it possible for municipal corporations, other than cities operating under freeholders' charters, to change their names. It is in the interest of the people of Venice, who want to spread the Italian name over all of Ocean Park, of which Venice started out to be a part, and of which it now sets itself up as something more. The bill still must pass the Assembly.

Under the measure as amended (and the amendment may save Ocean Park its name) it will require a two-thirds vote before a change can be effected. It is provided that when the City Council or Trustees receive a petition signed by 50 per cent. of the qualified voters at the last election, asking for a change of name, a special election shall be called. If less than two-thirds of the vote be in favor of a change, no further proceedings of a like nature shall be had for the period of ten years.

FIGHT FOR CONSOLIDATION.

HURD ENTERS LISTS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Senator Hurd of Los Angeles has thrown down the gage of battle to Senator Savage in the fight for consolidation of Los Angeles and San Pedro. Hurd has told Savage openly that he will make a bitter contest on the floor of the Senate for the simple bill asked by the people of both cities through which they may join for a greater water front on the favorable verdict of a majority of the votes in each city.

Up to this time Savage has declared he had the Senate "fixed" so that he could swing everything his way, despite the wishes of the people he is supposed to represent, and in face of the wishes of the people of Los Angeles, part of whom are in his district.

With so able a champion as Hurd it is certain that Los Angeles will have a fair show and he will be assisted materially by others of the Los Angeles and Southern California delegation.

Senator Willis of Redlands may be counted upon to champion the Los Angeles cause and the support from the North that Savage has been counting upon is likely to dwindle away with the passing of the race track issue into oblivion.

Savage has made the boast that he had the Senate "bottled up" and that it would vote with him on anything he might want. The Senator is a garrulous old chap and has said a good many things that have not always turned out to be so. He said today that thirty Assemblymen were lined up with him to prevent a consolidation bill except on terms that he might dictate, yet no member of the Assembly has introduced in the lower house the companion bill to any of the several that Savage has presented for the purpose of defeating the will of the people and of the representative commercial bodies of Los Angeles and San Pedro.

The latest threat of Savage is that he will "roast" Los Angeles because of the recall provision of its charter, and that he otherwise will flaunt to the world the sins of that city. As a matter of fact, it is said on excellent authority, based on the statements of men who can gauge pretty clearly what the Legislature will do, that Los Angeles and San Pedro will get the consolidation measure they desire.

LET EVERY ONE SHOOT.

AFTER NEWPORT BAY CLUB.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The move of Assemblyman Melrose of Orange county for free hunting grounds for all nimrods of the State took shape today when he drafted a resolution for presentation tomorrow, calling upon the Committee on Fish and Game to investigate the condition surrounding the game preserve in Newport Bay.

Several days ago, as noted in these dispatches, Mr. Melrose called attention to the fact that the State maintains a game preserve on the waters of Newport Bay, and that practically the only beneficiaries are members of the San Joaquin Gun Club, the "common people" with cheap guns, being barred alike from the preserve, and from the immediately adjacent grounds of the club.

Now the Newport Beach Chamber of Commerce, through its president, W. W. Wilson, has forwarded to the Legislature resolutions declaring that all the people are entitled to the benefits of the preserve, that wild water fowl flock there in great numbers, that nearly all the duck grounds of the State are in the possession of "rich gun clubs and that men of ordinary means are deprived of the pleasure of shooting, particularly in the vicinity of Newport Bay.

It also is alleged in the resolution that upper Newport Bay is unlawfully held by the Irvine company in defiance of the State law relating to tide lands, and a certain part of the upper bay is leased by the Irvine company to the San Joaquin Gun Club, the remainder of the upper bay being set aside as a State game preserve. It is from this preserve that ducks and geese hop across the wire fence to the gun club grounds, and get shot in the neck and other places.

Another assertion is that State Game Warden H. J. Connell is a member of the San Joaquin Gun Club, and that H. Keady, a deputy warden stationed on the preserve, draws pay from the State and also is in the employ of the gun club as boatman and servant.

It is demanded by the Newport Beach people that the game preserve be abolished, and it is the purpose of Assemblyman Melrose through his resolution to call upon the Fish and Game Committee to take action that will help the non-club nimrods.

UNIONITE SQUELCHED.

STANTON UNDAUNTED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The union-labor stuffed club has no terrors for Speaker Stanton. He successfully parried a blow aimed at him today by one of the San Francisco unionites in the Assembly and the club wielder sat down hard.

Owing to the stormy weather that has prevailed since the Legislature convened and because of the high pressure at which Stanton is keeping the members of the lower house at work, there has been little time for luncheon at noon. In the old days, members used to go downtown from the Capitol building and spend two or three hours at the cafés. They have but a few minutes under the Stanton reign and it was decided by the Assembly today that the Speaker should establish a restaurant in the Statehouse, coffee and light refreshments, but no liquor, to be furnished to all who cared to buy.

"Mr. Speaker," howled a San Francisco member, "I insist on behalf of my constituents that this restaurant shall not be an unfair house.

He wanted the union label on the waiters, on the coffee and on the hole in the doughnuts.

"You're out of order," retorted Stanton. "There will be fair prices; that's all we ask."

Live Stock Men to Convene This Morning.

Delegates Present from All Parts of West.

Business and Pleasure Will Be Combined.

With an estimated attendance of 1000 delegates, the twelfth annual convention of the American National Live Stock Association will open in the Auditorium Theater at 10 o'clock this morning for a three days' session. Breeders of cattle and sheep men from all parts of the West have assembled here to discuss weighty questions, and, incidentally, to pass a week or more in the finest climate in the country. Secretary Wiggins, of the Chamber of Commerce, has solemnly promised the visitors ideal Southern California weather.

To give variety to the sessions, receptions and excursions have been arranged. Tonight, there will be a reception at the Chamber of Commerce, followed by a belated excursion party from Redondo. Walla will share with the Angeles men the official welcome of the Tomorrow evening, the Young Men's Christian Association will entertain the visitors with basketball and other athletic contests. An automobile ride through the city is planned for Thursday afternoon, and all owners of machines who are willing to participate in this event are asked to assemble in front of the Chamber of Commerce building at 2 o'clock. A theater party in the evening is probable. Friday, there will be an excursion to Pasadena and Mt. Lowe, with a stop-over at the Cawston Ostrich Farm. The delegates will be taken in special electric cars from the Huntington building.

Many of the visitors have brought their families with them and the ladies will pass the time in sight-seeing and theater-going.

The Driving Club Saturday matinee has been given up, according to Secretary Wiggins.

HOTELS OVERFLOWING.

All the downtown hotels are filled overflowing and many of the live stock men have secured accommodations at family hotels and boarding-houses.

The executive committee of the Live Stock Association met at the Chamber of Commerce building yesterday, to transact routine business. Among those present were President H. A. Jastro, Vice-President Murdo Mackenzie, Attorney Sam H. Cowan, Secretary E. W. Tomlinson, E. E. Goss, J. V. Vickers, C. B. Rhodes, W. Harris, H. S. Boice, David Pratt, E. Jack, C. W. Merchant, C. M. Connell, E. M. Stewart, H. E. Crow-ell, H. Parramore, L. T. Pryor, J. Cosgrove and J. C. Underwood. The programme this morning will be as follows: Invocation, Rev. J. S. Thomson; addresses of welcome, W. G. Harper and President Stewart of the Chamber of Commerce; response, John W. Springer of Denver, president's annual address, President Jastro; appointment of committees, roll call, reports of standing committees, "The Foreign Markets," W. A. Lawrence, Kan.

THE TARIFF QUESTION.

This afternoon former United States Senator Carey of Wyoming will speak on "Land Laws—Their Administration." Attorney Cowan will tell "What the Live Stock Industry Demands of Congress," and C. D. Marsh of the United States Bureau of Plant Industry will speak on "The Loco Investigation." The session will close with a discussion of the tariff, as applied to hides, wool and live stock.

Tomorrow morning programme tomorrow will be: "Bovine Tuberculosis," Dr. A. Ramm, Chicago; "Benefits Derived from Live Stock Organization and Co-operation," L. T. Pryor; address of welcome, representative of the Forestry Service; address, E. S. Growney. At the afternoon session, Dr. C. M. Haskell of the University of California will speak on "Veterinary Science and Sanitation," to be followed by "The Live Stock Industry of California," Dwight B. Heard of Arizona, on "Federal Control of Grazing Lands" and J. C. Wilcox on "The Future of the Cowman."

There will be a general business session Thursday morning and the election of officers.

The United States Forestry Department will figure prominently at the convention. The question of a Federal control of grazing lands which are within the forest reservations is to be a vital one.

Gifford C. Barnes of Washington, who was appointed by Chief Forester Pinchot to represent the department here, is a guest at the Alexandria, headquarters for the foresters and chiefs of stations. Mr. Pinchot planned to attend the convention himself, but owing to a contemplated trip to Mexico in the interests of the department, was compelled to remain in Washington.

HELPS STOCKMEN.

"The Forest Service is helping the stockmen to make money," said Mr. Barnes yesterday. "The system of administration in force in the national forests is bringing about a great improvement in range conditions and is helping the stockmen in many ways. Ranges are divided fairly between sheepmen and cattlemen and each class of stock is restricted to a certain number for which there is plenty of feed. This means smaller losses from straying and other causes and better and fatter stock. The cattle marketed from some of the national forest ranges last fall weighed 100 pounds more than steers of the same grade from the outside ranges and brought from $5 to $10 per head more than other stock. The same is true of lambs and in several instances wool from the national forests has brought the highest price ever paid in the district.

"In co-operation with the stockmen the Forest Service has constructed over 1000 miles of drift and division fences for the proper control of stock upon the national forests and expect to build about 600 miles more during the coming summer. Forty hunters are employed as forest rangers and have waged a very successful war on predatory wild animals. The killing of lions, wolves, coyotes and bears has saved the stockmen full-grown as the amount paid for scalps and fees. The opposition to the principle of the grazing fee has now almost entirely disappeared because stockmen realize that we are trying to do everything possible to help them and give them value received for every dollar paid the government.

FOR BENEFIT OF ALL.

"We have now about 25,000 stock-horses, and I expect that many more will be in California, Arizona and New Mexico will attend the conven-

PROFESSOR OF AIR IS WANTED.

COLLEGE OF FRANCE TO ESTABLISH CHAIR.

Academic Phase Will Be Theory Rather Than Art of Flying, But Laboratory for Experiments Will Be Provided—Wilbur Wright Offered Position But Refuses.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS (France.) Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Following the example of Germany, French educational authorities propose shortly to establish a chair of aëronautics at the College of France, the incumbent of which will be expected to occupy himself with the theoretical side of the subject rather than with the practical or mechanical side.

Thus there will be necessary, say the authorities, a laboratory in which students may attempt to work out the theories advanced by the professor of the new science. Money for this purpose has been promised by that indefatigable patron of all French flyers, Archdeacon, whose name has been given to several prizes in connection with the sport.

The department of public instruction will support the professorship, but who will be the first incumbent? The problem is worrying the department. The chair was offered to Wilbur Wright, who promptly refused to consider the idea, saying that his business was flying and not teaching.

"Moreover," said he, "I would have to learn French first."

The new professor will have a large audience for his lectures, the committee asserts, for seveal hundred students already have inscribed their names.

HIS FIRST SUCCESS.

Young Man Kills Himself Because He Never Could Succeed in Anything, Even Suicide.

Because he could not succeed at anything he attempted, Henry Du Bois, 26 years of age, committed suicide yesterday morning in his room at No. 233 East Fifth street, by shooting himself through the left lung.

Little is known of Du Bois at the lodging-house. He had few friends and confided in no one. For several days he had been melancholy and morose and kept to his room.

Yesterday morning a muffled shot was heard. This was traced to Du Bois' room, and when the door was forced his body was found.

The young man left a note to the Coroner, saying: "Dear Sir—In God's name, I ask you not to try to find my relatives as this would only bring great sorrow upon their heads. You can realize enough from the sale of my personal belongings to bury me. This is not the first time I have attempted suicide. I have failed in it, as I have failed in everything else I have tried to do, but I hope that this time I will succeed."

The body was removed to the Bresee morgue, where the Coroner will hold an inquest.

[illegible] stop for the Stockton team in the California Winter League and is one of the youngest baseball players in Southern California. He has been the recipient of tempting offers from major league managers to become a member of their respective clubs.

Shaefer is but eighteen years of age, and had made up his mind to return to his alma mater next Monday. He returned from San José Saturday morning where he had just completed arrangements by which he was to play shortstop for the Santa Clara College nine and since that time he has received an offer from Roger Bresnahan of the St. Louis nationals, also one from Connie Mack of Phillies team. He has had two standing offers lying at his feet, one from Manager McGraw of New York and Lake of Boston Red Sox.

Mack was on the coast last season and saw Shaefer work at Santa Clara, liked the youngster's form and immediately sent him a contract. Jake Stahl of the Boston Americans saw Shaefer in action at Pasadena some time ago and was favorably impressed by his actions on the diamond. A few days later a contract from Manager Lake of the Boston team was received by Shaefer. It was pretty well known

Too Weak to Fire Pistol He Aimed at Girl.

Pleaded in Vain for Renewal of Engagement.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PUEBLO (Colo.) Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Crazed by mad infatuation for Miss Mary Robertson of No. 2011 Spruce street, Julius Earl Herring took poison, and, going to the home of the girl with the intention of shooting her, fell dead at her feet, becoming too weak from the effects of the poison to fire the pistol, which he vainly attempted to aim at the girl, who had broken her engagement to marry him.

Friday, Miss Robertson told Herring that she no longer loved him and would not marry him. All day Saturday the young man pleaded with her to renew the engagement. During Sunday and Sunday evening, he was also in her company and when he left the Robertson residence last night he had apparently become reconciled to the engagement being broken.

BOY THIEF HAS ADVENTURES.

Nearly Drowns While Attempting Flight on Raft, Then Goes to Jail.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

COLUSA, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Fred Retvold, 16 years old, who was sent here from San Francisco recently by Washington Dodge, to work on the Dodge & Burt ranch, near Princeton, this county, is in jail on the charge of being seen in the home of Burt during the absence of the latter, who had come to Colusa Saturday, accompanied by Mrs. Burt. He admits taking $50 from a trunk.

After stealing the money, the boy tried to escape by building a raft on which to ferry himself several miles across the overflowed area west of Princeton. A heavy wind was blowing and after proceeding some distance his raft was wrecked, not enough remaining to support him. He was nearly drowned before he succeeded in reaching dry ground. He then came here and was arrested.

Retvold says he stole the money to pay his fare back to his mother's home in Iowa, because he was homesick.

MURDER SUSPECT CAPTURED.

Man Sought as Slayer of Two Families Caught by Writing to Brother.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MUSCATINE (Iowa) Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Harry Jones, the alleged slayer of the Van Winkle family and believed to be the murderer of the Tuman family, who lived near Fairport, was apprehended at Wellington, Kan., today after a thirteen months' search. A clew to Jones's whereabouts was obtained from the postmaster at Alton, Tenn., where a brother of the suspected slayer resides.

A specimen of the handwriting of Jones was sent to the postmaster at Alton and when a letter from Jones to his brother entered the postoffice, Sheriff Benham of this city was notified. It was found that the man was located at Wellington, and he was arrested today by Benham. Requisition papers already have been issued and the suspect will be brought back at once.

On account of the brutal manner in which the Van Winkle and Tuman murders were committed and the fact that all the victims were killed with a club and an ax it is suspected that Jones was guilty of both.

GREAT SUCCESS.

AUTO SALON OPENS ANEW.

Hamburger Building Exhibit Delights Motorists

Stoddard-Dayton Captures Share of Attention.

Tourist Display Is One of Many Attractions.

Fair weather favored the automobile show yesterday, and thousands availed themselves of the opportunity to see the exhibit at greater leisure. Many who attended the opening Saturday night came back yesterday to enjoy a longer look at the stylish motor cars dressed in their best.

Among the interested patrons of the show are the Hamburger brothers, who arranged conveniences for the exhibit to be held in their great department store. The main entrance to the auto show is the main entrance to the big store. Mose Hamburger has given the committee every opportunity to build a show that will be an attraction. He has made it easy for the men in charge of the exhibit to present the show in an attractive manner.

There is much to see even for the casual observer. Care has been taken to group the cars in such a manner that they form something more than an exhibition of late models, such as may be seen almost any day on the street. The arrangement of the show is pleasing. Engines are kept running and the oiling system can be watched. There is not an automobile part which cannot be examined carefully and at leisure in the great showroom.

From one booth to the other the visitor goes seeing new wonders. That whirring sound in the engine is explained at the Studebaker space, where a complete Bosch magneto system, with magnetic plugs, is kept working, that the "make and break" ignition system can be demonstrated.

THE EXPLOSIONS.

Flashes of electric light, showing how the contact with the gases forms the explosion which gives the power, is exemplified in such a simple manner that the novice may learn in an hour why an automobile moves. This big Studebaker is to be equipped with the system that promises to do away with many engine troubles.

At the Stoddard-Dayton booth the observer can watch a complete oiling system. The person who has often wondered why an engine can keep humming for miles over the roughest of roads, without the operator being obliged ot stop frequently and "oil up" is given an object lesson at the Stoddard booth.

Self-lubrication is explained in an unmechanical way that is not technical. The tiny jets of oil are seen in the glass-inclosed cylinder case, and the engine is kept whirring as the bearings are lubricated. Just how delicate parts are given a bath of oil every fraction of second is shown by an engine in operation, with the parts exposed.

This Stoddard exhibit is one of the show's many special attractions. There is, in addition to the engine, a control system where the gears can be changed, the car can be thrown into the "high," the "low," the "intermediate" or the "reverse" with the hand levers. This is a splendid object lesson in the operation and control of a motor car, as the brake lever can also be manipulated.

HIGHLY POLISHED.

The polished steel chassis, which is displayed by the Stoddard people, is also receiving a large share of attention. The under-carriage of an automobile can be studied carefully without greasing one's fingers. The most uninitiated would know much about a car after looking at this piece of mechanical art.

For years the autoist has desired a car in which he can live. The Auto Vehicle Company's $2000 model diner and sleeper is an attraction which is receiving merited attention. The colored porter was kept busy yesterday arranging the bed, setting the table and showing the dishes. The little gas stove supplied from a gas tank carried in the car on which the autoists cook breakfast, dinner or supper, is a delight to the women. There is a polished bevel glass mirror, and a dainty little dressing table which has won the heart of the chauffeuses.

Though this car is equipped as a continental flyer, it is not clumsy in appearance. It is difficult to distinguish it from any other touring car, unless the interior is examined. The machine can be used for long or short runs, but is especially ideal for a summer outing.

When the curtains are drawn, the effect of the electric lights blinking through the glass gives the car the appearance of a fast sleeper on an overland limited. The tonneau and front seat can be entirely inclosed, making a good-sized room of the inside.

ACCESSORIES.

Ollier & Worthington have the only accessories display at the show. They are exhibiting everything from a glass front to a spark plug. The exhibit is extensive.

Innovations in water bottles, which will keep liquids either hot or cold, as desired, are shown. There are pots, pans and kettles for camping, a metal wheel, tires, auto toggery for the most fastidious, in fact, everything which an up-to-date motorist wants. In the line of luxuries one may fit out a car in palatial style at the Ollier & Worthington booth.

Down the white aisles of the great show room the crowd wandered last night, taking in the minuter details of the great show. That casual glance at the general exhibit taken Saturday night, is being replaced by the special attention of a throng which is learning more about the motor car.

Sales are being made on the floor. The show is being held with a strict eye to business, and the dealers are snapping up every chance to make a sale. One is not bored, however, by the persistent salesman, as such have been squelched, but the visitor is given the opportunity to examine every model on the floor.

Leon T. Shettler holds the record for sales to date. He disposed of three cars yesterday. Dr. Henderson Hayward of the Hayward Hotel bought the first two-cylinder Reo after a three-minute talk. He will take the car just as it is equipped in Shettler's booth. John Swan of San Diego closed a sale for a two-cylinder Reo, and a third two-cylinder Reo was sold during the morning.

One of the popular cars at the show is the Cadillac "Thirty." This handsome little machine is receiving plenty of attention and Don Lee and Lester Patee have been kept busy answering questions.

The locomobile which won the Vanderbilt cup was in the show yesterday, and will be exhibited this week in the locomobile booth. R. J. Leavitt expects to visit the show Friday for an hour. He is recovering from a severe illness and the physician in attendance has promised him his first outing. Leavitt's exhibit is one of the attractions, and crowds yesterday paid homage to the road-scarred veteran which has won so many cups. George Robertson, who drove the car to victory was not able to accompany his pet.

WANT TO RACE.

An effort is being made to pull off a race between the Locomobile and the Stearns. The Stearns exhibit will be in place today, and before the end of the week it is expected that a 100-mile event will be scheduled between the two fast cars.

Norman Church will give a smoker Thursday evening to the show committee and several other special guests. There are a number of factory men and visitors here who will be included on the invitation list of the Stoddard man.

There will be special music today. The show will open this morning at 10 o'clock. Each of the exhibitors have cars on the outside for demonstrations, and prospective buyers are being show how the new models climb Grand avenue and other hills.

One of the features of the exhibit of the White Garage today will be an engine which is run by compressed air. The engine was tried successfully yesterday and will be kept going today.

BIG AUTO SHOW IS MONEY MAKER.

The Automobile Show will be a financial success, according to the manager. He says the Automobile Dealers' Association will get a 75 per cent. return on their investment. Nearly $1000 was cleared on the opening night and the attendance yesterday was large.

That the show might outrival anything of the kind held in the West, the committee has spent money freely. Now that a large part of the outlay will probably be returned, those who have labored so hard to bring the exhibit into being are satisfied.

Special interest is being taken in the exhibit, and the attendance promises to increase as the week grows old. The show is well worth seeing, and thousands are determined to see all there is of it. The cars are the gems of the green and white setting.

Special effort has been made to present the show in an attractive manner. Every part of a motor car is displayed, and the visitor who cares to devote a little time to the business of taking in the entire exhibit can learn many things about a motor car.

HIGH MOGUL COMING.

President Peixotto to Visit St. Vincent's College and Hold Conferences Here.

Sidney S. Peixotto, president of the P.A.A. branch of the Amateur Athletic Union, is to arrive in Los Angeles today, and will go immediately to St. Vincent's College, where he will confer with Manager Walter Casey of the Saints' track team, and the athletic board of control of the Grand avenue institution in regard to entering athletic teams under the guarding wings of the A.A.U.

Steps were taken some time ago to bring this about, but nothing definite could be agreed upon, so Peixotto, who considers St. Vincent's as an important factor in southern college athletics, decided to come South and use his influence to bring this about.

Peixotto, at 7.5 o'clock Wednesday evening, is to take dinner with the Southern California Commission of the P.A.A. at the Y.M.C.A., and at 8 o'clock a meeting is to be held, when plans for the reorganization of the Southern California Commission on seperate planes will be considered.

It is planned to form a Southern California division that will be independent of the Pacific Athletic Association, which, if perfected, will probably be known as the South Pacific Association. Peixotto will remain in the city just long enough to start this work, and will likely return to San Francisco Thursday.

GOVERNOR ACTS QUICKLY.

Removes District Attorney and Orders Race Track Gamblers Prosecuted Relentlessly.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Suburban race track failed to operate today and the races were indefinitely postponed on account of the firm stand taken by Gov. Sanders.

Dist.-Atty. Marrero of Jefferson Parish, where the Suburban track is located, was ousted from the prosecution of the test case by order of Gov. Sanders today and Dist.-Atty. St. Clair Adams of New Orleans was transferred to Judge Edrington's district court. Judge Edrington complied with the Governor's wishes and formally appointed the New Orleans District Attorney to prosecute the case.

When Judge Edrington's court opened today, Dist.-Atty. Adams objected to going to trial on the evidence on hand, alleging that the arrest was a "frame up" or subterfuge. He declared the betting on which the race-track officials sought to test the Locke law was an innocent game, quite different from the bookmaking practiced for a week by bookmakers at the track; that it was "individual," hence it would be useless to try the accused on the charge against them. Mr. Adams asked for a postponement, saying that he wished to make additional arrests so as to probe the bookmaking methods employed while the Suburban track was in operation. Judge Edrington granted Mr. Adams's request over the protests of attorneys representing the Suburban track owners.

DIETRICH IS CLIMBING.

Los Angeles Amateur Marathon Runner Makes Good Time Up Mt. Wilson Trail.

Edward Dietrich, the L.A.A.C. Marathon runner, made a good record for climbing Mt. Wilson Sunday. Although the trail was muddy and slippery and the last three miles covered with snow, he made the trip in 1 hour and 38 minutes, 13 minutes longer than Soldier King's record, which was made under more favorable conditions. Dietrich probably will enter the annual climb on April 15.

Paul Reinwald, who was scheduled to run from Los Angeles to the top of Mt. Wilson on Sunday, got as far as Sierra Madre, where he found something wrong with his shoes and abandoned the climbing part of the trip.

OVER THE BORDER.

MODERN MONTE CARLO ACROSS THE FRONTIER.

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 25.—All San Diego is agog over reports that a Western Monte Carlo is to be built by a syndicate at Tia Juana, across the Mexican border, twenty miles south of here.

Through the aid of influential Mexicans, a long-term lease has been secured on a large tract of land, including the Tia Juana Springs. Architects have been consulted for plans for a number of large buildings, including a mammoth hotel, bath-houses, cottages, a large casino, and race-track buildings.

For the purpose of heading off opposition on the part of the better class of Mexican residents it is said the promoters of the scheme have assured them that it is intended to found a place similar to Saratoga, N. Y.; that the waters of Tia Juana Springs are to be heralded as curative of all evils, and that the project will be the means of attracting wealthy tourists because of the mild winter climate. It is said a concession has even been let for the bottling of the Tia Juana spring water whenever it is found that a sufficient quantity is flowing to fill a bottle.

San Diego residents look upon the announcement in two lights. Those dealing in real estate and who depend upon the influx of eastern money are delighted at the prospect of the scheme being carried out. They think it means the beginning of another boom in prices, not only in the vicinity of the Mexican line, but here as well.

On the other hand a large percentage fear San Diego will be made the headquarters of a vicious element which would tend to throw a damper on the steady demand for homes and other property by the better class of wealthy people who consider the coast an ideal location for winter homes.

According to the best information here, as soon as the death knell of racing in California is sounded by the Legislature, orders will be given architects to draw plans, as a concession from the Mexican government has already been secured, and the lease of sufficient land is held in escrow in this city.

BASKETBALL.

QUAKERS WIN CHAMPIONSHIP.

No Chance for Other Teams to Head Them Off.

U.S.C. Five Plays Desperate Game But Loses.

Whittier Has Defeated All Conference Teams.

Whittier College, 30; U.S.C., 17.

The Whittier College basketball team defeated the University of Southern California five and practically cinched its claim to the conference championship yesterday afternoon, on the University court, by the score of 30 to 17.

The Quakers demonstrated their superior team work and scoring ability early in the first half, and although the 'varsity rallied at times, failure to guard and poor judgment in team work cost U.S.C. the game.

Time and again at critical moments of the struggle the Whittier forwards completely baffled the opposing guards, and with apparent ease worked the double and triple passes.

During the opening period the visitors ran away with their opponents with a dazzling exhibition of team work that netted score after score. Mills at center and Renneker at forward were very expert in shooting baskets, while the Methodist forwards were able to score but three field goals in the entire half, the count being 15 to 6 at the end of the period.

In the last half the 'varsity men played with a desperation that at times swept the Quakers off their feet, and Hall and Colonenus each made difficult baskets, that brought the grandstand to its feet in a frenzy of applause. The advantage was but momentarily maintained, however, for the Quakers, with rare judgment, accurate passing and certainty in eluding their opponents, would raise the score, Crites and Renneker sharing the honors of ringing six additional field goals in as many minutes.

The visitors fouled repeatedly, not intentionally, but through over-aggressiveness, and the contest was quite free from rough tactics or roughhouse playing. The best of feeling prevailed among the contestants, and the game on the whole was the best played on the university court this year.

Renneker, Mills and Crites were the most capable players on the Whittier team, and were responsible for the baskets, while Todd at guard was especially effective in blocking the Methodist forwards.

For the 'Varsity, Hall, Henderson and Hatch were the most prominent. Colonenus, although scoring half of the field goals, was decidedly off color, and at times utterly failed to cover his opponent. Both Colonenus and Hall passed a number of apparently easy baskets, and the erratic habit of carelessly guarding attributed greatly to the defeat of the team.

Tomorrow afternoon the Methodists meet Pomona in the second game of the Claremontars this season, either by winning yesterday's game specifically assured the championship, and Pomona is second at this

The lineup yesterday was as follows:

Whittier College		U.S.C.
Hall	forward	Hall
Gower (c)	forward	Carroll, Gower
Mills	center	Colonenus (c)
Todd	guard	Henderson
Renneker	guard	Hatch

Summary: Field goals—Renneker, 5; Mills, 4; Todd, 1; Colonenus, 2; Gower, 1. Foul goals—Hall, 3; Colonenus, 1. Points scored—To Whittier, 1; to U. S. C., 1. Fouls committed—By Whittier, 16; by U. S. C., 5; Referee—Reynolds of Y. M. C. A.; Umpire—Perry, of Whittier.

BOXING.

MANAGER STEPS INTO THE FRAY.

HANKINS WILL NOT ALLOW HIS MAN TO FIGHT.

Dick Hyland Withdraws from Match With Lew Powell and Kid Harrison Is Substituted — Rearranged Bill Still Includes Jimmy Walsh and Jimmie Reagan.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] At last the full card at Carlo Lercari's Friday night fights has been decided upon. The spaghetti master has positively discontinued eating, and the programme will stand. This is the layout:

Kid Harrison and Lew Powell, for ten rounds.

Jimmie Reagan and Jimmie Walsh, fifteen rounds.

Harry Mustain and Ollie Cornett, for ten rounds.

Though the city has been placarded with posters announcing that Hyland and Powell will meet, Hyland is not on the card. His manager, Jack Perry, declares that Lercari made the match without consulting him and that he did not give Hyland a chance to say anything in regard to the referee. Perry said that while he was sorry Lercari, who was stalled till the last moment for a match, he was not willing to let his fighter do the boy-scout act just to help Lercari out.

Kid Harrison, who takes the place vacated by Hyland, is a promising boxer and it is a question as to whether or not Powell has struck a better mut than Hyland. Harrison certainly has the punch, is game, and can stand punishment.

HAS THE PUNCH.

DEMSIC CARRIES KICK.

Eddie Welsh has had such an easy time beating the boys he has met that he may overlook the fact that Memsic has the punch and if he lands it will be all day with the English champion. The only concern which the ones in charge have had is the point of the weight of Memsic at the weight—133 pounds. It is demonstrated that he is a natural lightweight there will be many who will play the short end in case Welsh is a top-heavy favorite.

Welsh is keeping up his training at the Vernon and is trying to get into the best possible form for he does not underestimate the abilities of the Bohemian. Welsh always keeps himself in readiness to make the lightweight limit, but for this fight he is more careful than ever not to get too fine.

PINCHUS PINCHES JEFF INTO ACTION.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Jeffries has declared himself. He has made the statement to his theatrical manager, Ralph Pinchus, that he will meet Johnson at the wind-up of the theatrical engagement. This is of course conditional to his being in proper shape, but the big chap and his friends are confident that he will be himself in a couple of months.

Jeff is still non-committal himself but he has been talking nothing but fight to his intimate friends and to his present manager. Next week he will get down to hard work and commence to extend himself to get rid of the superfluous flesh he has been carrying.

Now that the big fellow has the fight idea he will probably be as stubborn in his determination to fight as he was in his determination to cut it out. All indications point that Jeff will meet Johnson before the promoter who offers the best money before many months.

len and Hoosier Kid. He weighed under the 135 mark and seemed satisfied with the progress he has made so far in his training.

Hobo Dougherty has decided not to go to Hot Springs with Ad Wolgast, but will remain in Los Angeles and keep up his training for his go with Frankie Sullivan, which will be put on as the semi-windup for the Memsic-Welsh fight.

Five four-round bouts will round out a programme which promises to be full of life.

Billy Papke has asked Manager McCarey to cancel the date with Jim Flynn for March 17. The ex-middleweight champion says he is getting back in shape, but that when he comes to California he prefers to meet either Ketchel or Kelly and that he will give the Pacific Athletic Club the first chance to pull off one of these contests.

Sailor Beats Kid Texas.

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charles Fox, sailor champion of the torpedo fleet, won a fifteen-round bout with Kid Texas at Coronado yesterday. The fight was pulled off in private, the sailors putting up a $200 bet, which was covered by friends of Kid Texas. The sailor won the decision by outpointing his opponent. He had Kid Texas almost out when the fight ended.

Welsh as Referee.

Two three-round bouts of boxing furnished part of the programme at the Sons of St. George smoker last night. Lane beat Miller and Gordon beat Tracy, and the crowd witnessed some clever boxing. What interested the Britishers most, though, was the fact that their own idol, Freddie Welsh, refereed the events.

Jimmy Gardner Wins.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Jimmy Gardner of Lowell, Mass., tonight knocked out Harry Mansfield of England in the first round of the wind-up at the Washington Sporting Club. The Englishman was out for nearly two minutes.

Harvey and Green.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charles Harvey was not in condition to go on tonight for his bout with Young McGovern at John O'Brien's club, and Benny Green, a local boy, who took his place, fought six good rounds to a draw.

Turns the Tables.

WHITE PLAINS (N. Y.) Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Jack Ten Brook, heavyweight, of California, and Jack McVey, champion heavyweight of New Jersey, were the principals in a star bout of the Olympia Athletic Club here tonight. They were scheduled to go ten rounds. Ten Brook was too clever for his opponent and had everything pretty much his own way until the middle of the seventh round, when in a fierce mix-up McVey knocked him out with a right-hand uppercut to the jaw.

BASEBALL.

M'GRAW SIGNS COAST AMATEUR.

ART SHAEFER TO GO TO GIANTS FOR THE SEASON.

One of the Youngest College Players on the Coast to Become Professional This Season—Now Playing With Hoegee Team in Los Angeles—To Play Tomorrow.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Manager McGraw announced today that he had signed for the Giants A. J. Shaefer, a young California college player, who last season made a great record with the Santa Clara College team.

Shaefer was, by a big percentatge, the best amateur player on the coast. He had a batting average of nearly .500 per cent. for the season.

HAS A RECORD.

YOUNGSTER IS GOOD ONE.

Arthur J. Shaefer is playing shortstop for the Hoegee team in the California Winter League and is one of the youngest baseball players in Southern California. He has been the recipient of tempting offers from major league managers to become a member of their respective clubs.

Shaefer is but eighteen years of age, and had made up his mind to return to his alma mater next Monday. He returned from San José Saturday morning where he had just completed arrangements by which he was to play shortstop for the Santa Clara College nine and since that time he has received an offer from Roger Bresnahan of the St. Louis nationals, also one from Connie Mack of Phillies team. He has had two standing offers lying at his feet, one from Manager McGraw of New York and Lake of Boston Red Sox.

Mack was on the coast last season and saw Shaefer work at Santa Clara, liked the youngster's form and immediately sent him a contract. Jake Stahl of the Boston Americans saw Shaefer in action at Pasadena some time ago and was favorably impressed by his actions on the diamond. A few days later a contract from Manager Lake of the Boston team was received by Shaefer. It was pretty well known that the lad would join his old team mate of the Hoegee team, Fred Snodgrass, and Shaefer will wear a New York National's uniform next season.

ALL-STAR GAME.

The St. Vincent's College varsity baseball team is to meet an All-Star aggregation at Chutes Park tomorrow afternoon. The Saints are out to get all the practice that is coming to them before their collegiate games commence about the middle of next month. Manager Stoney made the final arrangements with Fred Snodgrass of the Hoegee team of the California Winter League late last evening.

Many big leaguers of prominence will be seen in the All-Stars line-up and this game looks to the students of St. Vincent's as though it would be a warm one. Kid Mohler, captain of the San Francisco team, will be at second; Art Shaefer, who has signed with the Giants will cover the ground at shortstop; Gilfillan of Stanford University will alternate with Phillips of the Southern State League in the pitchers' box.

This will be a busy week for the Saints, as Manager Stoney Means to send his team against the Polytechnic High School lads Thursday afternoon, and Halbriter's Los Angeles High School nine Saturday. All games are scheduled to be played at Chutes Park.

Capt. Ybarrando of the St. Vincent's team surprised his team-mates yesterday afternoon when he appeared on the campus. The doughty Saint remarked that it took more than a sprained wrist to keep him out of the game. Ybarrando's presence helped a great deal to ginger up the team, which held an exceedingly snappy practice.

Coach McCay of the Saints' varsity will see that his players are good hitters this season. He is to have batting cages constructed for the men, and batting practice will be held each day at noon during the remainder of the season. So far the Grand-avenue men have not connected well with the sphere with the exception of Shute, Ybarrando and Gerald Kennedy, and McCay says that before his team meets the northern universities all must hit the ball with accuracy.

The St. Vincent's-All-Star teams will line-up as follows:

All-Stars.		St. Vincent's.
Snodgrass	catcher	O'Connor
Phillips	pitcher	Buckles
Gilfillan
Wilkenson	first base	Workman
Mohler	second base	Shute
Shaefer	shortstop	Ybarrando

Umpire—Pat Fitzwilliams.

Last Basketball Game.

Polytechnic High School will close its basketball schedule Wednesday afternoon on the local court in a game with Long Beach High School. This will be the boys' last game with the exception of the protested Whittier contest.

Giants and Riveras.

The Los Angeles Giants and Riveras are to play a game of baseball Sunday afternoon at Joy Park, beginning at 2:30 o'clock. The Riveras were the victors in the last contest, but the Giants' pitcher, Bud Clark, is in form again, and the game should be closely contested. Briswalter is to pick for the Riveras, and Red Taylor will umpire.

GOOD BOWLING SCORE.

TWICE FIGHTS FIRE.

Shoemaker Puts First Blaze Out, But Second Scorches Him and Burns Buildings.

James McNamara, a shoemaker, of No. 214½ East Eighth street, was painfully burned last night in a fire which destroyed his shop and a portion of the Sierra boarding stables, adjoining.

McNamara, who is 64 years of age and a cripple, turned over a lamp in his shop early in the evening. He stamped out the flames and threw the lamp into the street.

Later he left the place. When he returned he stumbled against an oil stove which he had left burning. The stove overturned and exploded, setting fire to the building. The old man made a heroic effort to put out the blaze and was severely burned about the hands and arms. He was rescued by neighbors and sent to the Receiving Hospital for treatment.

The flames spread to the stable, burning the west side and destroying a number of wagons belonging to the Diamond laundry. The horses were saved by the stablemen.

FOOTBALL.

CHOOSING MEN FOR FIFTEEN.

Three High School Players to Be on Team.

Australian Wallabies to Be Here Next Week.

Tom Higgins Hustling Team Into Condition.

The All-Southern California Rugby football team is being selected by Tom Higgins from the High School Rugby teams, and the Castaways, to meet the Australian Wallabies, who have just completed a tour of the British Isles.

Three High School boys, who played star games on their teams last season are sure of their positions and will help make the backbone of the Southern California team.

"Monk" Pierce of Polytechnic High is to be placed at fullback, Blakemore of Pomona High is sure of his position at forward, and Best of Redlands High is slated for wing three-quarters. These men are getting into good condition at their respective schools. A large squad of other school players are practicing each day and some of the best of these may also make the team.

Tom Higgins said last night that he expects the back-field to be the strongest, excepting the All-American team, of any in the West. Pat Higgins and Best have both made the 100-yard dash in 10 seconds flat, and will make an excellent pair on the offensive, being quick and able to find holes easily.

Roy Edwards and Tom Higgins are both old players and understand the game. Edwards is a sure tackler and the two will be good for defensive work and should be able to do well in stopping their opponents. Higgins is expecting much of "Monk" Pierce at full. He said last night: "I have watched Pierce play during the last season and think that he is the best High School fullback in Southern California."

E. R. Lewis is the only member of the Castaways to be chosen besides Tom and Pat Higgins. He plays at halfback and has been on several teams in England. Last year he made an excellent record with the Castaways and is exceptionally strong in taking the ball from the scrum. Much difficulty is being experienced in finding a partner to work with him, but it is expected that Ned Manning of Polytechnic High School will be chosen for this place. Manning is a fast and aggressive player and with Lewis should make the halfback positions exceptionally strong. Higgins intends to select the rest of the members of the team and get into training as soon as possible.

MARKED HONOR.

Pat Higgins received a telegram yesterday from San Francisco informing him that he had been chosen for the All-California team that will meet the Wallabies after they leave Los Angeles. Higgins is the only Southern California player to be chosen for this team, and will probably go north with the Australian squad when it leaves here.

The Wallabies are the pick of the Australian Rugby players that are on a tour of the world, making matches in every country that supports a Rugby team. They have just finished a series of contests in England, the home of Rugby, and won 75 per cent. of the games with these crack teams.

In a letter to Thomas Higgins, James McMahon, who is managing the Wallabies, says that his team will come to Los Angeles as soon as possible after arriving in New York, making no stops in the East. They sailed from England last Saturday and are due to arrive in New York on the coming Saturday. According to this schedule they should reach Los Angeles about the 5th or 6th of February, and the contest here will probably be played at Fiesta Park on Saturday, Feb. 6.

From here they will go to San Francisco, where they have scheduled three games with the All-California and other teams of that vicinity. From San Francisco they will go to Vancouver, where they are to play another series. They are to sail for Australia on February 25, on the final lap of their world-girdling trip.

C. P. Hurditch, late captain of the All-California cricket team, who is traveling in England, has seen the Wallabies play, and thinks that they are the best aggregation of Rugby players in the world. In a letetr he writes: "I have seen the Wallabies in some of their games, and they can beat any team here. Their passing is great; being low and swift."

ENCOURAGING.

CROP OUTLOOK VERY BRIGHT.

HEAVY RAINS DO GREAT GOOD, VERY LITTLE HARM.

Agriculturists Near Hanford Already Feel Prosperous—Growers Try Many Methods of Disposing of Raisins Profitably—Kings County to Boost Unitedly.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

HANFORD, Jan. 24.—The total rainfall for the winter to date is 5.77 inches, much in excess of last year's total at this time. The prospects for abundant crops of every description were never brighter, whereas only two weeks ago the agriculturists were apprehensive of a drouth.

Kings River was out on the levees several days, last week, during the high water which resulted from the melting of the snow in the mountains by the warm rains, but aside from the washing out of one of the headgates of the People's Ditch Company, northeast of Hanford, no damage resulted. The embankments had all been carefully inspected, strengthened and in some places heightened during the summer months, and easily withstood the onslaught of the flood waters. Another thing which lessened the danger this year was the cleaning out of the river channel under the direction of the reclamation districts bordering on the stream. The levees were carefully patrolled during the high water, both day and night, but no breaks occurred.

During the flood season considerable damage is generally suffered at the mouth of the river, but this year the thrifty farmers put all the water to good use in irrigating the vast fields that have been sown to grain in the lower Kings River region. The moisture was diverted from the stream on to the land by means of private levees. One rancher, who has extensive acreage sown to grain in the delta country, stated that he would take every bit of water he could possibly obtain, even if the overflow should cover his land to a depth of five feet.

The failure of the Fairweather raisin pool has left growers in a predicament, and many are the plans being advocated for the disposal of the 1908 crop and the 1907 hold-over. Many growers are determined that they will not be burdened with a hold-over next year, and are selling to the packers at ridiculously low prices, as compared with those obtained last year. Several of the larger growers have shipped their goods to eastern markets and report sales at fair figures, but this course is out of the question with those whose crops amount to only a few tons. Some, not content to let their raisins go at the figure offered by the packers, are having them prepared for market by the packing establishments and shipping them on consignment.

The plan of George Ritchie, a young Kings county man who owns a fine vineyard near Grangeville, is the most novel and, from all appearances, the most successful. Five tons of raisins grown on his place were shipped to Sacramento and dumped in two big show windows of a store. These raisins had not even been stemmed. They were offered for sale at 5 cents a pound in any quantity desired, and were gone in three days. Mr. Ritchie, last Friday, shipped thirty tons more to Sacramento, to be disposed of in the same manner.

BOOSTERS UNITED.

The Kings County Chamber of Commerce is now situated in its well-appointed headquarters in the Artesia Hotel building, and Secretary N. C. Blanchard and the board of directors are rounding out plans to bring homeseekers to this county in large numbers. The directors of the county organization met with both the Lemoore and Corcoran boards of trade, and at these conferences it became evident that the boosters of all sections of the county are to work unitedly.

John B. Rogers, chief engineer of the Ocean Shore and San Joaquin Valley and Western railways, together with D. O. Howard and F. Howard, Jr., two New York capitalists, were here Saturday for the purpose of gathering data on production and to study conditions in this city and county. They are considering the extension of a line through the Pinoche Pass into the San Joaquin Valley, touching Coalinga, Fresno, Hanford and other valley cities. It would give a short outlet to the Coast and has long been desired.

The discord which has existed in the ranks of Co. M, Second Infantry, of this city, following the presentation of a petition for the resignation of Capt. Benjamin M. Heath, will be kept in the background until after the annual inspection by Col. Wilhelm on February 10. It at first appeared that the controversy could end only in the disbandment of the company. The signers of the petition gave as their principal grievance that, on the return trip from Camp Atascadero, Capt. Heath issued an order that the men should not leave the coaches at San José, as it had been noted that several of them had been indulging in liquor. This case was cited as showing that Heath had lost confidence in his men. It was also mildly charged that he favored his friends in the company too much.

The captain's supporters say that the petitioners had no grievance, but had been stirred to revolt by a personal dislike of the commanding officer and a desire to place in command Second Lieut. Roy Jewel.

Capt. Heath has forwarded his resignation to Adjt.-Gen. Lauck, but will remain with the company until after the annual inspection.

WANT QUESTION REOPENED.

FRESNO, Jan. 24.—The Chamber of Commerce is cooperating with the San Joaquin Grape Growers' Association in requesting Congressman Needham to secure a reopening of the tariff hearing on Almeria grapes.

The growers in this section declare that no notice was given them of the hearing on the tariff on Almeria grapes and consequently they had no opportunity to defend themselves. They say the removal of the tariff was secured through misrepresentations.

THE OIL INDUSTRY.

WHAT MEXICO HAS PRODUCED.

Two and a Half Million Are Sold Annually.

Mexican Petroleum Has More Than This Yearly.

National Railroad Will Be Burning Oil.

A recently published statement as to Mexico's oil production is disputed by E. L. Doheny, president of the Mexican Petroleum, who says that his company sold over 2,500,000 barrels in a year, besides what is consumed in its own boilers. Sales include the Mexican Central's fuel, and the amount made into asphalt at the refinery at Ebano. The Central will soon run oil engines into El Paso. The railroad officials says that 3.15 barrels do the work of a ton of the best coal.

The Mexican National is making some tests and will soon be ready to burn oil. The Mexican Petroleum's contract with the Central is taken over by the Merger Company, which controls both lines, and will apply to the National's fuel, as well as to the Central's.

While there are no figures as to Pearson's production at hand, it is safe to say that Mexico's output was considerably above 2,000,000 barrels in 1908.

Surveys are being made and rights of way acquired for the pipe line from the Gulf fields to Mexico City. It is settled that it will be built.

The great well that came in at Ebano on the 2nd inst. is still flowing. Its average by actual measurements at the gauge tanks is about 10,000 barrels every twenty-four hours. It shows no signs of letting up. The oil is 12.5 as it comes from the well. This variety in California needs the most powerful pumps known to raise it. The well is somewhat less than 2000 feet deep, development ranging from 1000 to 2000 feet. The last gusher is between two other flowing wells. One big spouter has flowed for fifty-eight months steadily, and has yielded 3,000,000 barrels.

The big Pearsons well is a "dead one," so far as oil is concerned. It is but a hundred feet from the Mexican Petroleum's Huasteca property line, and it is quite certain that the stories of any one being killed by the gas are untrue.

The Mexican Petroleum stockholders' annual meeting was held last week and the old directors were reelected and will organize and chose officers on Wednesday. The board is as follows: E. L. Doheny, C. A. Canfield, E. P. Stimson, C. E. Harwood, C. Leonhardt, Asa F. Maginnis, C. W. Smith, Norman Bridge and W. G. Kerckhoff. Secretary Bennett will go to Mexico February 1, to check accounts at Ebano.

Cresceus Stock Sold.

John Conley has sold to Al McPherson of Oakland his one-eighth stock interest in the Cresceus at Midway for $120,000. The other owners were offered the same terms and declined.

Buys Sunset Property.

M. Drysdale of San Francisco, who recently bought the Minnehaha at Kern River, is reported to have bought or to be negotiating for the eighty acres of the Live Stock Oil Company, on the west of the northwest quarter of 34 at Sunset, with its seven producing wells and pipe line to the railroad. This is 600 to 700-foot ground.

Santa Marians in Midway.

The Brookshire Oil Company of Santa Maria has put up four rigs on 24-31-22, Midway, north of the Midway Crude and beyond the proven belt. The Majestic, a new company of Santa Maria people, has located on the west half of 23-31-22. This concern's officers and directors are: M. C. Twitchell, president; J. H. McNeil, vice-president; C. W. Cox, Frank M. Smith, secretary; Thomas Boyd, A. Rhegetti and S. A. Johnson. Another company of Santa Marians is also expected to locate in this vicinity. S. A. Johnson, formerly of Bakersfield and now of Santa Maria, is managing these deals.

Santa Fe's Operations.

The Santa Fé has found a second well on section 17 at 1500 feet. The first is at 900. Seven or eight sidings are being laid at the railroad terminus on section 20. The Santa Fé is getting ready to pump its wells on 24, adjoining the Talara. Seventy-five thousand dollars will be spent on the camp on section 6. Nearly 1100 feet have been drilled with the rotary on 17. Another rotary is to go in on 24. Three 20,000-barrel tanks for shipping are being erected on sections 8 and 9, and shipping is expected to begin soon from the railroad wells.

West Side Field Notes.

The Midway Crude on 31 has just been perforated and the oil rose 1000 feet in the hole.

The Regal on the northwest quarter of 14-32-22, is down 600 feet, with ten-inch pipe. L. A. Crandall, on north half of 21-31-22, is down 750 feet. J. M. McLeod has two rigs on the south half of 28-31-22. The Leland is down 250 feet on the southwest of 14. The Rico Oil Company is down about 700 feet on the east half of the northeast of 25-32-22.

The Mascot has three wells in the sand, but progress is slow on account of the continual water shortage. This company is dealing with the Stratton company.

The Standard's second well on the Talara, now known as the Jameson lease has come in and is declared to be a daisy.

On section 6, Sunset, on the flat, the Le Blanc is down 1000 feet on the northwest quarter, the Essex 875 feet on the northeast.

Besides the Union's four rigs on 35, it has material on the ground for two more.

Deep Well at Kern River.

The Santa Fé is making little progress on its deep well on section 3 at Kern River, according to what news leaks out. It has been tied up with a fishing job for some time at 2200 feet. It has no second stratum yet.

Officers Chosen.

The Acme Oil and Development Company at its recent annual meeting in this city, elected the following officers: Frank H. Randall, president; C. A. Rockwell, vice-president; Ben Williams, treasurer; R. F. Simoneau, secretary and assistant treasurer.

Oil Men's Movements.

S. A. Johnson of Santa Maria came down yesterday from Bakersfield, where he has been locating lands in Midway.

Charles Dennis of the Dennis-Gordon Company, has just returned from Midway.

S. L. Doheny and C. A. Canfield have just returned from Ebano, Mex.

SINGULARLY FREE.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

FRESNO, Jan. 24.—Though the northern part of the San Joaquin has been seriously menaced by floods, the territory about Fresno and Fresno county has been singularly free from any depredations of this nature. The last two storms have made the rainfall in this county exceedingly heavy, but in no part is any damage reported. On the other hand, the heavy downpour has been exceedingly beneficial.

Traffic on the Southern Pacific has been resumed.

The St. John's and Kings rivers near Visalia and Porterville have risen to their highest point this season, but the effective work done during the last storm has prevented a repetition of floods.

But for the fact that several canals surround this city, thus carrying away the overflow from Dry Creek and Fancher Creek, it is highly probable Fresno, too, would have suffered from the floods. These two creeks have overflowed in several places, but the water fortunately went into the canals and was carried away from the city instead of coming into it, as it otherwise would have done. Beyond a few inches of water in one or two basements in the business section, no damage has been reported.

WAGES OF SIN.

MURDERER DIES TO BEAT ROPE.

SLAYER OF POLICEMAN EXPIRES IN TERRIBLE AGONY.

For Weeks After His Attempt at Suicide Meskil Lay Hoping for Death to End Suffering Due to Tuberculosis of the Spine—Boasted of His Desperate Deeds.

Daniel F. Meskil, the murderer of Patrolman Patrick Lyons, died at the San Quentin penitentiary yesterday from injuries sustained while attempting suicide several weeks ago.

Meskil died in the most terrible agony. He was only a wreck of his former self. He cheated the gallows of a victim, but his death was more hideous than any ever provided by law.

Meskil ended his career of outlawry in Los Angeles. He arrived here in October, 1907. The day after his arrival he dropped his revolver and the bullet tore through the fore finger of his left hand. The injury was attended by Dr. Bonyge at the Receiving Hospital, Meskil then going under the alias of Mitchell. The crook was too irritable to have the injury dressed and he ordered a surgeon to cut his finger off.

He then planned a series of highway robberies. While robbing a winery on Central avenue, in November, 1907, he was interrupted by Patrolman Patrick Lyons. Meskil was too quick for the officer and compelled him to throw up his hands.

Lyons held up his hands, clutching his own revolver in one. When Meskil ordered a pedestrian to search the officer and failed to find the weapon he shot Lyons in the eye, killing him instantly.

A search of the city followed the escape of the bandit. He was cornered in a poolroom on Central avenue three days later by Patrolman Connelly. Connelly sprang upon Meskil, who tried to kill him with his revolver. The men rolled about on the floor until Meskil had been beaten into submission.

At the station the bandit bragged of his crimes and gave the names of officers he had marked for slaughter. He was found guilty of murder and sentenced to be hanged. His case was appealed and Meskil was granted a delay.

Penitentiary life did not agree with him and, with his usual viciousness, he dove head first from the third tier of cells to the paving below. So terribly was he injured that his right leg was amputated.

From that time until the hour of his death his agony was so intense that he was kept under the influence of opiates most of the time.

Death resulted from tuberculosis of the spine.

THE MARKETS.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Washouts on all of the lines running into Los Angeles from the North, caused a lightening of prices and higher figures in many fruits and vegetables. Those chiefly affected are potatoes and onions. Lompoc, one of the nearer fields for both of these products, is entirely inaccessible, and it will be three or four days, until the roadbeds are sufficiently repaired to allow traffic, before supplies from Burbanks, as a result, were boosted to 2c per pound. Lompoc stock, Lompoc Gems and Brown onions were also in advance to a top price of 2.25. Salinas spuds are selling at 2c per pound. Onions are up approximately. Shipping of vegetables is very light. Lighter varieties, lettuce, cauliflower, celery and others North, that have stopped on the same account. Local receipts of these have been very light and, as a result, prices were up a little on most green truck. Cauliflower sold at 2c per pound, an advance of from 15 to 30 cents. Much of the lettuce arriving is damaged by rain and already showed signs of rot. First-class stock sold up to 1.50 a crate.

Cucumbers sold at 1.50 per crate, at 24 cents a dozen. They moved very well on the street and were held up from 24 cents. There were some excellent local arrivals, and the market continues firm. Express receipts reported were 187 cases. The few storage selects that remain sold at 1.75 per jug at 3½ cents. There were no eastern eggs received.

Butter was firm and unchanged. Arrivals were not heavy for the two days. A little eastern butter is coming in and some was offered on the street at 32 cents a pound. Northern fresh cheese was in good demand, with lower prices that have gone into effect. Some dealers are selling Eastern cheese as low as 15 cents a pound. Eastern cheese is firm.

Limes began are selling lower by 25 cents a hundred. The demand for them has not been very active for some time past. Black eyes on the other hand have gone up 50 cents. There were not as many black eyes arrived this year as last.

Despite the stiff prices prevailing on citrus fruit in the past few days, there was a good demand for oranges, lemons and tangerines. Arrivals were very small and there were many rumors regarding damage of the fruit by the chards by the frosts of the last two or three nights. Fancy navels sold at an average of 2.25, while there were a few dealers asking as much as 2.50 a box. There were no Valencias on the market yesterday morning and few are expected any more.

Fish were again obtainable, but not in nearly the necessary quantities to supply the market. Lobsters were plentiful and there were few crabs on hand, arriving here from San Diego. There were plenty ducks and wild geese on hand.

Wong Wing, arrested on the charge of being illegally in this country, proved to the satisfaction of the immigration officers yesterday that he lost his certificate in the San Francisco fire. He told the officers that he was born in Washington, D. C., and a dispatch sent to the proper authorities there proved the truth of the Chinaman's statement.

What is it keeps hard times down?
What makes the wheels of progress go?
What makes the factory whistles blow?

PRECIPICE YAWNS FOR AUTOISTS.

THEIR CAR WRECKED ON STEEP SOLEDAD GRADE.

Chauffeur Loses Control and Outer Wheels Swing Out Over Chasm. Incident of Journey to Owens River Valley in Search of Land—Women in Party.

After having faced death in a motor car on the most perilous part of the Soledad grade, George F. Brown, Mrs. Brown and a party of autoists, returned from the Owens River Valley, last night, almost exhausted. While climbing the Soledad grade their seven-passenger machine was wrecked, and the lives of the entire party were imperiled. The car hung on the edge of a precipice in imminent danger of rolling into the cañon, hundreds of feet below.

The accident happened at midnight. A rock in the road caused the driver to lose control of the wheel for a moment, and the hood of the machine crashed into a tree. Then the car swung around until the outer wheels hung over the edge of the chasm. It was abandoned and the passengers walked seven miles to Acton.

The party included, beside, Mr. and Mrs. Jones, W. C. Clayborn, John H. Eversmeyer, E. C. Perry, C. B. Walker and E. E. Blackwell. They left The Times office Saturday morning for Independence, but had to wait at Acton for another car. Three automobiles were used on the trip.

Mud-covered and tired out, the travelers reached Los Angeles with thankfulness. The roads are wretched and in places, almost impassable.

Nearly a week ago the party started in search of government land. They expected to return on Tuesday. When they did not do so anxious friends made inquiries, but did not learn of the whereabouts of the autoists until Thursday.

JAPAN'S POLICY PEACE.

Statesmen Give Reasons for Reduction of Armaments as Being Fully Warranted.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

TOKIO, Jan. 25.—Premier Katsura, Premier Foreign Minister Komura and War Minister Terauchi made brief speeches today before the Diet in answer to the reduction in armaments and foreign policy questions that have been propounded to various members of the Cabinet. All speeches, which were practically of the same tenor, said that Japan's relations with the powers of the world were so improved that the proposed reductions were fully warranted. Minister Komura is expected soon to make an important speech on the government's emigration policy. Specials to the papers here say there is a general sentiment of regard for Japan in the United States.

Don't Let Prices Persuade You

When you are going to have dental work done, don't let the question of price be the whole matter. In dentistry it's much better, in the long run, to pay a fair and reasonable fee than to pay a price so low that it is utterly impossible for the dentist to give you good materials and lasting work. Indeed, the very first argument that the cheap-price advertiser uses is: "Why, we can, of course, do your dental work at that price, but it's not the class of work you want in YOUR mouth." Such decoy methods of getting you to visit us have never been used.

TERROR.

DRAMATIC STRUGGLE WITH HIGHWAYMAN.

Two Bandits Commit Most Daring Crime of Season Under Bright Lights Few Blocks from Central Police Station and Make Away With Plunder — Wounded Man in Hospital in Serious Condition.

IN a desperate hand-to-hand encounter between one of two highwaymen and their four victims at Second street and Bunker Hill avenue about 8 o'clock last night, the bandit shot his way to liberty, probably fatally wounding Thomas Ryles, a musician, of No. 145 South Bunker Hill. Losing his revolver, he then knocked down E. B. Smith, a solicitor, same address, with his fist, and escaped. The crime was the most daring of the season, committed within three and a half blocks of the Central Police Station, and under bright lights. It was a dramatic struggle, with the odds apparently all on one side, yet the other won. Ryles is in a critical condition.

Thomas Ryles, Perhaps Fatally Wounded.
He was shot in the abdomen while trying to turn a revolver on the bandit. Sketch made in the hospital last night by Coxen.

The shots aroused the neighborhood and a posse of citizens attempted to follow the robber, who ran west on Second street, where he joined his partner, but they soon lost him. His revolver and hat, which were dropped in the struggle, were turned over to the police.

Ryles was carried into his apartment, about a half block away. The bullet had entered the right side of the abdomen, causing severe hemorrhages. As soon as possible he was removed to the Sisters' Hospital, where Dr. Dolley performed an operation. The physician says his recovery is doubtful.

THRILLING BATTLE.

The thrilling struggle occurred after the men had been robbed, and one of the desperadoes had escaped with the loot. The other ordered the men to stand still until he was out of the way. As he turned and ran Ryles sprang on his back, seizing him by the throat, and throwing him to the ground. Smith pinioned the highwayman's arms to his side and shouted to the other two men to call the police.

W. A. Carney, a book-keeper, of No. 142 South Bunker Hill avenue, rushed into the Minnewaska apartments, while L. D. Kiskaddon, of No. 406 Temple street, the fourth victim, ran into a near-by residence and gave the alarm.

The bandit began a hard fight when the two men rushed away to call for help. He used his teeth, hands and feet to free himself, and time and again the three men rolled over and over. Ryles held his throat with one hand and seized the revolver with the other. Smith had a death grip on the bandit's arms.

Two shots were fired by the desperado, but the bullet went between Ryles's legs. When Ryles attempted to turn the weapon upon the robber he was kicked in the abdomen and then shot. Ryles fell backward, and Smith made a grab for the revolver. He knocked the weapon out of the highwayman's hand and then the latter turned upon him with his fist. Knocking Smith down he ran west on Second street. He joined his partner two blocks away and they turned south on Figueroa street. They secured $19.17 and a gold watch and chain from the four men.

PICKING VICTIMS.

W. A. Carney was the first victim. As he came out of the Rowan apartment-house on Bunker Hill avenue he saw two men across the street. When he started toward Second street the two men walked in the same direction. They finally darted in front of him and walked slowly ahead several paces. Suddenly one of them turned and shoving a revolver against Carney, commanded him to back up against the fence. The other hold-up man stepped behind a tree with a revolver in his hand, watching.

While Carney was searched, Ryles came down Second street. When he saw the highwayman going through Carney's pockets, he turned back. The bandit behind the tree stepped out and covered him and commanded him to

NO "RECALL" OF THE LEADERS.

The position of Los Angeles is unchanged and unassailable. She stands at the top. So does The Times. Los Angeles cannot be recalled. Neither can The Times. Both stand pat. Sure, Mike!

Following are the authenticated reports for the month of December, 1908, as to volume of advertising carried by the leading newspapers of the United States. We append the insignificant total of the Evening Express, by way of comparison. It will be seen that the lead of The Times is growing and that the Express is not within hailing distance of the bottom-liner among the leaders:

WOULD "UNMAKE" CITIZEN.

United States Naturalization Attorney Files Suit in Federal Court Against Fresno Man.

From a suit filed in the United States District Court yesterday it appears that the Federal government can "unmake" as well as create new citizens. The petition was filed in behalf of the United States by United States Dist.-Atty. Oscar Lawler and Carlos G. White, special naturalization attorney, against Andrew John Charles Jullian of Fresno. The court is asked to cancel citizenship papers issued to the defendant some time ago, on the ground that he made a fraudulent declaration.

Jullian claimed at the time he applied for naturalization, that he came to this country from France before attaining his majority. It is asserted by the Federal officials that he was only in this country a short time before he secured naturalization. The action is a civil one and the defendant only faces loss of citizenship if the case is proved against him.

CUSTOM CUTTERS FEAST.

First Annual Banquet of Los Angeles Association Held Last Evening. National Body Invited.

Los Angeles Custom Cutters' Association held their first annual banquet at Levy's Café yesterday evening and entertained as their guests the merchant tailors of the city. Officers were installed for the year as follows: P. T. Anderson, president; C. R. Snodgrass, vice-president; O. Caspar, second vice-president; Edwin Hartley, secretary; Charles W. Bunt, treasurer; Henry Mellinkoff, foreman of practical work; Henry A. Beck, H. M. Francis and J. H. Haller, Executive Committee.

M. H. Francis, first president of the organization, was chairman of the banquet, and spoke on the society and its work in Los Angeles. A. K. Brauer delivered a short toast on "The Merchant Tailor," while Ben Gordan discoursed on "The Vanities of the Trade." P. T. Anderson addressed a few remarks on the duties of the new officers. The toastmaster of the evening was Henry A. Beck.

The National Association of Custom Cutters, which will open its annual convention in Toronto, Can., today, was invited by telegraph to meet in Los Angeles next year. In case the invitation is accepted, the local society will begin immediately to make preparations for the event.

REFINEMENT BREAKS LOOSE.

"RECALL" FOR POUNDKEEPER.

Honorary Dog Catcher After His Official Scalp.

Agitation Arises Over the Goat of Stubby.

Refined Way of Dog Snatching Not So Smooth.

Alas, there seems to be no refined nor cultured way of catching stray dogs, after all.

Storm signals have been hoisted at the headquarters of the Humane Animal Association. Internal warfare has broken out among the kind-hearted ladies and gentlemen who recently undertook the duties of dog catcher.

The young gentleman who occupies the position of honorary poundkeeper has violently quarreled with Miss Helen Mathewson, who occupies the position of honorary dog catcher. Each claims the right to boss Tommy Vacher, the former dog catcher, who is now employed by the association to do the actual work of "pisening" the pups.

Miss Mathewson, as a war measure, has started a movement to recall George L. Lawson, the poundkeeper. Mr. Lawson is defiant.

The crisis will take place this afternoon at a special meeting of the board of directors.

Miss Mathewson's attitude of silent wrath and Mr. Lawson's manner of stern resistance indicate that the events will be shocking.

Every one will remember how this association, composed mainly of well-known Los Angeles people, was started when an investigation before the City Council proved that Vacher, the dog catcher, had behaved with marked discourtesy toward stray dogs. This association volunteered to take the work of the dog catcher off the hands of the city.

Dr. W. A. Lamb was at first elected president of the association, but was soon deposed in favor of Miss Mathewson.

THE SPECK.

Lawson became assistant secretary of the association and the poundkeeper by the Mayor's appointment. Together the two officers of the association managed the gathering in of stray dogs, and their humane execution or confinement at the pound, with soulful zeal.

But sometimes it is but a speck in the chauffeur's eye that wrecks the finest automobile.

In this case 'twas Tommy Vacher, the former assistant dog catcher, and, under the new régime, foreman and de facto poundkeeper.

From Lawson, Tommy would get an order to go any do it—whatever it might be. From Miss Mathewson, Tommy would get a peremptory order not to do it. And Tommy all the while feeling the abused pride of a professional dog catcher!.

He is alleged to have finally protested in dismay that he couldn't obey

ILL-FATED LINE.

TRAIN WRECKS CAR, THREE MEN SUFFER.

Wrecked Car in the Mud on Macy Street.

THREE men were painfully injured and Pacific Electric car No. 115, Brooklyn-avenue line, was wrecked in a collision with a Southern Pacific passenger train at the Macy and Alameda street crossing at 6:45 o'clock last night.

With the passengers imprisoned inside of the closed compartment, the street car was thrust from the tracks and turned completely over. For a moment the crash of timber drowned the cries of the victims and, then as the car settled into the mud, the calls for aid became piercing and rescuers hurried to the scene.

A defective brake caused the accident. The Brooklyn-avenue car, inbound, made the dangerous goose-neck curve in safety and was speeding toward the Macy-street crossing, when, according to Motorman J. M. Finley and Conductor W. R. Pierce, the air which had worked perfectly on the grade, refused to respond on the level stretch. The rails, too, were covered with mud and very slippery.

At the crossing, the guard bars had been lowered and red lanterns were swinging. The flagman waved frantically and then jumped to save himself.

Train No. 48, the Pasadena local of the Southern Pacific, was approaching. It consisted only of an engine, a mail car and one passenger coach. Just as the engine passed the crossing, the street car struck the guard bars, demolished them, and hit the last coach of the train.

The shock of collision and the momentum of the train turned the electric over, completely wrecking it.

The victims are James M. McKason, a butcher living at the Pisgah Home, Avenue 64 and Sunset boulevard; Ramon Garcia, a laborer, of No. 2214 Aero street, Edendale, and Carl Anderson of No. 945 Maple avenue. When they had been removed from the wreckage, they were cared for at near-by drug stores. All were cut, bruised and suffering from shock. The car crew escaped without a scratch.

Motorman Finley said: "As we approached the railroad crossing I tried to slow down, but found the car would not respond, although I threw the brake on full force. I then reversed and that blew out the overhead and the car slid forward. I knew then that there was no chance of avoiding the collision and with Carl Anderson, who was standing on the front platform, I stepped inside and closed the compartment.

A wrecking crew was sent to the scene of the accident, but it was more than an hour before the track was cleared.

SNOWBALLS ON STREET.

Deep Cover on Mt. Lowe, and Carload May Be Brought to the City.

With a carload of snow from Mt. Lowe perambulating up and down Main and Spring streets the school children of Los Angeles will have a chance to take part in a regular snowball fight for the first time in their lives.

This is the strange sign set out last evening by the Pacific Electric, which will probably bring the load of snow from Mt. Lowe, where yesterday several parties from this city went coasting with sleds. There is a foot and a half of snow on the mountain.

MEANS MONEY.

WICKER BOUND IS THE RIVER.

WAYWARD SAN GABRIEL MADE STRAIGHT AND TRUE.

Estimated Benefit to the Affected Ranchmen Over One Million Dollars—Makes a Great Change in the Artesia Country—Story of a Long Fight That's Finally Won.

Greatly swollen by the recent rains the San Gabriel River is running docile as a lamb from the Downey country to tidewater. Thousands of acres heretofore menaced by floods are now protected from its encroachment, and those acres may be tilled without interference from the tricky waters.

Brain, brawn and money expended in trying to make the naughty stream behave have resulted in an apparently complete success. Held fast by banks strong and true, and reinforced with willows, the waters now flow seaward with almost mill-pond smoothness.

FARMS EATEN AWAY.

Ever since the time of the early settlers the San Gabriel River where it runs through the Artesia country has been cutting new channels for itself and gradually moving eastward. Twenty-five years ago it ran through a course about five miles west of the present channel. It would fill its shallow bed with sand and then slop over and run in a new course. Then some more land would be devoured by its greedy maw, and after a year or two when there would be no floods, the winter rains would cause it to run further eastward again.

The result of this erratic movement of the stream was untold damage to thousands of acres, much of the land affected being of very good quality, and capable under normal conditions of producing prodigious crops of alfalfa, sugar beets, vegetables and various other produce.

Many once fertile farms along the stream were so washed out and damaged by the flood waters that they were abandoned. In numerous instances houses belonging to these deserted places are still standing on the acres which were deeply furrowed and left in the form of barren masses of sand.

Many other farms were deeply covered with sand so that it was useless to attempt to raise crops on them, so long as the overflow continued. A large number of these places may now be reclaimed.

These were the more spectacular effects of the floods, but by far the greatest damage wrought by the high waters was by the flooding of thousands of acres. When the stream was swollen the waters would spread over a great area, and remain there till so late in the spring that it was almost useless to attempt to till the land that season.

FEUDS—WINCHESTERS.

For years the settlers attempted in a disorganized way to stop the flood from injuring their lands, but in doing so they generally adopted measures which simply sent the stream on its errand of destruction onto a neighbor's place. This aroused bad blood. One rancher, seeing the stream working close to his possession, would at night perhaps chop down a tree and leave it where it would divert the flow onto a neighbor's land. Then the next night the neighbor would do likewise. This would bring the waters back to the man who first tried to drive them away and the resultant ill feeling brought on feuds.

Sometimes neighbors tried to keep the stream away by turning Winchesters on those who would divert it toward them.

ORDER FOLLOWS CHAOS.

The first organized effort at betterment of the chaotic conditions was put forth by the New San Gabriel Improvement Company. This was an incorporated concern composed of business men and ranchers, most of them living or owning property about Artesia.

By private subscription there was raised about $20,000 which was expended through this company. This company in the summer of 1906 constructed a channel from the Santa Ana branch of the Southern Pacific southward to a point about even with Artesia, expecting to continue it all the way to tide water. But this enterprise was overtaken by early floods which were carried nicely as far as the channel was constructed, but which did great damage as usual below that point.

Under a new act of the Legislature the New San Gabriel River Levee District was formed and in the summer of 1907 the channel was continued to tide water. For this purpose there was about 75,000 acres included in the district, running approximately three miles each side of the river channel. That same year an assessment amounting to $6 on each $100 of assessed valuation was collected. This aggregated about $43,000.

HELD FAST BY WILLOWS.

The dug-out channel, which is twelve miles in length, has a right of way which is 200 feet wide. A sixty-foot strip through the center is scooped out to a depth of from six to twelve feet and the earth taken out of this center

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

New bids from rival paving companies competing for the Sunset Boulevard work brought a reduction of many thousands in the aggregate cost yesterday.

The citrus growers of Southern California asked the Supervisors yesterday to be consulted if there are to be any changes in the personnel of the Horticultural Commission.

Los Angeles county received a rebate of $40 on its subscription of $100 for the parade in connection with the unveiling of the memorial to the late United States Senator Stephen M. White.

AT THE CITY HALL.

PAVING RIVALS CUT PRICES.

SUNSET BOULEVARD PROPERTY OWNERS BENEFIT.

Second Bids from Two Competing Concerns Bring Reduction of Many Thousands in Total Cost—Want to Push Work on the Great Undertaking.

Rivalry between contractors over the city's largest paving job—Sunset boulevard—has saved the property owners, who must pay for this improvement, many thousands of dollars. Bids were received for the second time by the Board of Public Works yesterday, and estimates of the reduction in price place it as high as $15,000.

When bids were received two weeks ago there was a difference of $57 between the Barber Asphalt Paving Company and the Patillo Construction Company. Each claimed the award and threatened litigation if it did not receive it. As this is a $200,000 contract, the board did not want to open the doors to litigation and rejected all bids and advertised for new ones.

Yesterday the Barber company reduced its price from 16.5 per square foot for asphalt concrete to 14.6, and the Patillo company maintained its bid of 14.5. But the Patillo company made reductions in other large items so that the gross cost of the whole work was reduced by both bidders many thousands.

The bids were referred to the City Engineer for computation, but as the quantities were established by the recent bidding, this is not expected to take long. The rivalry has been great, as the asphalt concrete is a pavement new to this city, but which has had successful trial elsewhere. It is a composition of rock and asphaltic cement and serves the purpose of asphalt for light traffic at 60 per cent. of the usual cost.

The improvement of Sunset boulevard is one of the most important ever undertaken by the city, and the board wishes to push it rapidly to completion, as it is to be followed by continuations of equal importance. The new pavement will be laid between Marion avenue and the northwestern city limits, and it is the purpose to continue it to Hollywood, where the city is preparing to lay a similar pavement inside the limits of that suburb.

RECALL CAMPAIGN.

CHURCH FEDERATION IN.

Within the next three weeks the voter who is not presented with a recall petition or a recall protest may deem himself an exception to the general rule, for both the recall promoters and the defenders of the Mayor have made up their minds to fight and fight it will be.

Today the Municipal League will begin its campaign for signatures to the recall petitions. H. C. Witmer will have charge of the work and canvassers will be employed to obtain and verify the names. The league has plenty of money to pay solicitors and it also has plenty of applicants. It hopes to get 10,000 signatures in three weeks.

The Church Federation yesterday adopted a report from the Civic Righteousness Committee indorsing the recall movement. Nathan Newby is chairman of the Civic Righteousness Committee. This action had been promised the Municipal League some time, and will, of course, be used in its recall campaign.

The pro-Harper clubs that sprung up Saturday in every ward in the city became rather formidable yesterday when the few petitions circulated Saturday afternoon were returned with over 2000 signatures. One man received 265 signatures in three hours in the business district. The signers were as much interested in defeating the recall as they were in defending the administration of Mayor Harper.

To Deny Demands.

All demands for rebate of amounts bid on assessments for the opening and widening of Sixteenth street will be returned to the Council today by the City Attorney with advice that they are not valid and recommending their denial. The demands pending aggregate many thousands, one of them being for $3977 by Bishop Conaty because of an assessment made on Catholic church property.

Filling for Mission Road.

The Board of Public Works will ask the Council today to appropriate $1500 to purchase 40,000 yards of dirt now being taken from Downey avenue because of its improvement for use in filling Mission road in many places where filling is necessary. The arrangements have been made to sign the contract if the appropriation is made.

MINE REPORTS QUESTIONED.

Engineer Accused of Making False Ones; Secretary, of Distributing Them—In Superior Court.

Fred W. Nash, who, with J. C. Callahan, is accused of publishing false mining reports, came to trial yesterday before Judge Willis and a jury.

Although indicted jointly, the defendants will have separate trials. Callahan, the engineer, is alleged to have made false reports as an expert on the condition of the property owned by the Bulifrog Mining and Milling Company. Nash, who was secretary of the company, is charged with having knowingly circulated these reports.

The firms of Bowen & Miller and Davis & Rush have been retained for the defense. Deputy District Attorney Blair is assisted by Anderson & Nye in the prosecution.

The morning was taken up with the choosing of a jury, and the rest of the day was devoted to establishing such preliminary matters as the election of Nash as secretary of the concern and the existence and printing of the prospectus which is alleged to be false.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

FRUIT GROWERS MAKE DEMAND.

CITRUS MEN CALL ON BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

Wish to Be Consulted in Any Changes Made in Horticultural Commission—Rebate from Sum for Expenses of Unveiling Senator White Monument Surprises.

Fred J. Smith of Pomona and a committee of orange and lemon growers of the country east of Los Angeles, called on the Board of Supervisors yesterday in regard to appointments to the Horticultural Commission.

The delegates declared they represent 80 per cent. of the citrus fruit growers in the vicinity of Covina, Lordsburg, Pomona, Claremont, San Dimas, Monrovia, Duarte, Glendora and Azusa. Mr. Smith, as spokesman of the delegation, said that in past selections of the Horticultural Commission some mistakes had been made, but declared the growers were not inclined to blame the Supervisors, for the reason that the fruit men had not let it be known that they were especially interested in the matter, and had done absolutely nothing to influence the board.

They propose, hereafter, to take an active part and asked that if any changes were expected in the make-up of the commission that they be consulted. The speaker said he did not want to be understood as criticizing the board, for the fruit growers were themselves to blame for the conditions.

A resolution was adopted to the effect that when the question of appointing a new commission comes up notice will be sent to the citrus associations of Los Angeles county so that action may be taken, if the members think it wise to do so.

The following appointments were made by the Supervisors: M. D. Smith, fireman at Courthouse; L. R. Paxton, clerk of the Board of Supervisors; assistant janitors, S. A. Atwater, T. H. Wiseman, D. A. Hodges, H. C. Beatty and J. Y. Bernard, all of the janitors reappointments. Mr. Paxton has been an employé at the Courthouse for more than twenty years, six as a clerk of the Board of Supervisors.

The clerk was directed to publish notice of the intention of the board to purchase the land on which the county oil pit is situated.

An ordinance establishing the Colegrove pound district was adopted.

Mrs. Quinan, matron of the County Hospital, was reappointed, as was also Miss Chamberlain, her assistant.

A communication was read from Calvert Wilson, chairman of the White Parade Committee, informing the board that the expenses of the pageant in honor of the unveiling of the Stephen M. White memorial amounted to $229.50, and there was subject to disbursement $357, leaving $127.50 to be distributed among the subscribers to the fund. As the county contributed $100, there was a rebate of $40, which was sent to the board by check. The Supervisors were so surprised that there should be anything left for distribution that the unusual condition was the subject of much favorable remark.

A contract with the Lewis Philipps estate for the rent of four office rooms, to be occupied by Justice Stephens during the construction of the Hall of Records, at $75 a month, was ratified. The rooms are at the northeast corner of Franklin and New High street. The lessee wanted the rent paid in advance, but Supervisor Eldridge remarked, "the county never pays anything in advance," and the contract was changed.

Ogier & Lichty were given a billiard and poolroom license at Burbank.

The annexation petition of a portion of the Farmdale school district to the city was granted. The new district will be known as Rose Hill.

Plans were submitted for the construction of a concrete culvert on East Mission street, in South Pasadena, at a cost of $2500.

The Burbank Rural Telephone Company applied for permission to place poles along the public highway to connect with Glendale, and it was advised to apply for a franchise.

The supervisors authorized the appointment of Harry E. Waite, H. E. Bentley, Ned Marsh, P. M. Bolton, Heber Jones and Oliver C. Allen as rodmen at $2.50 a day for two new field parties of the Highway Commission, to survey roads to Wilmington and from Pasadena to Glendale. They will start at once.

The board also authorized the commission to spend not to exceed $1000 for surveying instruments. This is in addition to the authorization of a similar sum several weeks ago.

Edward O. Weed, of the Tax Collector's office, submitted an estimates of the books and blanks needed for the work of that office during the coming year, and the estimates were approved, such supplies to be ordered as needed.

The board agreed to abolish the distinctive uniform worn by the inmates of the new Parental School. It is said that the khaki uniform tended to make the Juvenile Court wards feel their degeneration. These will be done away with and the boys will be allowed to wear ordinary cloth suits. The request was made by the Juvenile Court Committee. Mrs. M. Wallen will be matron of the Parental School temporarily, until Mrs. M. Hyatt, the appointee, is able to assume her duties.

ASKS FOR DAMAGES.

ROOMING-HOUSE CASE TURN.

Several weeks ago William Coleman was arrested on complaint of John Labrucherie, who charged him with embezzlement in that he had appropriated to his own use the furnishings and contents of the Ramona rooming-house, No. 302½ South Spring street.

Coleman is to be arraigned on the charge before Judge Wilbur tomorrow afternoon. Yesterday Labrucherie filed another complaint in the Superior Court, asking $2500 damages from Coleman for appropriating the same personal property. It is asserted Coleman sold the property to Labrucherie last December.

TALE OF A CONDOR.

PROBATION ASKED ON FINE.

Justice Summerfield yesterday fined Samuel L. Wallis $50 for killing a condor on December 30 last, the defendant having pleaded guilty to the charge.

Wallis conducted his own case when fixing the degree of responsibility to be determined by the court. Mrs. Elizabeth Grinnell, the bird-lover of Pasadena, testified that Wallis, after killing the condor, endeavored to sell it to her for $50, and she stuck to the story in spite of the efforts of Wallis to make her contradict. She said Wallis first told her that two of his friends shot the condor, and afterward confessed that he did it.

D. T. Reed of Pasadena testified in behalf of Wallis, saying they had gone into Eaton's Cañon to kill squirrels; that in coming out they saw what proved to be a condor sitting on a small peak not more than sixty feet away; that there was a difference of opinion between them whether it was an eagle or a buzzard, and that Reed tried to kill it, but he missed fire, and then Wallis shot the bird, which was afterward found to be a condor.

Justice Summerfield, after assessing the fine, was asked by the accused to admit him to probation, or suspend its payment during good behavior for a stated period. The justice thought probation in his court a new thing, but promised to look into the matter and will announce his decision this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The dead bird was in court marked "exhibit A," and will be placed in the hands of a local taxidermist and sent to the University of California at Berkeley for its future care. So far as known, there is but one more condor in this immediate section, the mate of the bird killed by Wallis, and a male.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

HEARING POSTPONED. The preliminary examination of John M. Allen, alias "Arizona Jack," for killing Deputy Sheriff De Moranville at Newhall, the 4th inst., set for Justice Summerfield's court yesterday morning, was postponed until February 3, on representations of counsel for the defense.

PROBATE MATTERS. Carl R. Roeder, Charles Roeder and George Hendricks filed a petition in the Probate Court for probate of the will of Christine Roeder, who died January 13. The value of the property, personal and real, is $13,000. Application for the probate of the will of Sophia Wolfstein, who died January 21, was made by Samuel Wolfstein, Edward Wolfstein and S. G. Marschutz. The estate is valued at $20,000.

HEARING POSTPONED. The hearing of the case against William Parsons, Herbert and Harry Lloyd, and William Robertson, charged with having mistreated Cordelia Brown of Long Beach, was called by Justice Summerfield and continued until February 9.

ADJUDGED INSANE. James Barbeau, Jr., of No. 1507 Arlington street, and H. J. Herrmann of Watts were ordered taken to the State Hospital by the lunacy commission. Fred McFarland, who was to have been arraigned on a lunacy charge, was returned to the County Hospital, with the understanding that he will be sent to friends in the East.

CHARGE DISMISSED. On the advice of the District Attorney, the charge of battery against Maurice DeGroote of Green Meadows, was dismissed by Justice Summerfield. The alleged assault was committed on Leontine DeGroote, the aged mother of the accused, January 18.

AFTER HIS MAN. The Sheriff received word yesterday that the Sheriff of Lexington, Ky., is en route to Los Angeles to return for trial Louis Seelbach, charged with mistreating a young woman of that city. Seelbach was admitted to bail last Saturday. He is charged here with being a fugitive from justice.

INCORPORATIONS. Articles of incorporation were filed with the County Clerk yesterday by the Pinedo Company, capital stock, $25,000; Coyote Hills Oil Company, capital stock $900,000.

RECALLS DEATH OF JUDGE.

Appeal in Ruby Casselman Case Based on Fatal Illness of Judge Smith.

The fatal illness that seized Judge Smith of the Superior Court while hearing the case of Ruby Casselman, accused of forgery, is used as one ground for reversal of judgment by her attorneys. The appeal came up for argument yesterday, in the Second District Court of Appeals, but was continued until Thursday, to accommodate George Beebe, deputy Attorney-General. Miss Casselman has served several months of a seven years' sentence in San Quentin.

Without going into the sufficiency of the evidence, Attorney W. H. Dehm of Earl Rogers's law office, claims that there were numerous errors in the trial. It is asserted that Judge Smith was ill and unable to give the case the care he usually exercised. It was the last trial in which he participated. Miss Casselman's counsel claims she is legally entitled to a new trial, and that there are many new facts to be brought out in her favor.

The January term of the Appellate Court opened yesterday morning. Aside from the Casselman case, the only criminal matter of any importance was the appeal of John Lapique, given a ten years' sentence upon conviction of obtaining money under false pretenses. Lapique has apparently become chary of employing counsel, for he argued his own case, while a deputy from the Sheriff's office guarded him. For the remaining three days of the term, civil cases will be argued and submitted.

IN DISHONOR'S LIMELIGHT.

One Time Prominent Actor Becomes Hysterical When Charged With Felony.

Henry Hynes, at one time considered the most prominent stock actor on the Coast, was arraigned before Justice Rose yesterday on a charge of petty larceny, and was held for trial in the Superior Court under $1500 bonds. He is accused of having stolen a bicycle from in front of the Chamber of Commerce building Saturday night. A prior conviction stands against him.

During his examination the prisoner wept like a child, and when the justice ordered that he be tried before a jury he became hysterical.

CANDIDATES FOR JUDGESHIPS.

With the prospect of the passage of the bill creating three additional Superior judgeships for this county, there are a number of candidates in a receptive condition. Among those who are said to be in the race are C. C. Bowen, D. R. Weller, Justice Pierce, R. A. Ling, A. I. McCormick, Police Justices Rose and Frederickson and former Judge Ballard. Former Judge Jamison, until recently serving in the criminal department, is believed to be sure of appointment, and several others are considered to have strong claims for consideration.

SPIRITUALIST ALLEY OPEN.

The Semi-Tropic Spiritualist Association is still in proud possession of its alley. It has a tract near Griffith Park with a large communal hall and the residences of several devotees of the faith. The only line of communication with the city streets is an alley. Yesterday an effort was made by some of the former owners of the land about Griffith Park to have the alley closed on the ground that it had been improperly dedicated to the municipality. After a long and highly excited hearing, the Supervisors declined to close the alley, and the controversy will now proceed to the courts.

CHANGES MIND DURING TRIAL.

WIFE DECIDES FOR DIVORCE IN MIDDLE OF CASE.

Secret Marriage of Society Man First Known in Suit for Maintenance—Pink Roses Quiver When Judge Questions—Decree Is Granted With Alimony While Unmarried.

The secret marriage of John S. Carman, son of Brig.-Gen. Carman, U.S.A., (retired) to a tragic young lady with pink roses in her hat, was published to the world for the first time yesterday, in a divorce suit tried before Judge James. Both parties now live in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Isabel M. Carman, who was secretly the wife of the young man, and who has been variously chorus girl and stenographer, indicated her artistic temperament by suddenly changing her mind in the middle of the trial.

She came into court only asking for legal support. When the testimony in the maintenance suit was half completed, she signaled wildly to her attorney, who, after a whispered consultation at the back of the courtroom, announced that if it was all the same to the judge she would rather have a divorce instead. She got it.

Her story as told from the witness stand shows that she was married in Detroit, three or four years ago, to John S. Carman, a young society man, scion of a wealthy and influential family. Their marriage was kept secret and, very shortly thereafter, her young husband left her and came to California with his mother, leaving her to shift for herself.

She followed, but has been supporting herself as best she could on the stage and as stenographer. He has been supported by a rich mother.

Mrs. Carman intimated that Carman's aristocratic family thought she wouldn't do.

Judge James asked her quietly: "Before this secret marriage did you and Mr. Carman ever occupy the relation of husband and wife?"

Mrs. Carman looked frightened and nodded her head, the pink roses quivering with agitation.

"Hold on!" exclaimed the lady's attorney, excitedly. "Do you understand the judge's question?"

The pink roses quivered in assent.

"Do you testify that you and Mr. Carman occupied the position of husband and wife before your marriage?" said the horrified attorney.

The nodding of the pink roses asserted it was so.

After the witness retired from the stand, however, the attorney rushed back to her seat in the courtroom and they held an agitated conference. Presently the pink roses came back to the witness stand and the attorney asked:

"Do you now say that you and your husband occupied this relation before you were married?"

The pink roses looked very much shocked and said: "Oh, no, sir! Mr. Carman was just a kind friend."

At the request of the court, young Mr. Carman, a well-groomed man of about 30, took the stand. Whatever was the mystery of this secret marriage, it was not to be had of Mr. Carman.

Fingering the woodwork on the judge's bench and avoiding the gaze of Pink Roses, he said briefly that he had married the girl in Detroit; that he had a good business at the time, lost everything he had through financial reverses and could not support a wife. He said he left her and came to California with his mother, who has been supporting him ever since.

"Why did you keep this marriage a secret?" asked the court.

"Well," said Carman, vaguely, "because—well, for business reasons."

"Did you and she live together as man and wife before your marriage?"

"Yes, sir," said Carman.

Tragic exclamation from Pink Roses.

"For how long?"

Pink Roses' attorney wanted to contribute a little about the reason for the secret marriage.

"Didn't the Carman family consider that you had married beneath you?"

"No, sir," said Carman, in a monotonous, bored voice.

"Well," said the attorney, with the most withering tone ever used in addressing a human being, "I guess, after all, they couldn't possibly have thought that."

This made such a hit with Pink Roses that she applauded and clapped her hands, while a theatrical lady who accompanied her, cast upon the unhappy young husband a simply awful look.

In the midst of this climax, Judge James granted the divorce. But he remarked very significantly, that the $40 a month alknony is only to be paid as long as Pink Roses remains single.

REPUBLICAN'S DUES TAKEN.

Gives Check to Man at League Rooms, Who Appropriates It, Plaintiff Alleges.

W. P. Clark was arrested yesterday on a forgery charge preferred by C. C. Bowen, and locked up in the City Jail. He will be examined today.

It is alleged that Bowen went to the headquarters of the Republican League and there found Clark seated at the secretary's desk. He asked for the secretary, but when told he was out turned over his check for $20 to Clark, telling him to give it to the secretary. The check was in payment of dues. Clark is said to have forged an indorsement to the check, cashed it, and to have bought a suit of clothes with the money.

IF I WERE THE MAYOR

Boss of the Tend

Believe me, kiddo, I could do all this Mayor job and roll cigarettes with the other hand.

All the trouble a Mayor has comes from butting into other people's business and all the sleep these other guys lose is buttin' into the Mayor's business.

Say, what d' they want, anyhow? They want every lady to carry her marriage license in her hand-satchel, don't they? And every time you get a drink you got to make an affidavit, and no man can run a saloon 'at ain't got the ticket to prove he's at church t'wict a week?

If I was Mayor, I'd sit on the job 'at the little ol' City Hall and I'd wrastle with crosswalks and electric light poles and I wouldn't be buttin' into other folks' business.

If I see a fellow with a little souse on the Sabbath afternoon, I'd just think to myself, "Well, pal, I'd hate to have your noodle on Monday morning." But I wouldn't hop into the air like a goat and yell to myself that this guy's corkscrew walk proves somebody's been selling booze on Sunday.

Sure, they been selling it on Sunday; you think they give it away? What's it to me which particular barkeep's working overtime? When a guy has got one of them feelings that he wants to make Monday morning with a head like a jumping toothache, why, he is going to get said head, believe me, if he has to drink wood alcohol.

All these newspapers sending these bum reporters to write them "Kiss-me-on-the-heart" ballads about a booze fight and a lot of sloppy Lizzies! What do they expect the girls to do? Dry up and evaporate? They got to live somewhere.

And these poker joints, too. What d' youse paper fellows expect the boys to do, anyhow? Huh? These hicks come in with a bunch of green money and somebody's got to take it away from 'em, huh? That's what they brought it in for. If they don't spend it before they got out of town they wouldn't get no education.

Some fellows sell 'em town lots where you need a guide to find the town, and others sell 'em oil stocks and mines on a pay streak that never has no pay dirt. But the quickest way is a little game.

Some of these fellers would have the police rushing around taking the proceeds away from the boys all the time. They seem to feel sore that they ain't getting their rake-off of the graft through the police court fines.

Well, well, believe, me, the police don't meant for that. The police are to help old ladies across street corners and to bump around and measure footprints after the burglars have arrived in the next State.

The more a Mayor gets inquiring around a police station, the worse off he is Mayor. If I were Mayor, I would say to them police: "Boys, you are all pretty well wise to the fact that

FINE SLEDDING IN MOUNTAINS.

COASTING IS ENJOYED UPON LOWE AND WILSON.

Special Cars Are Chartered by People Anxious to Make the Most of the Fleeting Novelty—Eighteen Inches of Snow Reported on the Summits of the Sierra Madre.

Shower or two in the morning and a fine of rain in the afternoon was all the precipitation locally yesterday. The season's total is 10.09 inches, as recorded by the Weather Bureau, and 9.38 as measured by The Times' gauge.

A foot and a half of snow covers the summit of Mt. Lowe, and about the same amount is reported on Mt. Wilson. There is sledding at Alpine Tavern. Not since 1896 has there been such a fall there, and at a late hour last night it was still snowing.

Several special parties went to the mountains yesterday and enjoyed the coasting. Special cars will be run by the Pacific Electric for parties today and the rest of the week.

PASADENA, Jan. 25.—The rainfall for the season here has reached 13.61 inches, 1.90 inches falling in the storm of today afternoon. In Altadena .95 inch of rain fell on Sunday night, which brings the total to date to 17.81 inches. Light flurries of snow fell on the mountains last night, and a report from Mount Wilson was to the effect that about fifteen inches was on the ground. The thermometer was about the freezing point all day yesterday.

Imported Snow.

SANTA MONICA, Jan. 25.—Last night's steady rainfall of .94 inch brought the total for the season to 10.09 inches. This is quite a little ahead of the total precipitation at the corresponding date of last year. As the rain has all fallen in a way to do the most good there is every reason to anticipate heavy harvests of fruit, grain and garden crops. Practically no damage has been done by the flood waters. In the foothills the storage reservoirs are all being filled, and present indications are that throughout the summer season there will be no scarcity of water for purposes of irrigation.

The steam schooners Katherine and Eliza are at Port Los Angeles, both having arrived from the north with heavy cargoes of lumber. The former, as part of her cargo a great quantity of snow, brought out of a Gray's Harbor storm that was raging when the vessel left that northern harbor. The exhibit of the fleecy substance was an unusual sight in this part of Southern California, and snowballing was one of the amusements of the fishermen at the port today.

Elsinore Record.

ELSINORE, Jan. 25.—Last night's rainfall of .34 of an inch makes the season's precipitation 6.83 inches, according to Henry Lillie's gauge.

Hard Rain at San Diego.

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 25.—San Diego and vicinity experienced another hard rain last night. It, however, lasted but a short time. The precipitation was .22 of an inch locally. In the back country it was a less amount. Fine weather prevailed today.

Santa Ana Gets More.

SANTA ANA, Jan. 25.—The rainfall last night came to .62 inch, making 2.62 inches within a week and 8.21 inches for the season.

This town will be just about as pure as it feels it wants to be and your star don't license you to start any Carrie Nation crusades." That's what I would tell 'em.

I would appoint some of the boys that need the jobs to the different coummissions and if some of them got a bunch to stir up a little life insurance business on the side, I wouldn't get too shocked.

There's got to be dumps as long as there's sporty girls, and somebody's got to get even with the guy who runs the place and is getting all the bestill money. NO?

If anybody started any of this recall business when I was in office—well, nix fer any recall, huh?

Suppose two guys was having a prize fight, huh? And one them had class and he knocked the other stiff out good and cold, huh? Does this classy guy get the prize money or is it fair for the seconds of the other guy to lay fer him on the way home and take it away from him? Huh?

What do you think I want to be Mayor fer, HUH? Spend all that money and then hold the job about two minutes, huh?

Well, I tell you what I would do if they started anything like that on me. I'd get my little old gang of repeaters and I'd start a recall about every six minutes.

We ain't started anything on this recall game yet; but you just wait, kiddo! If we ever get sore onct, we will show 'em a recall that's got weight and reach and plenty of wind. This recall business is where we shine.

You can get these purity guys out to vote for recall onct in awhile when worked up by all these chambermaid stories of vice and crime, but it's hard to get 'em stirred up. Our gang don't have to be stirred up. They are the little old voting kids.

Why, if I wanted to, I could tell 'em: "Here, youse guys trundle along down into the Seventh Ward and recall the Councilman," and they'd be on the job. The long hairs would put up a fight for awhile, if we started in recalling folks, but they couldn't keep it up, and we could.

They'd get tired of civic virtue after awhile and my gang don't get tired of eating. See the difference?

No, sir; if I was Mayor, I'd get one of them spike-tailed coats and hire some newspaper guys to write my welcome-to-our-city speeches and hand out the jobs to the boys and I wouldn't play dry nurse to no Hicks that come to town trying to have their money taken away from them.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES

[The Times freely publishes the views of correspondents without holding itself responsible for writers' opinions. Be brief, write plainly, state clearly. The space of 250 words, on the average, is sufficient for the point. Well-written letters are liable to be declined merely on account of their length.]

Protest Against the Recall.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 25.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Permit me to add my protest to those that have already appeared and others that will doubtless yet appear against this absurd, unnecessary and expensive recall foolishness. It may perhaps induce some to pause and reflect before signing the petitions that are now being circulated.

I am a native son, and for thirty-five years have devoted a large part of my time to the upbuilding of this community. During that period I have seen Los Angeles grow from a village to a city of over 300,000 people. I cast my first vote for Tilden, and have voted the Democratic ticket ever since. I have had a little experience in office. When I was a member of the City Council, twelve years ago, I secured for the city a twenty-acre tract now known as South Park. It cost $10,000. It is today worth $150,000. If the recall had been in existence then I should doubtless have been removed, because some residents of my ward were indignant that I did not select small unsuitable pieces of land which they owned. One of my colleagues in the Council would also doubtless have been recalled, because he selected a desirable site in his ward for a fire-engine house, when there were others less desirable to be had at a higher price.

I regard this movement against Mayor Harper as being originated by disgruntled members of the "Democratic and Republican parties in this city, who cannot have everything their own way. It is strange that they should be able to hynotize quite a number of intelligent citizens who have interests at stake in Los Angeles. These gross exaggerations that are published in some of the papers about vice and immorality in Los Angeles will, to my certain knowledge, have the effect of causing many eastern people to avoid this city, as being a dangerous place in which to raise a family. Yet these same papers have the assurance to expect Los Angeles business men to support them by advertising in their columns.

As to Mr. Kern. Let him have a chance to show what he intends to do. It will be time enough to kick when he does something that is contrary to public policy. There are plenty to watch him, and to recall him, should he prove a traitor to the best interests of the city.

Should they succeed in recalling Mayor Harper I shall vote for him again, as will hundreds of Republicans whom I know, and all of the old line Democrats. Moreover, from this day on I intend to vote the Republican ticket.

I say to my thousands of friends: Do not sign any petition and run the city more deeply into debt in order to further the political ambitions of a few disgruntled office-seekers and self-styled reformers.

MINING CAMPS SNOWBOUND.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

DURANGO (Colo.) Jan. 25.—Mining camps in the San Juan districts are in serious straits owing to the storm. Railroad service is hopelessly demoralized and prospects of soon getting supplies into Silverton and other camps are far from bright. It is impossible to ascertain the conditions of the tracks, as snow is piled upon them so high that passage is out of the question.

Former Massachusetts State Treasurer E. P. Shaw of Newbury Port, a financier, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy yesterday, with liabilities of $1,021,303 and assets of $275,765. MINES AND MINING.

FRACTION HAS LEASED MILL.

Company Will Treat Eighty Tons Daily.

Big Sale May Be Pending in Johnson District.

Forty-five Thousand Dollar Buy by Angelenos.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GOLDFIELD (Nev.) Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] George Wingfield says the Combination Fraction today took under a long lease the mill of the Nevada Goldfield Reduction Company, the first large mill built here. The Fraction increases its force and starts to ...ating eighty tons daily of the best ore on an average of any mine here.

The Little Florence Company's lease on the Fraction probably will send its ore with the Fraction's. The Nevada Goldfield Reduction Company retains the use of the sampler and continues the purchase of ore for shipment to the smelters. This starts a new producer rated as probably third in the district and is the most important factor in the history of the Fraction.

Johnson District.

Phelps, Dodge & Company and the Calumet and Arizona are said to be figuring on entering the Johnson district, Cochise county, Arizona, and their experts are examining the Mammoth mine of the Arizona Consolidated, and the Bonanza Belt Copper Company, better known as the Old Peabody, with a view to taking them over. The recent rich copper strikes in the Copper Chief mine of the Arizona and Michigan Development Company have attracted much attention and both of the above companies are said to be negotiating for properties in the district.

The Peabody is an old mine which produced several millions in past days and there the first smelter in the district was built. Lately, owing to litigation, it has been tied up and idle.

The Mammoth adjoins the Empire Copper and Gold Mines Company which is now working to cut the footwall of a 200-foot vein of copper the same as that found in the recent strikes and on the same lead. Heretofore work has been confined to the hanging wall but thirty days ago the Empire encountered a large vein of rich ore and proved up the lower levels. On Saturday night the Empire broke into ore on the Cowboy, a gold property, which is expected to show good values.

The Arizona and Michigan Development Company which made the big strike, has encountered a second ledge within ten feet of the first, now being opened up. The first shot was put in Saturday and returns have not been received, but this is said to be fully as rich as the other, which averaged 20 per cent. copper, thirty ounces gold and twenty ounces silver. Work is into the 200-foot ledge of sulphide ore which it expects to reach with 400 feet. Already in 300, the intention is to continue the incline shaft to 1000 feet.

The Johnson Copper Company, near the Peabody, is also making a good showing. It is sinking a double compartment shaft and has cut some good ore in going down to its present depth of 300 feet. This company will sink to 1000 feet to reach the sulphide.

Stockholders Meet.

Angelenos Big Buy.

The Little Butte mine, in the Bouse range, near Bouse, was sold last week for $45,000, by Thomas Bouse and R. McMahon to Meyer and Bishop of Los Angeles. The deal was made by J. C. Denton, who also sold to the same parties eight claims, the Manipulator, Manipulator No. 1 and No. 2, Alice W., Sunrise, Kestler, Denton and Sidetrack, in the same range, southwest of Bouse, for $30,000.

The Little Butte is one of the best developed mines in the district, carrying high values in gold and copper. It has been worked by former owners for some time, and a great deal of ore has been shipped. Owing to high freight rates shipments were suspended last fall, and the ore has been left on the dumps. It has large quantities blocked out, which will average 15 to 18 per cent. copper and $10 gold per ton.

Big Strike in Esperanza.

A big strike at the 220-foot level of the Esperanza Development Company, four miles from Twin Buttes, Ariz., opened a ten-foot vein of rich ore, which, eight feet in, runs 9 per cent. copper, 22 ounces silver, 20 ounces lead, and $1.80 gold to the ton. This is a new company, officered by Frank W. Hereford, president; Frank Prindle, vice-president; C. T. Roberts, general manager; H. B. Tenney, treasurer, and F. J. O'Brien, secretary, with the following board of directors: Epes Randolph, L. W. Powell, F. H. Hereford, C. T. Roberts, Frank Prindle, John H. Talbot and Frank J. O'Brien.

Southern California never fails to do as she advertises. See those snow-capped mountains?

Mr. Roosevelt leaves the White House as virile as ever. He isn't even thinking of taking up golf.

Billy Sunday declares that "Hell is no worse than Chicago." We don't believe it can smell worse, anyway.

Ascertainment of the fact has been made that owls are increasing in numbers. The wise, old ones, too?

It appears to be true that Tom L. Johnson is really broke. He has just moved into a cheap $135 a month flat.

The best we can hope for now from the United States Senate is that Tom Platt will not make a farewell address.

Rev. Dr. Marquis says "You can lose your nerve through suggestion." It would be fine if you could get it back the same way.

A war on rats has begun in Japan. And the Japs will drive them out, too. When the brown man says he'll do a thing, he'll do it.

According to a Dublin professor, the soul is composed of "psychomeres." We suppose it is a kind of stuff that will burn if it gets into a fire.

A warning to the effect that hunting in Africa is dangerous has been sent to the President. Can it be possible that this trip needs a press agent?

An Indiana man has invented a machine to trim grass where a lawn mower can't go. But the trouble is a man must push the blamed thing just the same.

Hon. Leslie M. Shaw is abroad once more handing out sarcastic remarks in public concerning politics. Let him go; the man has reason to be sarcastic.

The New Thought Society of New York asserts that any man can be rich simply by "feeling" rich. Well, we have that kind of liquor in California, too.

A motorist whose car collided with the buzz wagon of the Nizam of Hyderabad was fined $330 and all his automobiles were confiscated. Beware of Hyderabad.

Mr. Taft is a good mixer. We have no doubt that when he visits Boston he will roar for beans and brown bread; and when in California, chile con carne will be the thing.

A poem in the Century Magazine begins with the line, "Why do the wheels go round and round, mother, mother?" And still some people say we should not poke fun at magazine poets.

Mr. Rockefeller may pretend to be as happy as can be with the dietary rules he has adopted, but we'll bet he still envies the man who can get away with a big feed of corned beef and cabbage.

One of the questions in a Chicago school examination was: "What animals do we get sausage from?" It is hard to say, because there really seem to be just about as many dogs as ever.

A member of the British Columbia Parliament has a record of speaking four days and nights continuously. If there is a woman in the world who can beat that we'd like to see the color of her hair.

Announcement is made that in Abyssinia the French have completed a railroad between Djibutil and Djisjnian. The names sound exactly like American stations, as called out by our brakemen.

Possibly the thing that disturbs Tillman and those other once-was statesmen most is the fear that Roosevelt will write a book about them that will be in the public libraries after they are dead.

Every newspaper in the country and all the farmers are rooting for Secretary of Agriculture Wilson to remain in the Cabinet. Maybe he can't dance, but Uncle Jim knows all about turnips and things like that.

The Kaiser will get even with his people, good and plenty, for gagging him. He has cut Berlin cold and intends to spend the summer at the sea. As a result, business is bad, and you know how a German likes that.

We are informed by a Spanish medical journal that standing stimulates the brain. Still, we think some stronger argument will have to be advanced to induce the average man to rise and give his seat to a lady in a street car.

Prof. Ferrero, the Italian historian, declares that Antony married Cleopatra for her money. Had there been Chautauqua circuits in those days he would not need to have made the sacrifice, for Antony was a peach as an orator.

A man in Iowa has deposited in a savings bank the sum of $1 under an agreement to leave it there for the term of ninety-nine years. He probably thinks that by that time the interest will have crawled up sufficiently to keep him in his old age.

Rich Americans who spend millions in the fashionable winter resorts of Europe will never come to Southern California, because we have here neither an effete nobility to tag after nor a servile peasant populace to bow and scrape before mere wealth.

IN A NUT-SHELL.

The origin of the movement to recall Mayor Harper may be thus expressed in a nutshell:

The Mayor trod on the corns of certain would-be bosses, who sought to dictate his appointments, and slammed his door in their faces.

He offended the self-esteem of these pretenders by refusing to surrender his prerogatives.

The Times has never supported Mayor Harper or indorsed his "liberal" policies; but it commends his determination to refuse at any and all costs to wear the yoke of Earl, Lissner, Willard & Co.

And The Times finds that large numbers of citizens resent the attempt of these sore ones to make the public pay the bills for gratifying personal grudges.

CONSOLIDATION—LET US STRIKE HARD.

No chances should be taken on the consolidation enabling act before the Legislature. We are informed that the bill has a good prospect of becoming a law. We should not rest satisfied with this, but should take steps to push the bill with every shoulder in Los Angeles. Remember, we of Los Angeles are about the only people interested in this measure at this time. That fact furnishes an excellent chance to make it a "trading proposition" in the Legislature. Powerful influences are interested in defeating the bill, and its slaughter is entrusted to the hands of men who are skilled in the game played at Sacramento. They can easily say to Assemblymen and Senators whose people are not interested: "We will vote for your bill if you will vote against the consolidation bill."

The civic bodies of Los Angeles, the Chamber of Commerce, the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, the Clearinghouse Association and others would do well to dispatch committees of diplomatic citizens who could do good work at Sacramento.

But be careful whom you send. Let them be level-headed men who know how to influence others.

One week from today there will be a charter election in Los Angeles. Remember the day, Tuesday, February 2, and be sure you vote one way or the other on all amendments to the charter proposed. Before you vote, weigh well the probable effect each amendment will exercise in municipal affairs. Do not look at one side of any question, but consider the pros and cons. Do not follow any preconceived notions nor be a faddist. Each question is practical. Most of the amendments have elements in them to recommend them. None of them will ruin the city, and all of them, if carried, will not make the city government perfect. Therefore look on both sides of each proposition and vote as you conclude will be, on the whole, best for the city.

The Times is trying to be of help to you voters by placing each proposition as it looks to us, before you. The arguments we use spring from convictions in our own mind and are not put forward to deceive you. This is not a glittering generality. The hot advocates of some of these amendments are deliberately using arguments they must see to be unsound, and making statements they actually know to be false. They have an ulterior purpose in mind which they dare not put forward openly. It will make no difference to The Times how the election goes, beyond the effect on general conditions in the city. We are not allied with any club, clique or coterie, white, black or pink, with members obsessed by a burning ambition to hold office. We wish to dictate no candidates to any convention which makes nominations, or to any official who makes appointments. We are not hide-bound partisans of any party. If a candidate seems worthy to us we shall acquiesce; if he seems objectionable we shall say so. We shall not attempt to force any candidate on any convention or official. We can, therefore, afford to be perfectly fair with our readers.

Some of the proposed amendments are matters of detail easily decided on without profound study. Others affect radically the management of city affairs. One such is amendment "No. 2," relating to the election of Councilmen. If this is carried all nine members of the Council will be elected by a general vote of the whole city, instead of one from each ward by the voters of that ward. One who may be called the chief proponent of this measure says in print: "He [a Councilman] is a general city officer of large powers, and should be elected by the whole city." The language is somewhat loose, the reasoning very loose. We adverted to this before, and the personal organ of a mischievous millionaire, the willing champion of all the faddists in the world and of all their fads, made use of false statements in an attempt to uphold this feeble reasoning. Reduced to syllogistic form, this argument means "a general official with large powers should be elected by a general, not a district, vote. A Councilman is a general city official; therefore he should be elected by a vote of the whole city." In this complete form the argument proves too much. If it is sound reasoning, then Congressmen, who represent the whole State, should be elected by a State vote, not a district vote. So ought every member of the Legislature; and, carried to its legitimate conclusion, the argument would mean that all officials who exercise great powers should be elected by a general vote of the whole country.

It may be true that college professors favor the all-at-large Council, but not one of them who has learned to use language carefully and to reason clearly will base his argument on the argument most commonly advanced in Los Angeles. Why make false statements and resort to unsound reasoning, if not to mislead voters and carry the amendment regardless of its merits?

That is precisely what the ardent advocates of this new method of electing Councilmen are attempting. There is a purpose underneath this measure which, if set out in the open, would bury it ten fathoms deep beneath a tide of popular disapproval. The sinister design is to rob a large number of voters of all representation in the city government. It is a pharisaical device of the members of a club or of a clique or a coterie bent on getting control of the city by hook or crook. If put into effect there will never again be a representative on the Council from the Seventh and Eighth wards. The Ninth Ward may never have one, will not often have one, and it may be that the entire Councilmanic body shall come from that section of the city south of Fourth street and west of Main. That is very likely to happen whenever a wild crusade is started against "undesirables," as measured by the standard of the members of this club, this clique, this coterie.

We propose a Council which will, as we have said before, do away with the evils of the all-ward Council, yet protect all classes of citizens and all residents of all wards from the injustice sure to follow from the election under the all-at-large plan of a Council all from one section of the city, all rich men, who would thus control the city affairs in their own selfish interests.

Enlarge the Council to fifteen members, elect nine as at present to represent the nine wards and thus secure all classes of a voice in the Council; and elect six at large to see that log-rolling in the City Hall does not prejudice the general interests of the city.

The second reason assigned for the all-at-large Council, as given by the great proponent of all fads, is "election at large will tend to raise the standard of material selected for this office."

There you have the mischievous purpose concealed behind the thin veil of pharisaism. "To raise the standard" is, according to this prophet, to rule out the poor men from the office and to bar out all representation of the poor man. It is to put the silk-stocking, silk-hat brigade in full control of the city. The higher standard means "our kind of men." It means a pink-ticket city government, to which no man shall be eligible who is not in the alphabetically-arranged card list of a club or clique.

There would be such dissatisfaction, such discontent under such a system that recall elections would be regular Tuesday events every week in the year.

When Earl lost the city printing contract, he was so frantic that he gave orders to his hirelings on the Express to abuse and lie about The Times every day, and they kept it up for about a year. Evidently Tobe's fighting blood is boiling again. Really, Tobias, it is unfair to blame The Times for the misery that comes to you from your own unfortunate disposition. Great Scott, neighbor, we can't make you happy if God can't!

AND THERE WAS WAILING AND GNASHING OF TEETH.

THE RECALL AND CITY PRINTING.

The stupidly tricky and trickily stupid Express has seen fit to show another of its sores to the public by once more protruding its old city printing agony.

The records show that The Times and the Express (Earl) were competitors for the city printing contract in 1904, and The Times won it. The rage of our neighbor, E. Tobias, knew no bounds, neither did it know metes, and he spent thousands of dollars in efforts to beat The Times out of its own, but he was stumped at every turn. The Times faithfully carried out its contract and got its money—all of it. In spite of all the knavish tricks and noisy misrepresentations of Earl and his labor-union lieutenants, the Council approved of every bill rendered by The Times and of every phase of its service; and finally the Supreme Court, to which Earl, in desperation, appealed, put the stamp of its approval on every step of the proceedings.

The labor unionites were particularly furious at the triumph of The Times, inasmuch as non-union printers would do the work, and, egged on by E. Tobias, they started recall petitions against the late Councilman Davenport, whom they succeeded in defeating for political and personal reasons. And whom did they elect in his place? The notorious "Doc" Howton, the only recall statesman ever chosen in Los Angeles.

The Express now suppresses this important item of local history. Even the sin-hardened Express could not stand Howton, and turned against him. It would have the public forget him. The labor unions formally repudiated him. He was the most thoroughly discredited Councilman who ever sat in the City Hall. You remember or have heard all about him and his doings.

The recall in this instance was made an instrument of malice and grudge gratification, with results that were unanimously acknowledged to be deplorable. Never was an experiment in municipal government a more generally acknowledged failure. Dread of nausea now forbids the Express to even mention the name of its former beau ideal, Howton, the recall Councilman—and we must say we do not blame our oft-humiliated and always unhappy neighbor, E. Tobias, for trying to cover Howton up, futile as the effort may be, and leaving Tobe open, as it does, to the painful suspicion of lacking candor.

This misuse of the recall feature of the city charter was enough for The Times, demonstrating conclusively that it is a most dangerous device to enable malicious men to indulge their spite at public expense when disappointed or chagrined. It may too readily become a club in the hands of the vicious and vengeful.

The Times has always said that if the recall provision of the charter required that a majority of the voting population sign a recall petition, there would be some equity in the device; but, demanding, as it does, the signature of only 25 per cent. of the voters in the last previous election, the provision is subversive of majority rule, unconstitutional, unrepresentative, un-American and unfair, as finally embodied in the Los Angeles city charter and now directed against Mayor Harper at the instigation of the very same "reformers" who led the movement for the election of "Doc" Howton.

The Times was sustained in its contention over the city printing by the Supreme Court of California; and its position upon the recall feature or the Los Angeles city charter will, we are confident, be upheld by the Supreme Court of the United States when the matter shall come, as it will, before that tribunal

BUSINESS ALL RIGHT.

No, things are not moving so fast as they were two years ago, and it is to be hoped that they will not get such "a move on" for a long time to come. The breakneck pace at which business was going in 1906 and in the early part of 1907 was the chief cause of the crash.

We have our breath again, and realize what was the matter. Speculation was wild; we were doing too much business on credit. Men put too much capital into automobiles and other forms of fixed investments. They had kept out too little liquid capital. When the strain came there was no anchor on many business crafts, and the spread of sail was too wide to be taken in at once. No wonder the big wind ripped things loose.

Now we are going along more carefully. The business public is afraid to do a $25,000 business on a $5000 capital. They are afraid to speculate in real estate or in stocks, buying one week at high prices in hope of selling next week at still higher prices. It should be self-evident that this process cannot go on forever. Many of us insisted that it could. Let us not get the notion in our heads again.

The fact is, business is progressing at a normal, safe pace. Labor is generally employed and wages are good; and while these conditions last general business cannot be bad. Compared with the days of the great national boom the movement may appear slow. But compared with normal years it is not.

Unless the crops of this year fail there will be much improvement. Tariff legislation is holding business back, and this influence will continue in force until the new tariff bill is passed by Congress and signed by the President. The uncertainty is less than that of a year ago. Until the Republican convention met last June and it was made plain that Senator La Follette and Gov. Cummins, with other free-trade allies of Mr. Bryan, were not the Republican party, there was much anxiety in the business world. With the publication of the platform made at Chicago this distrust passed.

But there are to be changes made in the tariff, and until these are positively known and understood there will be great restraint exercised in making purchases. We have now only about five months to wait.

With this tariff doubt out of the way and with crop prospects good, business will increase all around. But we hope it will not rush at a pace which means wild speculation, sure to be followed by another crash.

The habitual dishonesty and trickery of the Express could have no better exemplification than its present brazen attempts to make the public believe that The Times supported Harper in the last Mayoralty campaign. Does the Express delude itself into thinking that the public has lost its memory? As everybody knows, The Times worked, heart and soul, for the election of the Republican candidate for Mayor, Dr. Lindley—and got licked. That's the fact, and everybody knows it. The Express is lying to waste.

FLAX-GROWING.

There can be no failure in the growing of flax in California, so far as the soil and the climate are concerned. The plant has been grown successfully at many places in the State.

All those interested in the industry have to do is to learn how to cultivate the plant, gather the stalks and prepare the fiber. After that will arise the question of competing with those who grow flax in other countries.

Raising flax is not like raising corn or potatoes. Expert skill will be necessary on the part of those who do the actual work. Curing the fiber and extracting it from the stalk require still more experience.

That the market is here, there is no doubt; but most of the flax-growing, gathering, curing and manufacturing is done in European countries, where the business is known and where labor is cheap. The great flax countries are Ireland and Belgium.

It will add to the picturesqueness of California landscapes if flax growing becomes common, for there are few more beautiful sights than a field of clean flax in bloom. The stalk stands straight as a rush, is of almost uniform height, and the blossom is a delicate blue, which paints the field like a piece of the sky. Rather, as the plant waves in the wind, the field looks like a pale blue sea under a gentle breeze.

There is another thing to bear in mind in growing flax. It exhausts the land as few crops do, and returns nothing to the soil. Thanks to modern agricultural chemistry this exhaustion is easily replaced by artificial fertilization, if one will apply the proper elements in due quantity.

Successful flax growing in the State will be a very important industry, making many

HIT THE RIGHT MAN.

In his latest exploit under the influence of delirium he shot himself in the foot. That ball was not entirely wasted. It would have been better for Kentucky, and probably for Beach Hargis himself in the end, if the shot had taken effect in his own head.

The Herald's too obvious anxiety to pull the chestnuts out of the fire and help him out of his numerous libel suits looks suspicious. Whose hireling is the Herald? Why is it so absolutely devoted to its subserviency to Tobias?

ENGLAND'S HARD TASK.

The difficulties that England faces in India are clearly shown by the new rule that prevents a Bengal charged with sedition shall not have a jury trial. Conditions must be grave, indeed, when so many ways of repressing discontent must be resorted to. For years the Hindu people have been restive under the rule of their conquerors, and many who know India well have said that an uprising was imminent. The government must have felt so when they deny the people a trial by jury.

The native army in India is large, but all of the Britishers. The natives fight well for the glory of the empire when the fight is not against the people of their own blood. How they might act is a matter of doubtful, and the government knows it; for the native soldiers must all surrender their guns when they are kept under a guard of British soldiers all the time.

The new drastic method of suppressing sedition is confined to Bengal, but whether this will be used on the people in other parts of India quite another question.

Ten-Year-Old Land Case Decided. Bunker Hill Company Receives Patents—Visalia Notes.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)

VISALIA, Jan. 24.—A case of considerable importance has just been decided by the Land Office. It is that of Bakersfield Fuel and Oil Company vs. J. R. Johnson, involving forfeiture of selection of the southeast quarter of southwest quarter of section 4; northeast quarter of northwest quarter, lot 2 of southwest quarter, southwest quarter of south half of southeast quarter of section 15-28-24. The selections were contested by plaintiff. The case has been finally decided, notice having been received by the local Land Office that the commissioner had affirmed the decision of the register and receiver. The contestant alleged that the land was mineral in character and asked that the lieu selection be canceled. It has been decided in favor of contestant as to section 15, which part of the case is canceled, but will remain intact as far as section 4 is concerned.

The case was begun in 1904, when a hearing was had, and a decision rendered by Register Stewart and Receiver Swain substantially as at present decided. An appeal was taken and decision reversed by the commissioner. A rehearing was obtained before the Secretary of the Interior, and a trial ordered. This was had the fore part of last year, and another appeal was taken to the commissioner, who has now affirmed the decision.

The land is located in the Kern oil district, near Bakersfield, and is very valuable.

The Bunker Hill Oil Mining Company has received patents to Lexington No.

MUSIC AND THE STAGE.

"A Stubborn Cinderella" is the best musical show that has descended upon us this year. It is brisk, picturesque, has astonishingly few dull moments, is enlivened by a chorus of unusual [illegible], and has a cleverly [illegible] group of vigorous young principals. If the mission of musical comedy is merely to knit up the ravelled sleeve of care, this one is an orchestra-driven machine that has mother's knitting needles not only [illegible], but forgotten.

It is a Chicago show, one of the few Chicago aggregations of travel that is really worth anything when this is from home. The play left Chicago a little while ago, going in two directions—one company to New York, the other toward the Coast. The latter doubts if the New York company, for general effectiveness, can [illegible] this.

The piece is by Hough and Adams, the music by Joseph E. Howard. The [illegible] scenes are laid on the campus of Columbus University; in a rail-roaded cañon in the West, where the [illegible] of the plot's voyagers is held up by a landslide; and at an "orange fete" in Coronado.

The plot concerns one "Mac," the [illegible] and college pest, and his love affairs with one Lady Leslie, a demurely [illegible] little Scotchwoman, who has been brought up in comparative [illegible]. Lady Leslie is present at a colonial function, under the watchful eyes of her Scotch retainers, and it pleases [illegible] to pose as an Italian sculptor of [illegible]. The chief keeper of the Princess, [illegible] of possessing a statue of his [illegible] bargains with the bogus notable [illegible] a reproduction of her in marble. Here Mac's [illegible] reaches its height when he attempts to model in clay, and various [illegible] plots carry the joy to a pretty [illegible] of the act. The last scene [illegible] spectacular costuming and [illegible] happy ending.

She possesses not only [illegible] and a graceful girlish beauty, [illegible] an astonishing degree of acting [illegible] that her comedy has the subtle touch of subtlety and her love-making the magnetic appeal of sincerity. However—putting down Grace Edmond's irresistible charm in type [illegible] the endeavor of a painter to put in the scent of a rose.

Homer Mason, who plays Mac, is one of the virile, naturally funny, typically American boys who have been supplanting, during the last few years, the [illegible] eccentric type of musical comedian. He is thoroughly and easily [illegible] in his role, doing nothing [illegible] well, and vivifying his [illegible] line of humor with a very [illegible] personal appreciation of its [illegible].

Lisle Plumer as "Fat," the gay colored hippo; Harry Paull, as Skeeter—an [illegible] Georgie Cohan type; [illegible] Noelke as Sally, a wise co-ed; [illegible] Rafael as Col. Hunt, the [illegible] watchful Scot, and Frederick [illegible] in a dual part, appearing as [illegible] president and later as a Carlisle Indian, provide easy and listen-[illegible] supporting comedy about the principals.

The costumes of the chorus are [illegible], pretty and new; and were [illegible] as those of this first act, [illegible] be imagined that the campus [illegible] have more attractions for the [illegible] masculine idea than any other [illegible] on earth, not even excepting the [illegible] room and the surreptitious poker [illegible].

"The Girl of the Golden West" was [illegible] with much success at the Belasco last night, the especial hits of [illegible] being made by Lewis Stone [illegible] Ramirez, Florence Oakley as the [illegible] Howard Scott as the gambler [illegible] and Robert Brunton's fine [illegible], which should not be forgotten.

Costumes, scenery and effects having arrived, Ferris Hartmann, having received the elements being kind and [illegible] further mandates of earth or sky [illegible] at the moment to interfere, "The Wizard of the Nile" finally went [illegible] at the Grand Operahouse last night, with the comedian once more in his [illegible] leading place.

The Orpheum Road Show, augmented by [illegible] two more acts, commenced its second week yesterday. The merits of [illegible] entertainment have already been [illegible]. It is probably the best sample [illegible] a well-balanced vaudeville in this [illegible].

"Othello" will be the bill at Hamlin [illegible]'s Majestic Theater tonight, [illegible] by Charles Hanford and his [illegible] company. From now on until the end [illegible] of the week the bill will change [illegible].

As was announced in these columns [illegible] time ago, Miss Blanche Hall is [illegible] to return to the Burbank Theater. Her [illegible] was not looked for before [illegible], but owing to the resignation [illegible] Miss Mary Hall, she will arrive [illegible] sooner, assuming her wonted [illegible] in a month or six weeks.

Miss Mary Hall—they of the name [illegible] many, indeed—will return East [illegible] a few weeks, where she has [illegible] important engagements open [illegible].

LAMENTS FOR LICENSE.

Half-Mongolian Can't Get Authority at Fresno to Marry German Girl from Pennsylvania.

FRESNO, Jan. 24.—For the reason he stated his father was a Chinaman, although his mother was a German, an Armona rancher was yesterday refused a license by the County Clerk to marry a pretty German girl who had come all the way from Pennsylvania to be his bride.

When the couple appeared for a license, Deputy Clerk Ryan said he could not issue one until he was fully convinced he was obeying the law. The statute says a Caucasian cannot marry a Mongolian. Upon consulting Dist.-Atty. Church, the latter advised him that the only safe way would be to refuse the license.

The couple were very indignant, the would-be groom stating that his brothers had all married white girls in this State. He will not give up his effort to secure a license, and if he cannot secure one in California, will go to some State where laws of this nature are not enforced or have never been enacted.

A Strong and Sturdy Race

Scotland reared a strong and sturdy race on oatmeal porridge. The brawny Scot was an out-door man with a digestion like an ox. But you don't have to wear kilts and live out of doors to digest H-O.

It's different from the raw oatmeal that is sold as "rolled oats." It is steam-cooked three hours under high pressure by a patent process. It retains all the nutriment in the oats without hulls or dirt—the cleanest and best oatmeal on the market, and the only kind that's steam-cooked. Ten minutes' boiling prepares it for the table. Ask your grocer for H-O.

SHOOFLY AT PUNTA GORDA.

Trains Will Pass Landslide on High Trestle.

Riprap and Retaining Wall as a Protection

May Be Made Permanent Route of Track

The Southern Pacific will build a shoofly around the landslide at Punta Gorda over a pile trestle to cost from $30,000 to $75,000, which will likely be made the permanent track. The trestle will be twelve feet above the ground, and protected by riprap and retaining walls from further slides on the one side and damage from the ocean waves on the other. It will be necessary to build from 2000 feet to a mile of trestle, and the work will be very difficult and expensive.

At the point of the slide the track runs along a bluff close to the coast and is flanked by giant cliffs 200 feet high. Heavy piles will be driven into the ground, three abreast every fifteen feet, bents will be protected and strengthened by batters on each side and across this stringers will be run, as in the case of the 100-mile Lucin cut-off over the Salt Lake. Heavily riprapped on each side, it will be filled in between with dirt and track laid over it.

While this is likely to be a permanent improvement, it was said yesterday at the office of the Southern Pacific engineers that at present the main proposition is to provide a safe temporary way of getting around the slide. Questions involving a change in track alignment must be carefully considered and after the temporary shoofly is laid the matter of permanent improvement will be taken up.

It will be necessary to blast away a large amount of overhanging cliff, which now threatens the road, no matter what temporary measure is adopted for restoring traffic. Steam shovels and hydraulic outfits have reached the scene from both Los Angeles and San Francisco, and the work of excavating is under way.

The bodies of the men killed in the slide have not been found, and may not be recovered for several days. The Coroner decided that a jury of inquiry was not necessary, and the jury which convened has been dissolved.

Traffic on the Valley line has been restored to normal. All trains from the East are arriving on time. San Francisco trains are reaching Los Angeles from one to two hours late, and trains are started from this city on time.

Train No. 9 of the Coast line, leaving at 7:30 p.m., will hereafter be run over the Valley line, making three daily trains between this city and San Francisco.

Two locals daily between Los Angeles and Ventura and the two daily through trains between Santa Barbara and San Francisco, as heretofore announced in The Times, will be continued until the Coast line is ready for through service.

At Work on Grade.

Grading is to be started on a large scale on the branch of the Southern Pacific, long contemplated, between Pearce and Douglas, by way of Courtland and Gleason. The contract was let to D. J. Desmond, and several outfits have been moved during the past few days to Pearce, and 100 men are at work. Other outfits and additional men will be shipped at once and the road, the surveys for which have been completed for several years, rushed.

The building of this branch will give Courtland, the new mining camp, which it is asserted will rival Bisbee as a great producer, two railroads, as the Mexican and Colorado River, recently organized by the Phelps-Dodge people, has a large force of men completing surveys and starting grade work on a line from Courtland to Douglas.

Three weeks ago this company put a large outfit to work at Courtland, grading for the spurs which will be put in to different mining camps in the district. Right-of-way men have also been active and necessary land secured along the proposed route.

It is said that orders placed some time ago for material are being filled and everything is in readiness for a rush job of railroad building.

Goldfield to Ely.

The Goldfield Tribune quotes Malcolm Macdonald as saying that within two weeks (from last Thursday,) surveyors will start over the Goldfield to Ely route, a squad from each end, and that $50,000 has been deposited to pay for the survey. Mr. Macdonald has been very active in the promotion of the project and feels that there is no longer the slightest doubt as to its being built. The distance is 200 miles and Mr. Macdonald estimates the cost to be between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000.

Brown Heads Merger.

Midnight, January 31, the physical merger of the National lines of Mexico and the Mexican Central Railway will take place, and E. N. Brown, president of the newly-formed holding company, becomes the actual head of both the Central and the National Railroad. President S. M. Felton of the Central is said to hold a contract with that road for several months, but it is not known whether he will remain in charge of the operation of the Central or resign. He has been mentioned several times as the probable head of the Harriman lines in Mexico, but while this is undenied, nothing definite is known as to the accuracy of the report.

Members of Lincoln Family Meet to Participate in Centennial of Abraham's Birth.

Eight of the fifteen members of the Lincoln family residing in Los Angeles were represented at a meeting held in the San Fernando building last night to arrange for participation in the centennial celebration of the birth of Abraham Lincoln.

After establishing their credentials as having the right to bear the name of Lincoln, those present decided to take the matter up with Mayor Harper and the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, and offer to assist in the local celebration.

Walter Gould Lincoln, No. 1961 Ivanhoe street, who called the meeting, explained that all of the people bearing the name of Lincoln in this country are descendants of four brothers, who came to this country from England in 1663. Their names were Thomas, Daniel, Samuel and Richard. Abraham Lincoln was reputed a descendant from Samuel.

Those present were J. W. Lincoln, No. 122 South Bunker Hill avenue, representing his sons, Charles and Albert; Frederick J. Lincoln, No. 206 East Pico street, representing his sons, John F. and T. W. Lincoln, of Long Beach and Wilmington; E. W. Lincoln, No. 1390 Orange street, and C. B. F. Lincoln, No. 356 South Figueroa street, made themselves known by telephone, and said that although they could not be present last night, would attend all future meetings.

J. W. Lincoln said that he was a direct descendant of Samuel Lincoln, and that his great-grandfather and Abraham Lincoln's grandfather were brothers. Mr. Lincoln is from Clay county, Missouri.

Frederick Lincoln is a descendant of Daniel Lincoln, and a twelfth cousin of Abraham. His grandfather was Capt. Henry Lincoln, who served in the War of 1812, and his great-grandfather, Col. Lincoln, who served in the Revolution.

Walter G. Lincoln is a descendant of Thomas Lincoln through eight generations. T. W. Lincoln is also a descendant of Thomas. He served in the Civil War, his grandfather, Hosea Lincoln, served in the War of 1812, and his great-grandfather, Jeremia Lincoln, served as a captain in the French and Indian wars. E. W. Lincoln telephoned that he, also, was a descendant of Thomas Lincoln.

C. B. F. Lincoln is the nearest relative to Abraham Lincoln in this city. His grandfather, Mordecai, was a brother of Abraham Lincoln's father.

Another meeting will be held soon.

THE NAME "CRAFTSMAN" will at once suggest to the trade of beautiful and artistic furniture as manufactured by the CRAFTSMAN furniture, made in the Gustav Stickley shops at Syracuse, New York, has a distinctiveness and character that is difficult to describe.

We have found this furniture ideal for Southern California homes. The treatment of the wood and leather insures absolute durability, and the generous lines and ample proportions seem to express the character of this locality and the people.

CRAFTSMAN furniture is all made in white quarter sawed Oak, fumed and thoroughly seasoned, every piece being hand made, pinned, doweled and molded together by intelligent artisans who are ambitious to put the very best effort in their work.

CRAFTSMAN—like all genuine goods of exceptional merit—has many imitators. Some bear the same surname, or what is sometimes called Stickley furniture is not CRAFTSMAN. Only the furniture manufactured in the shops of Gustav Stickley can be rightly called CRAFTSMAN.

The word "CRAFTSMAN" is registered in the United States patent office as the trade mark under which is sold the furniture designed and built exclusively by Gustav Stickley. Each piece of CRAFTSMAN furniture bears a shop mark consisting of an ancient joiner's compass with the motto, "Als Ik Kan," and Gustav Stickley's signature.

We feel honored in being Gustav Stickley's exclusive Los Angeles representative, and in this connection it might be interesting for you to know that Southern California ranks high in the amount of CRAFTSMAN furniture used. Last year, 1908, we ranked third in the United States, from the standpoint of output; McCreery's of New York was first; Marshall Field of Chicago second; and Pease Brothers of Los Angeles, third. This fact bespeaks not only the high character of our Southern California homes, but indicates the appreciation of our people of an honest article, honestly made and honestly sold.

Anty Drudge—"No, sir. I have not used one for many year. It didn't take the women of this town long to get rid of their washboilers after I came and told them how to wash with Fels-Naptha in cool or lukewarm water. No more boiling clothes for them I see."

FACTS, FEATURES AND FANCIES FOR WOMEN

BY MISS SYDNEY FORD.

There is always a throng of women before the windows of a Broadway establishment which caters almost exclusively to children. The cunning little tots wearing the latest thing in socks and bonnets and shoes and all the charming accessories that go to make up the up-to-date baby's toilet inevitably attract an admiring audience. Indeed, the children themselves delight to gaze at their waxen prototype arrayed in clothes exactly like their own. "She's got on my shoes," exclaimed one tot yesterday, pointing a small finger at the dainty little kid strap slippers worn by one model. A new idea is shown in the fastening of the sash which is held in place by the familiar oblong straps—but as heretofore, stitched below the waist line to give a long effect—but instead of bringing to the other extreme and holding the sash in the soft, satin ribbon high up just below the arms. It is tied in the back in soft loops and ends, and this style of arrangement appeals to the average mother for it at once assures her that the bow she has so carefully tied will not be crushed out of shape in a minute the little one sits down. The tiny hot-water bags are the cutest things. They will hold about a pint-full of warm water, and a width of ribbon, folded over and feather-stitched, makes a dainty covering. For warming baby's cold hands or feet these diminutive rubber bags are unsurpassed.

Hair—More View.

Suffering men have cause to rejoice, for I have it straight from Paris that there is a tendency to wear the hair less to the head for evening functions. If this be true, no more will unhappy wights be compelled to dodge inconsequently behind the immense coiffure in order to get a glimpse of the stage. While it is quite possible and reasonable for us to remove our hats at theaters or opera it is equally impossible and unreasonable to expect us to remove our hair.

• •

The Middle-Aged Woman.

Have you noticed that the favorite headgear for women past their prime is the turban? Do you know why? The becoming turban so fashionable this season shades the back and sides of the head that it is very becoming to those whose full-blown beauty is beginning to show signs of fading. The artful but innocent-looking turban leaves only the firm, youthful lines of the face exposed. There is nothing like concealing ears and throat after the forties march along.

Chemical Dressing.

The most interesting discussion is being carried on in Harper's Bazar concerning the possibility of a working-woman clothing herself well on less than $100 a year. Some timely tips are given from month to month by women who claim to accomplish this feat. One woman says that she wears only the best Lisle hose—three pairs for a dollar—and that she increases their wearing power a thousandfold by washing them in a bowl every night. "The result is wonderful," she declares. "I have worn a very sheer Lisle three months without even a pin-hole by washing them every night. It is done in a trice, but do it as regularly as you take your daily plunge."

There is as much of what Emerson called "the genius of economy" in washing well as in saving well. This young New York woman has the secret of patronizing the best-avenue shops "between seasons." Often the $25 hats are marked down—in January and July—to $5 and the $35 hats drop to less than half. One such hat suit, declares this clever Gotham girl, she wore constantly for three years, as good and lasting was the style.

Five Tea Service.

Have you noticed the charming combinations in brass displayed in Broadway shops? These jars and jardinieres, candlesticks and sconces are always useful in any kind of a room. There is nothing which brightens and gives a good effect with so little expense as brass. A brass tea service is not only useful, but may be made an exceedingly effective part of the decorative scheme. If you have ever gone through our Russian settlement in the district bordering about Bethlehem Institute, you will notice, in every little home or hovel, no matter how poor, the bright gleam of the samovar. Not one of these refugees from unfriendly clime will part with the precious samovar, no matter how pressed they may be. I made a call of calls in the Russian settlement a year or so ago under the chaperonage of a city missionary—a Wellesley graduate who is giving her time and talent to the poor. At every home we called, the gentle, sweet-faced Russian housewife, clad in the full skirts, gaily cross-stitched apron and spotless headkerchief of her countrywomen, immediately lighted the samovar before we entered, nor was she content until we had sipped the delicious tea which, next this household treasure, the family had brought with them from far-away Russia, and would not part with at any price.

Get a samovar if you can, to take the place of the brass kettle. They are so practical and convenient, especially for serving tea to a number of guests, and are so little understood in this country.

Do You Need Furniture?

It's rather a good time these days to look up your new spring furniture. For instance, if you need a sewing table to use for the spring sewing you can get one today at a Main street furniture house for 65 cents. It is a solid oak frame and has a handy sewing rule on top. Usually you have to pay $1.25 for this sort of table. The same firm advertises a kitchen cabinet for less than $3—the kind that usually sells for $4.50. It has flour and bread bins and two drawers for kitchen ware.

It's a good time to get stoves, too—for heaters. I always hesitate to recommend an oil stove—or I did before I experimented for two seasons with a perfection oil heater and found it to give genuine satisfaction—no smoke or smell. All furniture and hardware stores and most department stores carry these heaters and just now that the winter is half over, the price is marked down. If you need one is the time to get it, and it will be handy for another season. Some broadway hardware store offers rewards for the astonishing price of 75 cents—hardwood boards, too, with cast top. Summer will soon be here and with the prospect of the shirtwaists to launder, a sleeve-board is an actual necessity.

In a minute those scissors were as sharp as needles. Try it. Use the cork of the bottle to stick the ends of the scissors in when you put your work away in your bag. Then they won't be digging holes in everything they come in contact with.

Timely Tips.

The empire coat is a style that is extremely becoming to the youthful figure, and is not at all trying as it seems to bring out the most graceful lines.

The custom of wearing thin frocks in the house, particularly for informal evening affairs, is increasing, and their girlish simplicity is fascinating.

Taupe is still as much a favorite as it was before its popularity swept everything in anything like its shade from the counters in the early fall.

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

"The Servant in the House."

Kennedy's remarkable play, "The Servant in the House," was reviewed at the Ebell Club yesterday afternoon by a woman minister of the gospel, Rev. Eliza Tupper Wilkes who, though Puritan-born and Puritan-bred, declared that the modern drama is the form of literature which reflects the true spirit of the times and through which must come the reform in social conditions. She referred to Shaw, Ibsen and a host of modern dramatists who are preaching sermons through the medium of plays.

The speaker prefaced her talk with a brief outline of the play, giving the plot of the story and a sketch of the principal characters. "The play," she declared, "is a parable, and symbolic of the modern problems. It is a sermon on the text, 'If any man would be great among you, let him be your servant.' In the character of the butler, Manson, the Bishop of Benares in disguise, is revealed the Christ spirit which would teach the blessedness of service. Grecian in its simplicity, the drama is absorbing in its interest, and in its dealing with simple human relationships finds response in every human heart.

"If men and women would wake with every sun to will the good that now lies a half-born purpose in their hearts," concluded the speaker, "the world would be transformed and every city in our land would become a city of light."

Following the review, Miss Williamene Wilkes read portions of the play, her interpretations being exquisite and keenly analytical, and many a tear was surreptitiously wiped away by members of the audience during the dramatic and touching recital.

GERMAN-AMERICAN PROPAGANDA

A general propaganda against the aggression of the Prohibitionists of Southern California was the chief resolution adopted by the German-American Alliance of Southern California at the fourth annual convention of that society, held Sunday afternoon at Turner Hall. The effort to make the Southwest a prohibition section was asserted to be directly against the customs of the German-speaking people who live here. Members of the many organizations comprising the Alliance were urged to take an interest in all public and political questions, without distinction as to party affiliation, with an aim toward bringing about a high political standard, such as that prevailing in their native land. Direct opposition to the Sunday Rest bill, a measure now pending before the Legislature, was embodied in one of the resolutions, on the ground that it is inimical to individual freedom.

MOTHER'S HEROISM.

At the risk of her life, Mrs. F. W. Drake of No. 1953 Ivanhoe street, saved her children from death by fire after the explosion of a distillate tank at her home yesterday morning.

The tank was placed directly above the stove in the kitchen, Mrs. Drake carried her two children, Russell, 5 years old and Lillian, two years old, into the room and tied the little girl in a chair. She then proceeded to fill the tank, but while doing this, drippings from the faucet caught fire and like a flash the flames spread to the tank. When the explosion came, the tank was scattered and flaming oil spattered about the room.

Mrs. Drake was hurled against a partition by the shock and her clothes and hair were set on fire, but she wrapped herself in a rug and smothered it.

By that time the room was filled with smoke and flame. Although weak from fright and pain, Mrs. Drake groped her way about until she came upon the unconscious form of the baby and dragged her from the chair. Then she found her little boy, who was half dazed, and with both children, staggered into the yard.

An alarm was sent in and the fire department's quick response saved the house. The damage amounted to about $150.

NIGHT RIDER COERCED.

Ed Marshall Says He Was Forced to Join Band and Share Murder.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

UNION CITY (Tenn.) Jan. 25.—Ed Marshall, on trial for complicity in the murder of Capt. Quentin Ranken, who was killed by a night rider band, testified today in his own behalf.

On cross-examination the witness said he was told that unless he joined the night riders he and his wife and baby would be killed and his property burned. He said he went with Fred Pinjer, sentenced to be hanged, to the rendezvous, and took the oath.

At Walnut Log, becoming convinced that Col. Taylor and Capt. Ranken were to be killed, the witness testified, he pleaded with the leader to save their lives. Failing in this he mounted his horse and rode away before the firing was begun.

PASADENA.

DOUBLE EVENT TO CELEBRATE.

TWO CENTENNIALS ARE TO BE PROPERLY OBSERVED.

PASADENA, Jan. 26.—Preparations are being made by leading men to appropriately celebrate the centennial anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln. Rev. Leslie Learned, rector of the All Saints' Episcopal Church, is heading the movement, and has solicited the assistance of a number of the leading educators. As the Lincoln centennial is identical with that of Darwin, Dr. Scherer of Throop Institute is arranging to combine the two. Prof. Charles Frederick Holder will speak to the students of Throop Institute on Darwin and his work.

ELKS' CARNIVAL SUCCESS.

Everything went off as planned at the Elks' Carnival last night, and those in the booths were kept busy. The booths will be open this evening.

FOR BETTER ROADS.

Special attention is called by the directors of the Board of Trade to the public lecture of Logan W. Page at the board's rooms tonight. It will be free. Mr. Page will be the guest of the directors in a trip about Pasadena this afternoon.

DIES OF HEART TROUBLE.

After viewing the remains of Thomas Powell, the laborer, who dropped dead in the orchard of Edward Neathem at No. 1610 Summit avenue yesterday, Coroner Hartwell pronounced the cause of death as valvular disease of the heart. There will be no inquest.

SECURES TOURNAMENT PARK.

At a joint meeting yesterday afternoon of the directors of the Tournament of Roses Association and the Southern California Horse Show Association, an agreement was reached whereby Tournament Park will be leased to the latter for the four days of the horse show, March 9, 10, 11, and 12.

JOHN MUIR BUSY.

John Muir is in this city, stirring up interest in the attempt of San Francisco authorities to seize the Hetch-Hetchy for a water supply, a move which Muir bitterly opposes.

Following his visit here, which will probably last about three weeks, he has planned a tour of the Coast, in which he will campaign against what he calls the desecration of the park for the purpose of making the valley a big reservoir.

He said that in his belief it would be as big a crime against the beauty of California as though Yosemite Valley were to be used for a like purpose. He believes that the Hetch Hetchy Valley should be in charge of the government.

SEIZED BY CHIEF.

Chief of Police Favour yesterday afternoon pulled down a runaway horse in front of Hotel Maryland before the animal could dash on down to the crowded business section.

Chief Favour was crossing Los Robles avenue when he saw a horse, attached to a light wagon filled with lumber and tools, dashing down the avenue. He caught the animal by the mane and was dragged for nearly 200 feet before he brought it to a stop. Those who witnessed the act applauded the chief for his courage and presence of mind. The horse belongs to N. K. Neff of No. 165 Dayton street.

PRELATE VISITS.

Michael Cudahy, the Chicago capitalist, has as his guest Archbishop Riordan of San Francisco, who will spend nearly three weeks in Pasadena. The visit of the prelate is for recreation. He will be asked to preach at St. Andrew's Catholic Church.

MUCH ENCOURAGED.

Mrs. Clara B. Burdette, who is in charge of the benefit for the Pasadena Hospital, which will be held at Hotel Maryland on Saturday, is much encouraged by the numerous requests for luncheon reservations and the way in which tickets are selling.

Society belles who will act as bell-girls and clerks have come forward in such numbers and offered their services that it has been decided to work them in relays for the day.

Considerable interest is taken in the kind of uniforms which the girls who take the place of the bellboys will wear, but this has been kept a secret.

MISS BARNES ENTERTAINS.

One of the most delightful parties of the winter season was that given yesterday afternoon by Miss Madeline Barnes at her home on St. John avenue in honor of Miss Jean Chapelle, who is a guest at Hotel Green this winter. Pink and white sweet peas with quantities of green adorned the drawing-room, where tables were arranged for bridge and the new and fascinating pastime of picture making from mosaic puzzles.

Miss Barnes and Miss Chapelle received their guests and Mrs. Wilbur Day and Mrs. E. A. Ford presided over the teacups in the dining-room. The table was ornamented with pink and white sweet peas and maidenhair ferns. Prizes were awarded for bridge and the puzzle game and were won by Mrs. Henry Vilas, Misses Irene Grosse, Sommerville, Evelyn Sommerville, Grace Clark, Pauline Lutz, Mildred Cushing, Marjorie Bolt, Edith Rowland and Abbie McHenry. An innovation in the distribution of prizes was introduced. Eleven attractive awards were arranged upon a table and according to their score the winners were permitted to make each her own selection. As there were ten winners a choice remained to the one with the lowest score. There were sixty of the younger society matrons and maids present.

VALLEY HUNT CLUB.

Two hundred members of the Valley Hunt Club and their out-of-town friends were pleasantly entertained Saturday evening with stereopticon views of Hawaii, moving pictures showing the sports of the Hawaiian Islands and stirring Hawaiian music. After the lecture descriptive of the views shown the Hawaiian orchestra, in native costume, furnished music for dancing, accompanying the stringed instruments with melodious voices. Supper was served in the dining-room where Mmes. Clarence B. Hall and Henry H. Klamroth presided over the acacia-decked table.

BRIDGE PARTY.

Mrs. Freeman A. Ford of South Grand avenue was the hostess Saturday afternoon at a prettily appointed bridge party and was assisted in entertaining by her mother, Mrs. Geoorge Gerald Guyer. The drawing-room, where the card tables were arranged, was lovely with masses of pink roses and pink carnations; maidenhair ferns were used in ornamentation of the dining-room. Those present were: Mmes. John S. Cravens, Charles D. Calley; Lawrence Newman, Charles Craig Perkins, Lloyd Macy, Benjamin Blossom, Walstein Root, Robert A. Rowan, Robert Pitcairn, Joseph Hixon, William S. McCay, J. Foster Rhodes, William Park, John B. Miller, C. M. Tulloch, J. V. Eliot, Walter Raymond, John W. Hugus, H. Drummond, Helen Belford; Misses Sharpe, Van Sickler, Agnes Gill, Marjorie Bolt, Cora Auten, Maud Daggett, Edith Rowland, Florence Dwight, Graham, Leuppe, and Irene Grosse.

GLENDALE GAIETY.

Colonial Head-Dress Ball to Be Given By Woman's Auxiliary of the Country Club.

GLENDALE, Jan. 25.—Interest in the set comprising members of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Glendale Country Club was focused today upon the result of the regular Monday meeting held in the parlors of the clubhouse on Brand boulevard.

The belief prevailed that out of the new board of directors officers for the ensuing years would be elected. Instead, plans were made for the giving of the grandest affair, socially, of the winter. The event is to be a "Colonial head-dress" ball and a tea on February 15.

Members of the old and of the new boards are to act as hostesses. This fact assures the success of the elaborate plans evolved today. Handsome prizes are to be given for the most original, the most beautiful and the most comic head-dress. The new official board is composed of Mrs. L. C. Brand, residing at Hampden Arms, Los Angeles, and whose summer home is "Miradero," in the North Glendale foothills; Mrs. Charles Shattuck, Central avenue, the present president of the auxiliary; Mrs. Menzo Williams of North Glendale, Mrs. J. C. Sherer of "Somerset Farm," Verdugo; Mrs. Edgar W. Pack of "The Priory," Mrs. Ezra F. Parker of Lomita Park, and Mrs. A. W. Collins of Tropico.

The meeting today was a harmonious affair, and discounted stories current that trouble was imminent over the coming election, owing to some misunderstanding in the application of the bylaws, which are not, as was supposed, identical with those of the men's division of the Country Club. The point was whether the election should be held at the time of election of the official board or not until the next meeting.

PEACE.

SANTA MONICA WAR IS OFF.

COUNCIL AND RAILWAY COMPANY AGREE.

Los Angeles Pacific Will Resume Its Flyer Service and Mayor Therefore Vetoes Ordinance Which Declared the Line's Franchise Forfeited—Mysterious Surveyors.

SANTA MONICA, Jan. 25.—With a total loss of two Councilmen, resigned, the war between the City Council and the Los Angeles Pacific Railway Company was tonight declared off. The contest has dragged through several months, with the result that both city and company were losers. Santa Monica was without "flyers" and the car service was being condemned by all. Upon the written promise of Manager Sherman that the flyer service would be resumed to Santa Monica Wednesday morning, Mayor Dudley tonight vetoed the ordinance that declared a forfeiture of the trolley company's franchise. The Council sustained the veto and withdrew all offensive legislation, including the ordinance providing that street cars should make stops at all street crossings and another one imposing a tax upon all cars not carrying baggage. In consideration of these withdrawals the railway company today began the work of street repair and when the former car schedule is resumed Wednesday all cars except two flyers per hour will stop at all regular stations, and the flyer will tarry at some Trolleyway points which it refused to recognize before the opening of hostilities.

H. L. Coffmann tonight tendered his resignation as Councilman from the Fifth Ward, and J. B. Procter was elected to the vacant seat.

VOCATION TAX ABOLISHED.

An ordinance was adopted tonight by the Council by which vocation tax or license which has heretofore been collected from merchants and other business men will no longer me exacted. Last week it was decided to abolish 50 per cent. of this license; but that action was not satisfactory to the business people.

As a result of the recent extreme high tides, in conjunction with the rainstorms, the county road leading up the beach in the direction of the Malibu rancho and Point Dume is in bad condition. The waves encroached upon and washed away several of the carefully made fills, while the rainfall from the cañons proved a destructive element at the stream crossings and cañon openings.

Railroad surveyors are said to be again at work in the vicinity of Point Dume, near the Ventura-Los Angeles county line, making the final location of the Hueneme, Malibu and Port Los Angeles line and getting in readiness for the placing of the grade stakes. This work is preliminary to the letting of the fourth five-mile contract. This is the fourth year since work was commenced on this still-mysterious road, and each December since operations were first commenced has found another stretch of the road ready for the rolling stock. Just as little, and no more, is known about this road today as when work was first quietly started, and the same secrecy attaches to every movement today as has attended the construction of the line from its inception. The wharf and pier are situated at the southerly point of the Rindge ranch, twelve miles west of this city, and the line extends within a short distance of Ventura county. The first work done was at a point a mile up the coast from Port Los Angeles, but an injunction brought by the Southern Pacific brought operations at that point to a termination. A truce was established and for a time armed guards watched the disputed right of way day and night; but there was some stipulation made, the guards were withdrawn, and the suit never came to trial.

Go to Coronado and be warm.

MONROVIA.

MONROVIA, Jan. 25.—Lumber dealers and contractors figure that the next thirty days will see a marked decrease in the number of contracts let for residences. Numerous plans are being drawn by architects for attractive homes, but actual work will be delayed. The reason given by the lumbermen is that on March 1 all work in progress will be assessed for taxes for the current year. The rainy season also has a marked effect on the number of contracts let. About fifty houses are now in course of construction, prices ranging from $1,500 to $5000. The major portion is located within walking distance of the Pacific Electric line.

Postmaster Anson is meeting with difficulty in supplying the public with 2-cent stamps. Notwithstanding a liberal estimate for increase of business for the midwinter quarter over previous years the number of stamps he obtained fell far short of meeting the demand and Mr. Anson has to borrow until a new supply can be forwarded from Washington.

M. H. Best has received a telegram from San Francisco announcing the departure of Rev. and Mrs. Clark H. Marsh on the steamer Manchuria, which sailed Saturday for Hongkong.

The union revival services conducted by the Protestant Churches are being held this week in the Baptist Church on East Olive avenue.

SOUTH PASADENA.

SOUTH PASADENA, Jan. 25.—The Woman's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mrs. H. G. Underwood of Korea, authoress of "The Land of the Topknots," will speak. At 6 o'clock a supper and reception will be tendered to Dr. and Mrs. Underwood by the Brotherhood and the Missionary Society. At 7:30 o'clock Dr. Underwood will speak, followed by Mrs. Underwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Huntington of Upland are the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Huntington of Huntington Drive.

Supervisor Pridham of El Centro street has left for Elizabeth Lake and Lancaster with the intention of improving the highways in that vicinity, over which supplies to the aqueduct are hauled.

WHISKEY FOR LAME BACK.

The increased use of whiskey for lame back and rheumatism is causing considerable discussion among the medical fraternity. It is an almost infallible cure when mixed with certain other ingredients and taken properly. The following is the formula:

"To one half pint of good whiskey add one ounce of Toris compound and one ounce syrup Sarsaparilla compound. Take in tablespoonful doses before each meal and before retiring.

It is surely worth trying by anyone who may be afflicted.

TWICE WRECKED NEAR PORT.

Ill Luck Dodges San Pedro Captain, Who Loses Not Only Vessel But Wife and Child.

SAN PEDRO, Jan. 25.—Great sympathy is felt here for Capt. Charles Henningsen on account of the loss of his schooner, the Soquel, on Saturday on the Sea Bird Rocks, near Victoria, B. C., and the tragic death of his wife and infant daughter from falling spars when the schooner drove on the rocks. Capt. Henningsen and his family are well known here and have a host of friends at this port.

The Soquel formerly carried lumber cargoes to this port. At the time of the accident she was out forty-four days from Callao, Peru, for Port Townsend and was nearly at her destination. She was a vessel of 767 tons gross, 195 feet in length, 41 feet beam, 15 feet depth of hold and had a carrying capacity of 1,100,000 feet of lumber. She was built in 1902 and was owned in San Francisco.

An unusual coincidence in connection with the wreck of the Soquel is the fact that about eight years ago, Capt. Henningsen, after a record-breaking trip from Honolulu, making the run up in eleven days in the barkentine St. John, a clipper ship, ran her ashore at Carmanah Point, and she was a total wreck only a few miles from where he again met disaster with the handsome schooner Soquel.

NEW SCHEDULE.

The Pacific Coast Steamship Company today announced its schedule of sailings for British Columbia, Puget Sound, San Francisco and Southern California ports. The steamships Queen and City of Puebla have been added to the service and with the steamship Santa Rosa will be on a regular schedule between Seattle and San Diego. The steamship State of California will continue to run between San Francisco and San Diego.

The new schedule affords a through sailing every six days between Seattle, Everett, Olympia, Victoria, B. C.; Tacoma, Anacortes, Bellingham, Vancouver, B. C., and San Francisco, Santa Barbara, Redondo, San Pedro and San Diego, and a service every three days between San Francisco, Santa Barbara, Redondo, San Pedro and San Diego. The sailing time between San Pedro and Seattle will be six days. The first steamship to leave San Pedro bound north under the new schedule will be the Queen, Capt. Jepson, which will clear from this port for Seattle and way ports at 9 a.m. January 27. The steamships Queen and City of Puebla are equipped with wireless telegraphic service.

"Hotel del Coronado" is comfortable.

POMONA, Jan. 25.—News has been received here by Mrs. T. J. Dowling of the death at San José of Phil Stein, who was at one time postmaster here and one of the leading Democrats of the valley. Mr. Stein was an officer of the Board of Trade and founded the Phil Stein Implement Company, which was located in 1890 where the building of the Pomona department store now stands. The deceased was about 53 years old and left here about ten years ago when he sold out to the Pomona Implement Company. Mr. Stein leaves a widow, who was formerly Miss Belle Toplift of this city. The interment will be at San José.

RED LETTER DAY.

Yesterday was a red letter day in the history of the local First Methodist Church. Aside from the interesting reopening exercises, which were participated in by Rev. Dr. S. A. Thompson of Los Angeles and Rev. Dr. Matthew S. Hughes of Pasadena, the pastor, Rev. L. D. Van Arnam, raised over $3100 in forty-eight minutes, when he called for contributions to cancel the indebtedness incurred in building the new addition. This makes $100,000 that has been subscribed here by local church-goers in the past fourteen months for the erection or improvement of buildings.

DIES AT BANGOR.

Information has come of the death at Bangor, Me., over a week ago, of Byron Roberts, who lived and owned property here for a number of years in the nineties. Mr. Roberts was well known in local musical circles, having possessed a rich, deep, bass voice. At the time of his death he was vice-president of the Maine Musical Festival Chorus in Bangor and a prominent church choir singer.

HOLLYWOOD MARRIAGE.

Cashier of Bank Weds Miss Minnie Belle Wilber—Three Hundred Witness Ceremony.

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 25.—What was probably the largest wedding ever celebrated in Hollywood was that of Miss Minnie Belle Wilber, daughter of Mrs. E. J. Wilber, and George Gibson Greenwood, cashier of the Hollywood National Bank. It took place at 8 o'clock this evening in the First Methodist Church, South. Rev. E. P. Ryland officiated and over 300 people attended. The bride, who is only two years out of High School, wore a white silk gown, decollete and soft veil caught to her hair with fragrant blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of violets. She was unattended save by her mother, who gave her away. Mrs. Wilber was attired in a handsome black satin and lace costume.

The bridegroom was unattended. Dr. W. E. Deering, one of the ushers, assisted with the ring. The other ushers were James Irsfield and Norman M. Wilber.

The church decoration was attractive. Above the altar was a large pergola, entwined with flowering vines and suspended from it was a mission bell.

Miss Helen Spencer presided at the piano and Miss Jessica Morgan sang.

Mr. and Mrs. Greenwood have gone for a short trip, and after February 7 will be at home at No. 700 Carlton Way.

RECLUSE IS BURIED.

Funeral of Old Resident of Wilmington, Civil War Veteran, Who Was Found Dead in Bed.

WILMINGTON, Jan. 25.—The funeral of "Billy" Howe, one of the oldest residents of Wilmington, was held yesterday. He was a recluse and lived in an old shack near the Southern Pacific depot. He was found dead in his room late Friday evening. He was 75 years old.

He was a Civil War veteran, a member of Co. F, Fourth California Infantry, serving in California and Arizona.

S. M. Quimby, who is spending the winter in Elsinore, was here Saturday, making arrangements for the erection of a brick block on his lot on Canal street, between the bank building and the Peterson block.

Andrew Young went to San Francisco last week in the interest of the Banning Company. He is the manager of the Banning boat works on Mormon Island and has gone north to look after the new suction dredger which is to be built or purchased for use in the channel which the company is dredging here.

C. P. Guthridge, vice-president of the North American Dredging Company, left for San Francisco after filing his bond on his contract for dredging the city's channel. He has gone north to get a clamshell dredger to be used for dilking. This will be followed by a suction dredger for digging the channel.

LIBERAL SUBSCRIPTIONS.

Claremont Congregational Church Raises Nearly Twelve Thousand Dollars for Pomona College.

CLAREMONT, Jan. 25.—Subscriptions totaling nearly $12,000 were taken at the morning service of the Congregational Church yesterday, the money to go toward the endowment fund necessary to meet the conditions of Andrew Carnegie's offer of $50,000 to Pomona College. Friends of the college are much gratified at the liberality of the amount subscribed by the residents of the town, the sum being considered a large one for so small a community.

The next move in the campaign for securing the remaining $100,000 will be on the city of Pomona, that is nearly as vitally interested in the welfare of the college as Claremont itself. It is expected the response of the larger town will be as liberal as that of the college community, and upon this expectation is based much of the confidence of the college authorities to raise the entire amount within the prescribed time limit.

TRIES TO BLOW OIL OUT.

Santa Monica Woman Painfully Injured as Result of Experience With Heater.

OCEAN PARK, Jan. 25.—Mrs. Edward Pierce of No. 337 South Fourth street occupies a bed at the Santa Monica Bay Hospital, suffering intense pain as a result of an experience with a coal oil heater. In endeavoring to blow the flame out, as she was retiring for the night, the blaze crept into the heater's oil reservoir and set the kerosene on fire. Immediately there was a conflagration that communicated to her night clothes and painfully burned her from the waist downward. Only the prompt action of other members of the family saved her life and prevented the destruction of the house. No serious results are expected to follow the accident.

TRUNK'S PRESCRIPTION

RHEUMATISM

Cannot possibly exist in any form if you will take Trunk's Prescription for Rheumatism and Gout and use the Adecta [illegible] and use them strictly according to the directions.

Inflammatory, Sciatic, Muscular, Lumbago, Gout or any other form of Rheumatism. It is positively absurd, ridiculous and preposterous—it is really a pity and a shame to talk about Rheumatism, much less to suffer with it, when you can get Trunk's Prescription for Rheumatism and Gout for $1.50.

This prescription does not ruin the Stomach and it does not depress the Heart. It does not contain any Salicylate of Soda, Salicylic Acid, Oil of Wintergreen, Opium, Morphine or Bromide in any form. It cannot harm you, but it will remove Rheumatism in any and all forms.

WAS DOWN AND OUT AFTER FOUR YEARS' STRUGG

E. A. Castle Gave Up Business Because [illegible] pepsia Was Too Much For Him.

L. T. Cooper's preparation, which is at present enjoying a tremendous sale in New York, was strongly endorsed by E. A. Castle, of 300 West Seventeenth street, Tuesday.

Cooper, who claims that most ill-health is caused by stomach trouble, is meeting the public and explaining his medicine at present in New York. Mr. Castle called at the Cooper headquarters about 3 o'clock and said:

"This New Discovery is all and more than Cooper claims. I say this after a remarkable experience with this preparation. I had heard of Cooper's success in Boston, and therefore when I began to hear of him in New York I came to see him some time ago. I had little faith in any medicine, but after four years of constant suffering, during which time I consulted the very best specialists, was operated upon twice and received no benefit whatever, I made up my mind to try this treatment.

"I started taking Cooper's New Discovery seven weeks ago. At that time I was in such poor health that I had given up business. I began to improve after the first week, and later very rapidly. The past three weeks I have had no trace of stomach trouble. I can eat anything with no bad effects whatever. I have a fine appetite and am gaining flesh. I am cheerful, full of energy and am no longer nervous. My kidneys are in perfect condition for the first time in years. I am now back at my business again and feel as well as I had been made over.

REMOVAL TASK NOT YET BEGUN.

MOUNTAIN OF DEBRIS STILL OBSTRUCTS TRACKS.

Steam Shovel Inactive Because of Fear It Might Mangle Bodies of Men Entombed Beneath the Gigantic Landslide at Punta Gorda. Lumber Schooner Still Aground.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With its steam shovel inactive because of the fear that it might mangle the bodies of the men entombed beneath the gigantic landslide at Punta Gorda, last Saturday morning, and its hydraulic hose unable to get anything but sand from the ocean's bed, the task of removing the mountain of earth and rock from the Southern Pacific Railway's track has not yet been begun.

WALK AROUND BLOCKADE.

Meantime the road is blocked. All trains are canceled as far as regular passenger order is concerned. Trains Nos. 11 and 21, usually through trains to the south, are being made up here daily, north-bound. The southern situation is extremely serious. Early this afternoon carried a big load of passengers to a point a mile south of the landslide. To approach the slide was deemed dangerous. The passengers were compelled either to walk to this city or get around the slide by way of the shore, at low tide. Rigs were provided for most of the women and children, but the men walked. They had to descend the steep bluffs to the sand, and walk a mile and a half to the train waiting on the south end of the slide. The company declined to handle any baggage, but mail was carried with as little delay as possible. The Southern Pacific officials here made every effort to insure the comfort and convenience of patrons. While they frankly informed the passengers of the condition and warned them of the discomfort and peril of passing the landslide, they took every means to make the trip as comfortable as possible.

RUSH FOR BERTHS.

Destruction of the railroad has caused the local office of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company to do a big business. Tourists and others, detained here, continue on their way, have made the steamship office with booking of berths, north and south. The steamships from Walla Walla, who have been here since Friday, and are now overdue in Los Angeles, went ashore today on the railroad.

BOTH STILL ASHORE.

Neither the sailing schooner Ensign, at Naples, nor the steamer Sibyl Martin, at Surf, was moved by the high seas of the last few days, but little had been done toward getting them off. The heavy surf has interfered with the work.

CHURCH MATCH IN CHURCH.

Pastor Applies It to Mortgage-Rush for Seats for Society Opera.

ORLANDS, Jan. 25.—The Lutheran church was dedicated with appropriate ceremonies yesterday and a $2000 debt was burned. The dedicatory address was by Dr. J. A. B. Scherer, president of Throop Polytechnic Institute, Pasadena, who took as his text, "Whatsoever he saith unto you, [illegible]."

The church was handsomely decorated and was crowded to the doors. Special music was given by the choir, and the services were presided over by the pastor, Rev. G. H. Hillerian. At the conclusion of the eloquent and scholarly sermon by Dr. Scherer the mortgage for $2000 was destroyed. Peter Miller was the first to sign it, held the plate while Rev. Mr. Hillerman applied the match. The services also included a short address by Mrs. K. B. Shaffer, national president of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society.

RUSH FOR TICKETS.

The sale of tickets for "H. M. S. Pinafore," the opera to be put on at the Hyatt Frilling and Saturday evenings by local society and musical people for the benefit of the Spinet Club fund, opened this morning at Hamburger's at a local drug store. It was the "first come, first served," and before the first messenger boy [illegible] there at 2 o'clock this morning. The next at 3:15 and the third at 4:30. The boy who arrived at 7:30 was number twenty-five and by 10 o'clock the line had extended into the street. The store opened at 9 and there was a rush for the most desirable seats. The opera will be held by Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bilicke, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Stolz, Mr. and Mrs. A. Kimberly, Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Stolz, Mr. and Mrs. S. Y. Wynne. The leading woman will be Mrs. Fisher and the leading man Mr. Kingsbury.

BUSINESS CHANGE.

C. S. Chestnut Drug Company has sold to J. H. Fisher and H. P. D. Emery, minority stockholders, the business by the store for approximately $25,000. At the same time Mr. Fisher acquired from Mr. Kingsbury their stock. The firm then leased the building for [illegible] years.

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With its steam shovel inactive because of the fear it might mangle the bodies of those entombed beneath the gigantic landslide at Punta Gorda, last Saturday morning, and its hydraulic monitor unable to get anything but sand from the ocean's bed, the task of removing the mountain of earth and rock from the Southern Pacific Railroad has not yet begun.

SECURES FURTHER DELAY.

Banker Taber Succeeds in Obtaining More Time from San Diego Court. Monitor Arrives.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Homer G. Taber hearing was today postponed until 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, at the request of consel for the accused. The ground was that the time is needed to prepare a traverse to the answer to Taber's application for an appeal. On account of a murder case coming up before Judge Lewis, the case has been transferred to Judge Guy's court. Sheriff Smith of Nevada has engaged Fred W. Stearns, a leading attorney, to assist the District Attorney in enforcing the warrant for Taber's arrest. Attorneys Hammack and Dodge, representing S. K. Williamson, are here from Los Angeles to assist in the fight for Taber's release. Smith says he will stay here all winter if necessary.

WILL ADOPT AMENDMENTS.

Senator Wright while home from Sacramento for a Sunday visit, stated that there is no opposition in the Legislature to the charter amendments recently voted by the freeholders of San Diego, changing the form of government to the commission plan. He expects to secure action on the measure Tuesday.

MONITOR ARRIVES.

The U. S. monitor Cheyenne has arrived from San Francisco. On the trip a test was made of the oil burning furnaces, but so far Capt. Knapp is not prepared to make public his report. With the arrival here of the Monitor command of the flotilla now in the harbor is relinquished by Capt. Benson of the cruiser Albany, to Capt. Knapp.

MYSTERY.

Mystery still surrounds the reported sinking of a small boat with two passengers Saturday afternoon. Capt. Wilbur of Fort Rosecrans, is authority for the statement that he and other soldiers saw the boat go down, and the men drown. Although search has been made no sign of the supposed victims or their boat has been found. No local boats or people are missing.

TWO TRAINS PASS OVER THE SHAKY STRUCTURE.

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Jan. 25.—But few people here on Friday last knew that two trains passed over the Santa Fé bridge across the San Juan Creek when the structure was in a shaky condition. That there was not a wreck seems little short of wonderful. Roadmaster Hall stood on the rear platform of the north-bound passenger train Friday afternoon. As his car passed off the bridge he saw that the rails behind him sagged down and the bridge was trembling. He sent a gang of men to block up the bridge. After this was done the south-bound train passed over it. So soft was the creek bottom, covered with water from the heavy rains, that the weight of the train jammed some of the piles down, and when the cars had gone by there was a space of six inches between the bridging and the piles. A big gang of men and a pile driver have just completed thorough repairs.

When it got the casing of the well down on a hard shell of rock, the Newport Water Company lost the last well at a depth of 300 feet. A charge of dynamite not only blew out the rock, but destroyed the casing.

A reservoir will soon be constructed near the Santa Ana River in order to gain additional water pressure. Bonds to the value of $10,000 will be floated for the improvement of the city water works system.

SAN BERNARDINO, Jan. 25.—The ransacking of a Santa Fé car between Danby and Needles last October, and the disappearance, among other loot, of a case of costly shotguns, led to the arrest this morning, at Needles, of Freight Conductor Creighton, and Santa Fé Agent Pine at Danby, charged with being implicated. The officers are looking for a number of other Santa Fé employés, both on the desert and at Los Angeles, charged with knowing something of the theft. It is asserted that after the firearms were removed from the car they were distributed among railroad men, a number of shotguns being sold. The prisoners are expected to arrive here tomorrow in custody.

Rev. Father John Brady this afternoon performed the marriage ceremony for Miss Cleaver Pyle of Delores, Colo., and Frank Wuesthoff of this city, bringing to a happy finale the romantic flight of the bride from her home to this place to escape a jilted lover, Harry Parshell. The latter was a witness of the ceremony and presented his former sweetheart with a fragrant bunch of roses. The Delores man will leave in the morning for his home.

TAKES HIS OWN LIFE.

Word has been received here of the suicide at Rox, a small desert station on the Salt Lake, just across the State line in Nevada, of C. D. Thompson, a telegraph operator of Los Angeles. The deed was committed late Wednesday night. Thompson had called at the station for shelter during the night, but the agent was suspicious, and directed him to gather wood, build a fire near the tankhouse and curl up there for the night. He left, and Thursday morning the body was found where the agent had directed the man to sleep. A bullet hole in the left temple indicated the man's death, while the pistol was still clutched in the man's hand. Thompson had ample funds, and a quantity of jewelry. Two pawn tickets were found on him, issued at Los Angeles.

TROUBLE OVER DAM.

Henry Klussman, a Cucamonga rancher, who recently lost his suit against his neighbor, M. Smith, to compel him to remove a dam which he had constructed across a creek channel, this morning took the matter up with his attorneys, with the idea of appealing. The recent storms have swept over the dam, and carried a volume of water not only onto the Smith ranch, damaging the vineyard, but also onto the Klussman land, doing additional damage.

FOR HOME LABOR.

The San Bernardino Merchants' Protective Association met this evening in special session, and adopted strong resolutions urging the city authorities to let no contracts for street improvements unless the contractors are pledged to employ no one but home people where labor is to be performed. It is believed that this will result in keeping a greater portion of the bond money at home than would otherwise be the case.

Sheriff Ransom and Under Sheriff Patterson of Minden, Neb., started for home this forenoon having in charge Bert M. Taylor, accused of the murder of his sister-in-law, Miss Pearl Taylor, last April.

SEVEN-YEAR SUIT FIZZLES.

What Promised to Be Big Water Law Case Is Dismissed—Santa Ana Notes.

SANTA ANA, Jan. 25.—An action that seven years ago promised to be a big water suit has fizzled out, and has just been dismissed by the United States Circuit Court for want of prosecution. It was that of J. R. Newberry against the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation Company and the Anaheim Union Water Company. Newberry, who owned a large ranch at Rincon, asserted the right to divert 30,000 inches of water from the Santa Ana River. Had his claim been made good the lands irrigated by the two valley irrigation companies would have been desolated.

SUES CELERY COMPANY.

J. E. Ward of Long Beach, who failed to pay his assessments in the California Celery and Produce Company last summer and whose stock was taken in by the company, has brought suit against the concern for $15,180 damages. Ward was president of the company. I. M. Von Schriltz became possessed of a majority of the stock and deposed Ward, voted him off the board of directors and levied the assessments that Ward failed to meet. The latter says the procedure by which he lost control was not legal. The California Celery and Produce Company was organized to raise and ship celery independent of the Orange County Celery Growers' Association. When Von Schriltz gained control he leased his celery land to men who signed with the association.

THE BITTER END.

BANDIT, DYING, TELLS STORY.

"JIM" COOK, MEMBER OF OUTLAW GANG, PASSES AWAY.

Captured and Sentenced to Federal Prison at Columbus, Ohio, for Long Term, He Contracted Tuberculosis and Was Allowed to Return to New Mexico.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SANTA FE (N. M.) Jan. 22.—At Roswell a few days ago "Jim" Cook, brother of "Bill" Cook, the notorious Oklahoma bandit, and himself a member of a gang of outlaws of whom his brother was the leader, died after a lingering illness of tuberculosis. Before his death, Cook told the story of his life to a friend, and it is an interesting one.

According to this story, the Cook brothers were reared in Fort Smith, Ark., and upon entering young manhood struck out for themselves, going to Oklahoma in what was then Indian Territory. They soon went to the bad, and got into the train-robbing business. It was not long before they had an organized band of as daring bandits as ever terrorized the Southwest, the Dalton gang not excepted. They committed many train and bank robberies and were accused of many more which they did not commit.

Like all other bandits who have gone before, they were finally captured and, after a sensational trial, were sent to the United States prison at Columbus, O., for a long term. "Jim" Cook contracted consumption while in prison and recently, when the prison officials saw that he could not recover, a pardon was secured for him. He came directly to New Mexico in the last hope of being cured, but it was too late.

The death of Cook recalls the capture of his brother, "Bill" Cook, near Roswell, twelve years ago, together with "Slim" Turner, another member of the gang. Fred Higgins, an old-timer of Roswell, who was City Marshal of the Pecos Valley metropolis at the time, and who aided in the capture of the notorious bandit, recounts this interesting story as follows:

Cook had punched cattle in the Texas Panhandle and Southeastern New Mexico before he got into trouble in Oklahoma. When he and his gang were crowded too closely he came to New Mexico, accompanied by Turner. In the meantime "Jim" Cook had been caught in Oklahoma. Turner was taken a few days after his arrival in Roswell by Charles Perry, a deputy Sheriff, and Higgins, his capture being effected by a ruse. Thinking himself secure, Turner rode into town one day leading another horse, and went to a blacksmith shop to have the animals shod. While assisting the blacksmith, Higgins called and pretended he wanted to buy one of the horses. While they were dickering over the transaction, Perry stepped up from behind and got the drop on Turner. Although heavily armed, he had no chance to resist arrest, and was taken without a struggle.

"Bill" Cook, not caring to take a chance, had sent Turner to Roswell with his horse, and he waited several miles out. When Turner did not return by dusk, Cook's suspicions were aroused, and he fled to the mountains. He stole a horse from a ranch on the way and made for Capitan, closely pursued by a posse headed by Higgins and Perry. Upon reaching Capitan, which was situated in a remote part of Lincoln county, Cook went to the home of "Old Man" Stafford, who he expected would shield him, as he and Stafford had been fast friends while Cook was punching cattle in that part of the Territory.

But when Stafford learned Cook was a fugitive from justice, he helped plan his capture. It was arranged that Stafford was to play sick the next morning, and then send Cook down to the corral to feed and water the horses. This scheme was carried out and proved successful, for Cook, unmindful of danger, went to the stable in his shirtsleeves and without his guns. Perry and Higgins got the drop on him and he was arrested without the least bit of trouble. Bill was sent back to Oklahoma for trial, convicted and sent to the penitentiary. The scene of "Bill" Cook's final capture was the place of his brother's death.

LIBRARY TRIAL IS AT AN END.

TESTIMONY IS COMPLETED AT NINTH SESSION.

Defendant Testifies in Explanation of the Many Small Faults Alleged by Miss Blandy—Rev. Dr. Jones Was a "Visiter" and a Story Teller Himself.

That there never would have been a library row if the Civil Service Commission had not abrogated its rules over the protest of the library employés, and permitted Miss Julia W. Blandy to qualify as principal of branches, was one of the things brought out at the final hearing of the charges of Miss Blandy last night. The Library Senate did protest against the abrogation of the rules in her favor, and had the rules not been suspended she would have had no chance to compete for advancement ahead of time.

Miss Celia Gleason, assistant librarian, testified in refutation of the charges last night. Her testimony was simple and was directed to an explanation of the details which Miss Blandy cited as instances of malicious obstruction of her branch work. As to schedduling the work of attendants at the branches, Miss Gleason said she had been more careful as to how changes affected Miss Blandy than as to any other principal.

Miss Gleason said that Miss Blandy was not long in her position of principal until she criticised the acts of the librarian and other principals, and soon caused strained relationships with other members of the library force. Miss Gleason defended the library employés, saying that they committed no serious breaches of discipline, and that they were reproved often for frivolities or neglect of duty.

Miss Gleason testified that the work of her position had been such that she had taken no vacation since 1904. She has been assistant librarian ten years and has been in the library over twenty years.

Miss Blandy took the stand again last night to explain some features of her first examination. Incidentally she admitted that she had often seen Dr. Jones "visiting," which she reproached many young women for practising, but she said Dr. Jones was free to do as he pleased.

Miss Anna Beckley, recalled, told how good a story-teller Dr. Jones was when he wanted to be. He was also a loud story-teller as was shown when he told a particularly good one and Miss Blandy pushed open the door and demanded less noise. Miss Blandy had also once said she hoped Dr. Jones was not paid to be a "perpetual entertainer."

After the testimony was ended Judge Munson, attorney for Miss Blandy, made a brief argument. Miss Gleason's case was submitted without argument. The Commission took its decision under advisement.

Miss Blandy has other charges pending against Miss Bloomer, head of the reference department, and others, but the decision of the Gleason case may determine all the others.

It is not believed the Commission will find any reason to sustain Miss Blandy's accusations and it is likely the other cases will never be tried.

Grapes the Year Round in China.

Some beautiful varieties of white and purple grapes were obtained at various places, and a superior muscatel was found near Hsuen Hua Fu, 100 miles north of Peking. The climate is severe there, and the natives bury the grapevines in the ground during the long, cold winters. One variety of purple grape can be kept in cool cellars from one year's end to the other, and therefore one may find grapes on the table of the well-to-do Chinese the year around.

DRAMATIC STRUGGLE.

stand up against the fence. He obeyed and the lookout went back behind the tree, still commanding the situation. The robber secured a watch from Carney, and nothing from Ryles.

Kiskaddon, a delivery boy, 18 years old, employed by Bullock's, came hurrying east on Second street. The lookout did not see him until the youth was within a few feet of him. He stepped out and ordered the boy to throw up his hands and back up against the fence. Kiskaddon had several packages and $90 in a canvas sack. Before he raised his hands, he dropped the money bag behind him, and the robber secured only 17 cents from him.

GETTING SMITH.

Smith, who is a friend of Ryles, was on his way home when he came along and saw the three men lined up against the fence. The man behind the tree compelled him to raise his hands and stand in line. Smith was robbed of $19 and his watch. The timepiece was returned after the robber examined it.

The man with the loot hurried west on Second street, leaving his pal. As soon as the first bandit disappeared, the one behind the tree stepped out and ordered the men not to move until he got out of sight. He turned to run, and Ryles and Smith, who recognized each other, sprang out upon him and the struggle ensued.

Smith and Carney were able to give a good description of the hold-ups. The man who did the shooting is about 5 ft. 6 in. in height. He is square built, with stocky, muscular shoulders and a thick neck. He weighs about 165 pounds and was dressed in a dark, shabby suit, heavy stogy shoes and a soft white shirt. His hat, which he lost, is a dark-brown Fedora. The name of the maker had been cut out with a pocket knife. The weapon he lost is a 38-caliber hammerless revolver of cheap make. There were three empty cartridges in the cylinder, and the two others were loaded.

The other man is described as 5 ft. 8 in. tall, and slender in build, weighing about 145 pounds. He wore a dark-gray suit of clothes, a derby hat and a soft white shirt.

As soon as the police were able to get a description of the men about twenty officers were detailed to search the neighborhood. Dozens of pedestrians were stopped and searched.

Ryles, who is perhaps fatally wounded, is a piano teacher. He is single, and has lived here two years. He sank into a semi-conscious condition shortly after the shooting and was unable to talk. Dr. Dolley hurried him to the hospital and at an early hour this morning he said that his chances for recovery are slight. The bullet pierced the intestines in several places, and lodged in the back, and has not been extracted. The lead carried pieces of garment into the wound, and it is feared it will become infected.

TWO MORE HELD UP.

While J. E. Gabelson of No. 763 Ruth avenue was riding home on his bicycle about 9:30 o'clock last night he was confronted by two men at Seventh and Alameda streets. They drew revolvers and commanded him to throw up his hands. Gabelson spurted by like a flash and escaped. He was unable to give the police a description.

T. J. Holden of No. 761 East Ninth street was held up at Ninth street and Maple avenue by one man about 10 o'clock last night. He was robbed of a watch. He reported the robbery as soon as he arrived home and gave the police a description.

POUNDKEEPER'S RECALL.

everybody's orders—especially when they were all different.

"Madam," said the honorary poundkeeper, Mr. Lawson, to Miss Mathewson, "Madam, I am the official poundkeeper; kindly refrain from giving orders to my deputy."

"Sir," exclaimed Miss Mathewson, "I am the president of this association. I will run it as I see fit."

Before earnest friends could smooth that situation out in the interests of stray dogs, another crisis arose. This was on account of Mr. Stubby.

THE GOAT.

Mr. Stubby was employed as one of the gentlemanly and ethical savants who rode around on the wagon after stray dogs, taking the place of the ruffian who used to scoop in dogs in an ungentlemanly manner during the Vacher administration.

Somehow or other, Mr. Stubby came into possession of a goat. His account of the tragedy is that he was going by a house and they handed out the goat to him as it was eating the pickets off the fence.

Mr. Stubby insisted and still insists that it was given to him in his individual capacity as himself. An awful suspicion came to Mr. Lawson that the goat was given to Mr. Stubby as agent of the association and that Stubby was holding out a goat on the public.

He ordered Stubby discharged.

Mr. Stubby flew for protection to Miss Mathewson, who decided that the goat had not come to Stubby in his fiduciary relation, but was given Stubby in fee; that Stubby had two capacities, i.e., public and private; that Stubby, the public officer, had no official knowledge of said goat; that it was Stubby's private goat.

And anyhow, Stubby has a wife who put up a big talk for the job.

So there was another burst of disagreement between Mr. Lawson, the poundkeeper, and Miss Mathewson.

The upshot of it was that Mr. Lawson discharged Stubby as his deputy poundkeeper and took away his star. Miss Mathewson, on the other hand, retained Stubby as an employé of the association which upholds humanity. Stubby now goes about being humane to dogs—but is prohibited from catching them. His pay continues.

Between Stubby and Vacher, the situation became so frightful that it was not to be endured longer.

A week ago today a meeting of the board of directors of the Humane Animal Association was called, and a special committee was appointed to—well, ostensibly to fix the salary of the assistant secretary.

CHARGES FILED.

Miss Mathewson took occasion to file charges against Mr. Lawson. She said that Mr. Lawson was unruly. She said that he didn't go to breakfast until 10 o'clock in the morning, although he came to work before that.

Mr. Lawson was finally given an opportunity to appear before this secret committee and defend himself of these charges. There the full matter of Stubby's goat was thrashed out.

It was intimated that either Miss Mathewson or Mr. Lawson would have to resign to make way for harmony.

Mr. Lawson seems to have had three friends and supporters on the committee; but Miss Mathewson had four friends. Wherefor, a resolution was passed in committee requesting the resignation of Mr. Lawson "in the interests of harmony."

This resolution will be reported today to the board of directors for action. If Lawson is discharged, Mrs. Weldon of San Pedro will be appointed in his place.

Mr. Lawson will not discuss the situation himself, but his friends say that he will refuse to resign. He has engaged an attorney.

The embarrassing thing for Miss Mathewson is that, while she may "resolute" till the cows come home, Lawson holds the only job that gives the association the right to daily with the city's stray dogs.

As poundmaster, he is the only one in the coterie who actually holds a city position, or has a place in the city government.

Up to this time the association has been receiving the dog pound fees which formerly went to the dog catcher. Lawson's friends say that he will now demand to receive these.

Yesterday a lobby called upon the Mayor in regard to the threat to "recall" Mr. Lawson. The Mayor replied with feeling that he is not in favor of recall measures and that Lawson will receive a square deal and have a chance to defend himself and presumably to prove at what time he really does have breakfast.

But the question is—brethren, the question is—did Stubby get that goat as Deputy Poundkeeper Stubby or as Citizen Stubby?

LONG BEACH.

LONG BEACH, Jan. 25.—Arthur MacCum and family, whose home northeast of Bear Valley was destroyed by a cloudburst Thursday night, cannot be found in this city, where they were reported to have planned to visit. This adds to the belief that they lost their lives when their home was swept away.

Mystery of the Earth's Center.

The earth's interior is still a mystery, but physicists no longer regard it as a molten mass still radiating heat into space, a different conception having been gradually forced upon them in the last forty years by studies of the tides, of the propagation of earthquake waves, and quite recently, of the possible heating from radium. Lord Kelvin and others have concluded that the earth is more rigid than steel, but less rigid than glass. There are reasons for assuming that a stony shell may encase a metallic nucleus, and Sir Oliver Lodge has shown that the earth's known average density of 5.6 could be accounted for by supposing that the stony crust, with an average density of 2.5, extends to a depth of 500 miles, and incloses a core of metallic iron, with a density of 7. The Hon. R. J. Strutt finds more radium in the rocks than would suffice to keep up the internal heat if the earth were of rock throughout. He calculates that the crust is forty-five miles thick, and that the radium gives it a bottom temperature of 1500 deg. C., imparting a uniform temperature throughout the metallic nucleum, which does not contain radium.—[Exchange.

WICKER-BOUND RIVER.

strip has been used in forming dykes along the sides of the right of way. These dykes are about six feet in height.

A steam dredge was started on the operations at tide water and above this the excavation was accomplished with scrapers. Willow jetties have been constructed along the edges of the channel. These willows are now growing thriftily. They are over a year old and even at that young period offer a formidable barrier to the water even if it should attempt to escape from the channel. After awhile these willows will almost surely be insurmountable. The stream is wicker bound. The channel is now being cut back from tide water by the scouring effect of the confined stream and all along its course is gradually growing deeper.

FIGURES THAT STARTLE.

Figures on the benefits attributed to this drainage project run into a vast sum. There was about a fourth of the district which was immediately liable to overflow any year. The lands in this fourth, amounting to say 18,000 acres, were before the channel was excavated held at $75 per acre. These same lands are now selling at about $150 per acre. That item alone credits close to $1,000,000 to the project. Many new settlers are now occupying lands and confidently tilling them along near the stream.

In and immediately about Artesia there have been extensive improvements made since the channel was started. Among these are one brick block, $30,000; two brick buildings, $3000; a three-story hotel, $7000; two stores, $5000; a Pacific Electric depot, $6000; houses within a mile of town, at least $50,000. These building improvements have of course been coincident with the coming of the Pacific Electric Railway.
